A Wall of Water.
One Million for Two Fists.
To Impress Other Nations.
Money Helps Science.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Copyright, 1927.

TENS of thousands are homeless in Japan, their homes swept away by the typhoon and tidal wave, and thousands are dead. The disaster, as described by eye witnesses, was literally awful.

First came a heavy rumbling sound from the ocean, in the midst of a dreadful windstorm. Then a wall of water, ten feet high, rolled in from the sea, sweeping houses, cattle and men before it, and washing fishing boats up into the rice fields. Airplanes surveying the disaster report great rice areas covered by the sea.

AT almost the same time, a tidal wave twenty-five feet high, accompanied, perhaps caused by a terrific gale, swept the west coast of Mexico. Telegraph and telephone poles and wires are washed away, and no details have been received of this calamity near home. It is conceivable that a great earthquake, at the bottom of the Pacific may have caused disasters on either side of the ocean.

IT was reported in New York yesterday that one million dollars have already been paid to Tunney as an advance on his fight receipts—the idea being to thwart gentlemen anxious to attach his share of the money for alleged claims.

Tunney enlisted in the Marines "for a chance to fight," never having done any boxing before he went to France. He little thought that boxing for sport, on Uncle Sam's payroll, at $30 a month, would enable him later to make more than a million dollars in a few minutes.

MAYOR WALKER of New York, who contemplates the Venetian canals and says "Henry Ford couldn't make a living in this town," is mistaken. Ingenious minds adapt themselves to circumstances. If all our streets had been water Ford would have built fifteen million power boats instead of fifteen million automobiles.

FORD proves his powers of adaptation by suddenly abandoning an automobile of which he had sold 15,000,000 copies, to create an entirely new car, adding 78 per cent to his River Rouge plant, building new factory extensions costing $22,000,000 to provide production of 12,000 new cars a day.

AN automobile fight is coming, and when the dust settles you will find all those that understand the automobile business selling more cars than they ever sold.

With big wages and prosperity, the two-car man and the four-car family are increasing. Thirty million new cars will take the places of twenty-two million old cars now running in the United States.

DR. MEES, who directs Mr. Eastman's scientific laboratories in Rochester, says science will end war by making it too deadly and too expensive.

Another force greater than science in our civilization is working to end war, and that force is ORGANIZED MONEY. Money has discovered that war kills more dollars than men, that it creates heavy income taxes, and other troubles. Organized money knows that future wars would result, at the very start, in confiscation of capital to meet expenses. Organized money, which usually gets what it wants, doesn't want war, a cheerful fact.

A YOUNG man who had been pronounced dead was brought to life fifteen minutes later by an injection of adrenalin, a life substance secreted by one of the mysterious glands. Doctors hope that many apparently dead may be saved. They even hint at artificial creation of life. They may create that which may be called life, but how will they create THOUGHT? The great Darwin, explaining much by "evolution," was baffled when it came to explaining the development of the eye sight.

THE Spanish government will search for gold and silver thrown into the sea from Spanish galleons attacked by the British in Vigo Bay, 225 years ago.

Spain could find greater treasure, without risk of failure, by harnessing her waterfalls and establishing more public schools for the education of children.

Takes New Deal in Hearts

JULIA LYDIG HOYT

After wandering from the foyers of Park avenue, New York, through the motion picture lots of Hollywood and the divorce courts of Paris, Mrs. Lydig (Julia) Hoyt's feet are on Cupid's highway again. A marriage license was issued in Darien, Conn., yesterday to her and Louis Calhern, the tall young gallant who appeared with her in "Cobra" last season on Broadway. The actress bride-to-be is considered one of the most beautiful women in New York.

FIVE SENTENCED TO ATLANTA

Five Homestead councilmen, convicted along with four other defendants on a charge of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law, were each sentenced to serve a year and a day in the Federal Penitentiary at Atlanta, this morning. Two bootleggers, mixed up in the case, were sentenced to serve 15 months each in the Federal prison. The collector was paroled, and the truckman ill, failed to appear, and will be sentenced later.

Judge R. M. Gibson's court room was crowded with residents of Homestead when the nine defendants, half of the number originally indicted, were called for sentence.

The eight men lined up before the bar were Edward Klein, president of Homestead Council, and his fellow-law administrators, George McLaughlin, Samuel T. Horgan, John H. Richards and James L. Oates; Joe Franks and Samuel Stein, bootleggers, and Emanuel McPherson, Negro, collector. William Boniface, who delivered the liquor, failed to appear.

Attorney John M. Henry immediately filed an appeal to Circuit Court for Horgan and McLaughlin. Bonds of $5,000 were posted for each of the defendants.

Sentence of a year and a day—instead of, for example, one year—permits release from prison before expiration of the full term.

Originally 18 men were indicted, on February 23, 1927, as a result of a reign of lawlessness in the steel town. There were many political angles in the case. Two months after the indictment the men were called for trial, which lasted a week. May 14 the jury brought in a verdict against nine of the defendants. On August 30, Judge Gibson refused a motion and set today for sentence.

Last night in Homestead the five members of council were given a farewell banquet.

There still is another charge pending against Joe Franks, that of conspiracy with others to bribe and intimidate Henry Walick, 17, government witness, who has disappeared.

McGovern Asks Jury Probe

BULLETIN.

In a special report filed with Common Pleas Court today County Controller Charles C. McGovern asked the removal of the three County Commissioners on the grounds that they had been guilty of "defaults and delinquincies."

He followed this with a request before Judge Joseph M. Swearingen that the commissioners' activities be submitted to grand jury investigation.

James Routley, assistant chief clerk to the County Commissioners, today declared he could not produce a missing $6,790 payroll this afternoon as demanded by Controller C. C. McGovern in his public audit of county finances. The payroll is a record of money paid for preparing papers for the returning board at the general election last year.

"I know nothing about it," said Routley today.

McGovern yesterday ordered Routley to submit the payroll by 2 p. m. today. Previously he had threatened to jail Routley if he did not produce payrolls wanted. Yesterday these were forthcoming, with the one exception. McGovern said he would dispose of Routley's case after today's developments.

DISCLAIMS RESPONSIBILITIES

Routley says he believes the missing payroll was a returning board record and if so he could not be held responsible. McGovern contends it was Routley's payroll of men engaged by the commissioners to prepare papers for the returning board.

ABANDON 'ROUND WORLD FLIGHT AT TOKIO

TOKIO, Sept. 15.—Plans of Edward F. Schlee and William S. Brock, of Detroit, to lower the present record of 28½ days for a trip around the world have been abandoned as a result of the fliers' decision, announced early today, not to attempt to fly across the Pacific Ocean from Tokio to San Francisco, with two stops at Midway Island and Honolulu.

Brock and Schlee, who flew 12,175 miles, from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, to this city in 19 days, announced they had decided to heed the urgings of friends and relatives, and the advice of aerial experts all over the world, not to attempt the long transpacific flight, which has been characterized by Japanese and other airmen as "suicidal."

The flight was abandoned because of continued storms over the Pacific and the fact that the expected supply of gasoline had not arrived at Midway Island.

The fliers had nine and one-half days left to cover the remaining 10,000 miles of their course. They will return to the United States by steamer at the earliest opportunity.

Brock and Schlee landed at Kasumiguara Field here yesterday afternoon from Omura, after a trying flight through storms and the edges of the typhoon which wrought great damage in certain sections of Japan.

3 NEW PARALYSIS CASES IN TUSCARAWAS COUNTY

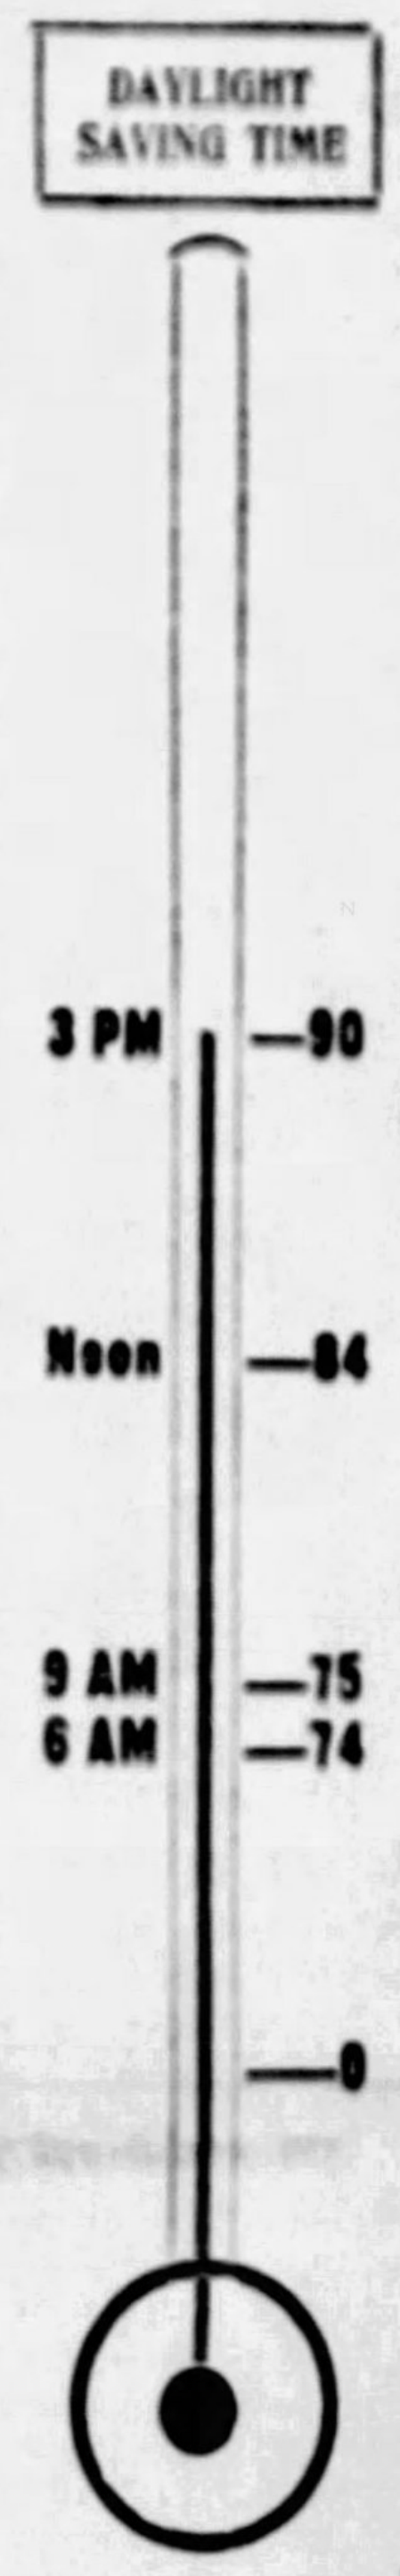
NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—Three more cases of infantile paralysis, making a total of 56 in Tuscarawas county, were reported today.

Robber Is Shot For Threat

"Get your head in there, or we'll pop it off."

Those words greeted L. C. Schmitt, 50, when he leaned out a bedroom window of his home, 2101 Mt. Troy road, Reserve township, early today in answer to the ring of his burglar alarm. In the yard Schmitt saw an automobile with three or more men. He fired a shotgun at the machine. It sped away, leaving a trail of blood as evidence that at least one of the gang had been wounded.

Schmitt, said to be well-to-do, told county detectives this was the second attempt to rob his house in a month.



The mercury began climbing rapidly as the heat wave, which gripped the Middle West since Monday, killing more than a score of persons, arrived here in full force. At 3 p. m. the thermometer registered 90 degrees.

The thermometer will register even more before sunset tonight, according to C. A. Belt, meteorologist in charge of the local weather bureau.

This morning's weather chart showed rain in Buffalo, but it was headed northeast, and there was no indication of relief here before late tomorrow. This district is in the center of the sweltering wave which caused suffering in Chicago, St. Louis and other cities in the Middle West.

The hottest day this year was July 12, when the mercury climbed to 92. There is a possibility of this record being shattered today, Mr. Belt said, and if this occurs it will be a record for this date. The record for September 15 was established in 1897 when the thermometer registered 92.

Last night was the second hottest night of the season in Pittsburgh, records at the local weather bureau show. The minimum temperature was 73 between 5 and 6 o'clock this morning. The record for this year was on July 14, when the mercury hung at 74 during the night. Yesterday's high temperature was 84.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Withering heat which has caused more than a score of deaths in the Middle West entered the fourth day with no hope of relief until tomorrow.

Car Splits Switch; Kills 2

Two men were fatally hurt and a third seriously injured today when the trailer of a Carson street car crushed them against the wall of the Thirtieth street car barn after it had split a switch in making a "Y" in the yards.

The dead are Stanley Stongeski, 17 Caesar way, and John Aheimer, 2711 Cobden street. Stongoski was killed outright and Aheimer died at the South Side Hospital a few hours after the accident.

The injured man is John Conway, 4009 Mifflin street. He suffered internal injuries.

All the victims were company employes. They were sitting on a bench in the yards when the car was run in to make a "Y" to return to town.

JAMESTOWN PASTOR DIES EN ROUTE TO CONFERENCE

By CHARLES J. DOYLE.

Donie Bush and his fast-going Pirates were in a happy frame of mind today as they made ready to take on the Braves in a single contest. When the late returns from St. Louis reached Oakland last night the Bushwhackers rejoiced, for the news told of another 50-50 party between the Giants and Cardinals.

As the Pirates copped two more from the Braves it was not hard to figure that the Buccos were four full games ahead of their two remaining rivals in the flag hunt. Another defeat handed the Cubs by the Dodgers put the Bears out of the running except for the old mathematical stuff.

The Pirates certainly made hay

Isadora Duncan Killed

By International News Service.

PARIS, Sept. 15.—The dancing feet that thrilled two continents, and the exotic temperament which led them into strange and often tragic paths, are stilled today, for Isadora Duncan is dead. She was killed in an automobile accident as unusual in every way as the life she led.

The world-famous dancer lost her life last night when the fringe of her Spanish shawl caught in the mechanism of one of the front wheels of a motor car in which she was riding along the shore at Nice. She was dragged from the car as the scarf wound about the revolving axle. Her neck was broken as her head hit the running board, and her body was dragged for 25 yards before the chauffeur could stop the car.

Miss Duncan was riding in a car she intended to purchase if the demonstration proved satisfactory. Her death was witnessed by Miss Mary Desca, a newspaper writer and friend of the dancer, who had been

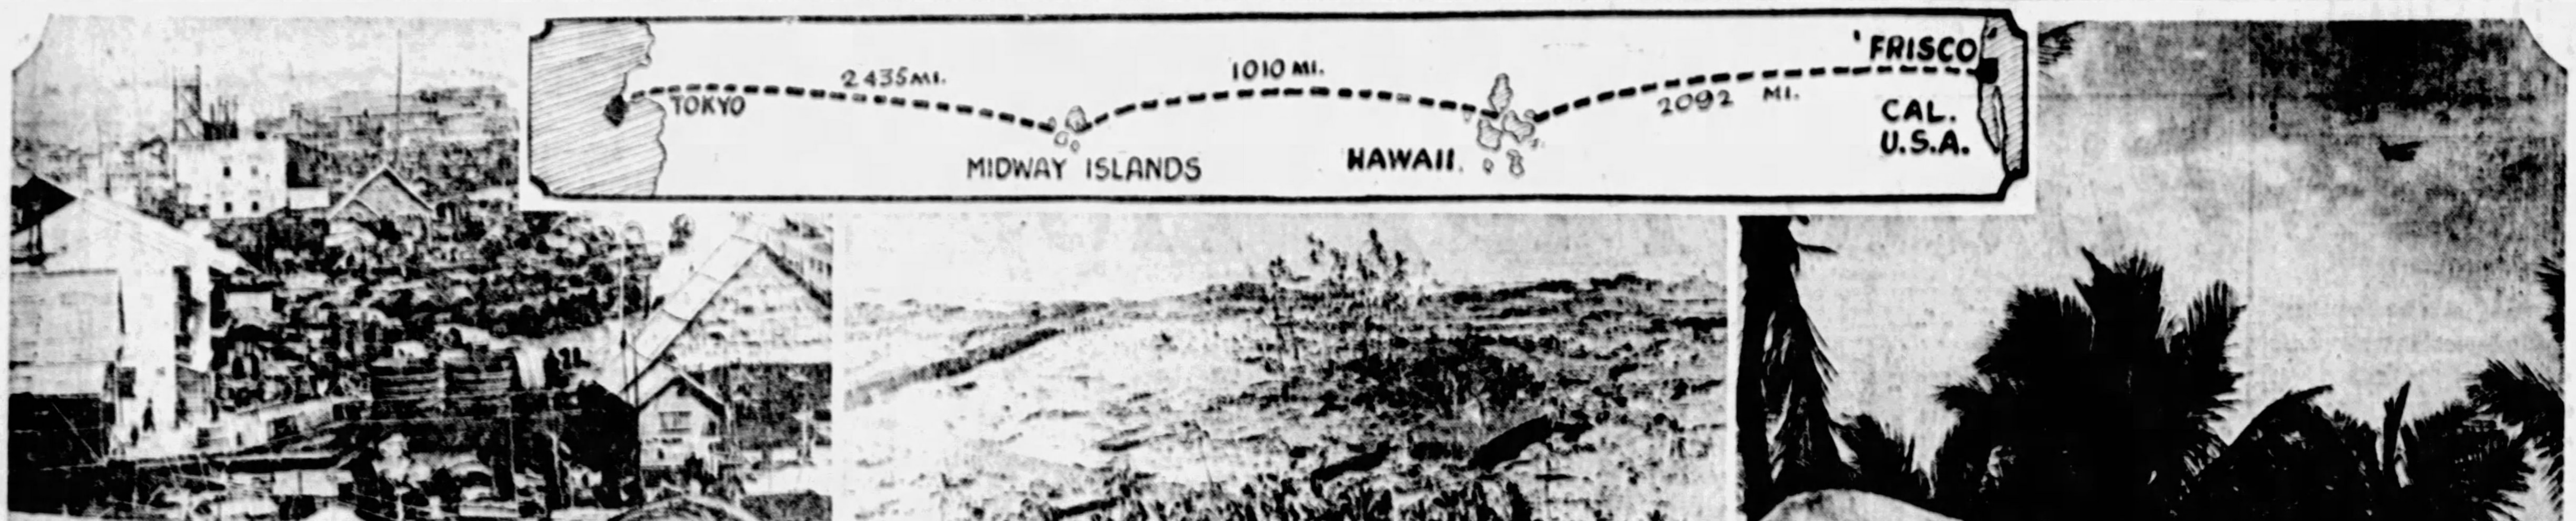
WORLD FLIERS AT TOKIO -:- QUIT "SUICIDE HOP" -:- OVER SEA TO MIDWAY



ABANDONED

"Pride of Detroit," monoplane, abandoned its plan to establish a new 'round-the-world record, at Tokio, Japan. The fliers were ready to hop off on what Japanese aviators say is a "suicide hop," but finally gave up the idea yesterday and will sail home on an early boat.

SHORT 9,000 MILES

From Tokio, the fliers had more than 9,000 to go to Harbor Grace, N. F., the point from which they started. They planned to fly to Midway, to Honolulu, and then to San Francisco. From there, they proposed to fly as rapidly as possible across the country to the original hop-off point in Newfoundland. From Midway, they would have had a flight of 1,400 miles to Hawaii and 2,400 miles more to 'Frisco. Upper left—Tokio waterfront, where they are; upper center—Midway Islands scene; upper right—Honolulu.

FINALY GIVE UP

Presistent attempts of friends and relatives in the states and Japanese aviators to dissuade Brock and Schlee from attempting the Pacific flight because of its dangers, finally succeeded and their decision to quit came yesterday.

SEE 40,000 HIGHER VOTE

About 130,000 Pittsburghers expect to vote at the coming primaries and the November general election, estimates based on the registration figures to date indicate. This number would be about 40,000 more than registered to vote last year.

Last Tuesday, the second registration day in the city, about 26,000 registered. On the first registration day 44,000 names were added to the voting list.

The final registration day, which this year will be on Saturday, will add about 30,000 more names, members of the Board of Registration Commissioners estimate. Spirited local fights, especially for constable and aldermanic offices, account for abnormally heavy registration in several wards.

Weather Conditions.

An area of low pressure, central off the New England coast this morning, has caused light to moderate rains in the New England states. It is raining this morning at Boston and Buffalo. A trough of low pressure extends through Iowa and Kansas southwestward into Arizona. Another low pressure area is central over Saskatchewan, with 29.64 inches at Prince Albert.

Pressure is high over the Ohio and lower Mississippi valleys, and also over Montana, Wyoming and Idaho, where fair weather prevails.

Temperatures are higher in the lake region, and much lower in the North Plains states, the northern Rocky Mountains and the Canadian Northwest. Below freezing temperatures prevail in Alberta, and it is from 14 to 26 degrees colder in North Dakota.

Clear skies and moderately high temperatures continue in the region from the lakes to the Gulf of Mexico.

Armstrong Sidesteps Waiting Constable

County Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong evaded a constable, camping in the court house corridor, to avoid arrest on the charges of falsifying corporate books and making false entries in public records, it was revealed after the commissioner waived preliminary hearing yesterday on the charges and posted bail of $1,000 before Justice of the Peace Thomas E. Mallisee of New Texas, Plum township.

A similar bond was provided for William H. Ziefel, chief clerk in the Commissioners' office, who Mrs. J. O. Miller, president of the League of Women Voters, charges is involved with Commissioner Armstrong in making false records of a Commissioners' meeting.

The word was passed in the Commissioners' office when Constable S. H. Anderson, of Justice Mallisee's office arrive.

Commissioner Armstrong left Controller C. C. McGovern's audit quiz and, with his bondsmen, slipped out of the Courthouse as the constable waited. The bondsmen were E. C. Beinhauer of the South Side and Herman Labowitz of Etna.

In posting the bond for Ziefel, the promise was made that as soon as Ziefel, who is under the care of a physician, is physically able, he will report to Justice Mallisee's office to sign the bond.

Waiving of hearing in the case means that Commissioner Armstrong and Ziefel have elected to see the case go to court rather than fight it in Justice Mallisee's office.

Mrs. Miller in Philadelphia yesterday declared that her charges, which were filed personally, were founded on the famous "one-man" commissioners' meeting Commissioner Armstrong is said to have held several years ago while Commissioner Addison C. Gumbert was sick at Cambridge Springs. The records state Commissioner Gumbert attended the meeting.

M'CANN ORDERED REGISTERED

The name of Representative William F. McCann was ordered placed on the roll of voters in the Ninth District, Second Ward, after a hearing before the registration commission last night. Registrars in that district had refused to register him, saying he did not live at 2212 Penn avenue, but in the East End. Walter and Matthew Shine, both of whom had been refused, also were ordered registered.

Mrs. Katherine Gallagher, who testified that McCann and Shines did not live in the district, drew a laugh when she said, "They think the Strip is not a nice place to live in, but a good place to vote in."

NINE ARRESTED IN DRIVE ON SOUTH SIDE LOITERS

South Side police, acting under orders of Inspector J. J. McArdle, last night began a campaign against corner loiterers. Nine youths were arrested on charges of violating a city ordinance. They were lodged in the South Thirteenth Street Police Station.

ASK "MISS PITTSBURGH" TO JUDGE BEAUTY SHOW

"Miss Pittsburgh 1927," Miss Mary Millnack of Carnegie, has been asked to judge the beauty contest to be conducted at the Jefferson County Exposition at Brookville. The fair is to be held next week, with the contest scheduled for Friday.

COURT GIVES 40 STILLS BACK TO MAN

Several truckloads of stills and much other equipment used in the manufacture of whisky yesterday was ordered returned to Salvatore Raucci, proprietor of a store at 1205-1207 Penn avenue, from whom it was seized last February by prohibition officers. Judge R. M. Gibson in Federal Court ordered the return of the equipment, 40 stills, 270 feet of copper tubing, 68 boxes of cognac flavoring and 118 boxes of other flavoring material.

The order was issued on the ground that the Federal search warrant on which it was seized contained imperfections. Much other equipment seized from Raucci, including whisky guages, rye, corn sugar, charred kegs and bottles, was condemned as forfeited to the government.

PRISON ENGINEER GUILTY IN ATTACK ON GIRL, 9

H. E. Shipley, 41, married, father of two children and assistant engineer at the Western Penitentiary, was found guilty on serious charges by a jury in Criminal Court. He was accused of an attack on a 9-year-old girl. Sentence will be imposed tomorrow.

Two Injured Helping Boy Hit By Auto

An accident to Richard Ray, 5, 7323 Bennett street, shortly before noon today, resulted in injuries to two men who went to his aid. Riding a bicycle in Bennett street at Homewood avenue, Ray was struck by the auto of James C. Trotter, 22, of 5369 Beeler street, as it was backing out of a filling station.

Charles Herman, 28, and M. J. Sullivan, both of 7253 Kelly street, went to the aid of Ray and placed him in Trotter's car. The auto was started suddenly and Herman had his hand bruised when it was caught in the door, while Sullivan was thrown off the running board and bruised about the legs. Trotter posted $1,000 bail for a hearing in Traffic Court.

DANCER KILLED IN AUTO

aiding Miss Duncan in preparing her memoirs.

The death of Isadora Duncan brought to a close a career rich in triumphs and great loves, but marked by bitter tragedies. Hailed as the greatest contemporary exponent of the art of terpsichore, she lived a life as bizarre as it was romantic. Her two children were killed several years ago when an automobile in which they were riding plunged from a bridge into the Seine River. Her only orthodox marriage ended in tragedy when her husband, Serge Essenin, a youthful Russian poet, committed suicide.

Isadora was last seen in Paris during the Sacco-Vanzetti demonstrations, when, attired in a Grecian robe and sandals, she stood on a street corner in Mont Parnasem Inn and urged radicals to follow her in a display of sentiment against the execution of the two men.

A WORLD CELEBRITY

The late King Edward was an admirer of Isadora Duncan. Her slim beauty had won all Russia, and Lenin gave her a beautiful palace. France honored her. She made $2,000,000 in two years. She loved as she willed, and boasted of it. And at 50 she was broke. She suffered a series of disasters as remarkable as had been her victories. Her children, born out of wedlock, had been drowned in an automobile accident in the Seine. She was to know the misery of abject poverty, and she tried suicide.

An ironic fact is that the dancer was killed two days after it had been announced she was to wed Robert Winthrop (Sheriff Bob) Chanler, of New York, and "Who's Loony Now" fame. It was a "joke announcement," the dancer admitted. It was a "joke" because she was so far down and out that any such windfall as becoming the mistress of the Chanler millions was considered ludicrous. Her home at Neuilly had been sold for debts.

France, which had honored her, now merely tolerated her. Russia had closed its doors to her. She had been ignored in the United States.

Isadora Duncan became a world celebrity in 1898 through her dancing in San Francisco. Those were the days of corsets, and women's knees were secrets revealed only in her boudoir. And Isadora Duncan danced in "Greek draperies so diaphanous her figure could be seen without shoes, stockings or tights.

WILDLY ACCLAIMED

Later she toured the United States, wildly acclaimed everywhere as the goddess of interpretive dancing. She founded a school of dancers, in which young girls danced as unclothed as she.

It was in 1913 that her two children, Deirdre, 5, and Patrick, 3, were riding in a closed motor in Paris with their governess. The automobile overturned into the Seine. Miss Duncan admitted the children had been born out of wedlock and she had never revealed the identity of their father.

She did not believe in the institution of marriage, but in 1923 married Serge Essenin, poet laureate of Russia, to enable her to return with him to the United States. After a brief and turbulent existence together he hanged himself in Moscow.

Isadora Duncan was a San Franciscan.

James C. Duncan was her father—James C. Duncan, a bank president! He was head of the old Pioneer Bank, whose failure was one of the most spectacular crashes in San Francisco's financial history. Thousands of persons lost all they owned, and Duncan, after an effort to escape from the city, was caught, convicted of fraudulent operations and sent to prison for a long term.

A few years after his release, when he obtained a position with a stock brokerage firm here, he died.

Duncan was a lover of the classical—the ancient Greek. When other children were playing in the streets, Isadora would sit at his knees and hear from his lips the stories of ancient Greeks. In her home the child would study for hours the Greek statuary that her father had brought back from Europe.

Mayor Does Dance For Indian Guests

By ALMA SIOUX SCARBERRY.

Mayor Kline's office looked like circus day in the Happy Hunting Grounds this morning at 11 o'clock when His Honor played host to a score of American Indians. Ceremoniously they bestowed upon the White Father the name of Chief Iron Breast.

They were there in all their glory—feathers, war paint and all. Even to the drums upon which they beat applause when the Mayor welcomed them and gave each and every one a key to the city.

Even little Johnny Bull, 5-year-old dancer, who claims the honor of being the youngest master of the terpsichorean art among the Red Skins, was there and the key was almost as big as little Johnny.

Princess Dawn Mist, beautiful and with the grace of a young deer, represented the women of her tribe. She is from Glazier National Park and is a graduate of Carlisle University.

Judge Star of the Blackfoot tribe, who at home is Chief Bull Calf, looked at the Mayor and His Honor looked at him and suddenly they shook hands and fell upon one another's shoulders.

"Why, Chief, how are you?"

"Why, Mayor Kline, howdy."

For the Mayor and the chief met at Glazier Park in 1917 and Judge Star taught His Honor how to do an Indian dance. To prove it the pilot of the city ship showed the Indians that he still remembered. It was a cross between the blackbottom and the Charleston.

Chief Bull Calf made a speech in Indian, which was later interpreted by Chief Little Dog, a huge Canadian from the Western National Park reservation in Alberta. The Chief informed the Mayor that Judge Star had said:

"We are Blackfoot Indians from Montana here today to meet His Honor, Mayor Kline of Pittsburgh. Because he has shaken hands with us and made up so welcome we give to him the name Iron Breast. We name him Iron Breast because the great city here is filled with iron. Her breast bulges with iron and ore that has made it rich and famous.

"Iron Breast was one of our leading chiefs of the past and we are happy and proud to name this great chief the name of our beloved forefather. We hope the Great Spirit in the future may have all good luck and long life for our Chief Iron Breast, mayor of Pittsburgh."

The Indians are en route to Baltimore to the Baltimore and Ohio centenary exhibition. Among them is the famous Chief Two Gun White Calf, selected by President Taft to pose for the Buffalo nickel. He still has the $10 in nickels that the ex-president gave him, the first ones the mint turned out.

The last seen of His Honor, he was sitting on the floor telling the Indians that Pittsburgh was about the greatest spot on earth. And they grinned as though they believed it might be, at that.

"CAN'T PRODUCE LOST PAYROLL"

on elections have been summoned to appear before McGovern today.

The Controller did not call Routley or the subpenaed witnesses as the audit session resumed.

At its opening at 2 p. m. McGovern revealed that he had compiled a special report which he intended to file in Common Pleas Court. The report hits at some of the contracts awarded by the commissioners and allows the inference that, under a statute which he cited, they are guilty of misdemeanors. In charging that the costs of certain contracts exceeded the original estimate the Controller cited two street improvements, Eighth avenue in Homestead, which cost $128,750.50, and Narrows Run road at a cost of $110,924.

"Under statute," McGocern's report said in essence, "all contracts over $300 shall be awarded to the lowest and best bidder. Violations of this statute open the way for fines of $100.

Much pep was injected into yesterday's session by a suddenly awakened public interest in the public quiz of the County Commissioners' method of disbursing the public's money. An overflow crowd jammed the Controller's office in spite of the intense heat and took a lively interest in conflicting testimony offered by Commissioner E. V. Babcock, William G. Kerr of the Freehold Real Estate Company and Miss Annabelle Miller of Snowden township, anent the sale of property for the new county parks. W. L. Evans, 1130 Dormer street, McKees Rocks, said he could not remember clearly certain details of the deal and had entirely forgotten others in connection with the building of a fence on the property of Frank Forrest in Ingram.

William H. Ziefel, chief clerk in the County Commissioners' office, was called to appear, but was reported ill. McGovern demanded a doctor's certificate and was told that Dr. C. B. Schildecker, city physician, would not issue the certificate, but would appear in person and certify to Ziefel's inability to be present.

CITY HIT BY RECORD HEAT

Rocky Mountains and from the Gulf of Mexico far north into Canada. Weather forcasters could assign no reason for the unseasonable hot spell.

It was the hottest September weather on record.

Throughout the Central States drastic measures were taken to combat the heat. In many sections schools were closed and public bathing places, which usually close after Labor Day, remained open.

SCHOOLS CLOSED

All Chicago schools were dismissed. Children in portable school houses were dismissed yesterday noon when the sheet iron buildings were raised to the temperature of baking ovens by the intense sun.

Deaths from sun-stroke and heat exhaustion since the hot spell began Monday were placed at 18 in Chicago, which seemed to have been hardest hit. Four persons died in St. Louis from the heat, and a few deaths directly or indirectly due to the high temperature were reported elsewhere.

At Manitowoc, Wis., in the center of the summer resort belt, the thermometer registered 94 yesterday. Goshen, Ind., reported a temperature of 102.

Heat prostrations were innumerable everywhere. Casualties in Indianapolis included three traffic policemen who fell exhausted at their posts in the hot sun.

25 DEAD IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Chicago's record September heat wave, with its mounting toll of deaths and prostrations, still held the city in its feverish grip today.

Relief may come tomorrow, but it will be gradual, according to Prof. Henry J. Fox, government meterologist. Maximum temperature today is expected to equal that of yesterday and the day before, he said.

Twenty-five deaths have been reported here as a result of the heat during the past three days. Fifteen died yesterday. Hospitals are filled with prostration victims.

The mercury touched 95 here yesterday and Tuesday, marking the hottest Setember 13 and 14 in the history of the Chicago Weather Bureau.

The blanket of heat is moving eastward, according to Prof. Fox, and should reach the Atlantic seaboard by the end of the week.

Because of the intense heat, 612 Chicago schools were ordered closed until the wave subsides. More than 25,000 students, released from study, are spending their "holidays" at the beach.

But while the metropolitan populace suffers, farmers over the corn belt are singing the praises of the heat wave. The State Agriculture Department at Springfield estimated that each day of heat is adding 3,000,000 bushels to the Illinois corn crop.

HUSBAND ASKS DIVORCE, CLAIMING WIFE LEFT HIM

Alleging desertion, James C. Lucas, 5700 Margaretta street, filed suit in divorce against his wife, Elizabeth E. Lucas, 375 Third street, Pitcairn. The couple was married in October, 1923, and separated May 29, 1924. Attorney John F. Gloeckner represents the husband.

'WET' HOMESTEAD SOLONS SENT TO ATLANTA

BOOTLEGGERS FOR COMPANY

Deputy United States marshals taking to jail three of the five Homestead Borough councilmen and two bootleggers, after the prisoners had been sentenced by Federal Judge R. M. Gibson to serve terms in the Federal Penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., for conspiring to violate the prohibition law. Left to right are Joe Franks, Councilman John H. Richards, Deputy Marshal D. A. Goldman, Samuel Stein, Deputy Marshal John G. Lowers and Edward Klein, president of the council. The man in the rear who tried to keep out of the picture is Councilman James L. Oates. Two other convicted councilmen, George McLaughlin and Samuel T. Horgan, were released under $5,000 bond each pending appeals to the United States Circuit Court.

HELD IN INSURANCE PLOT TO PASS FOR DYING MAN

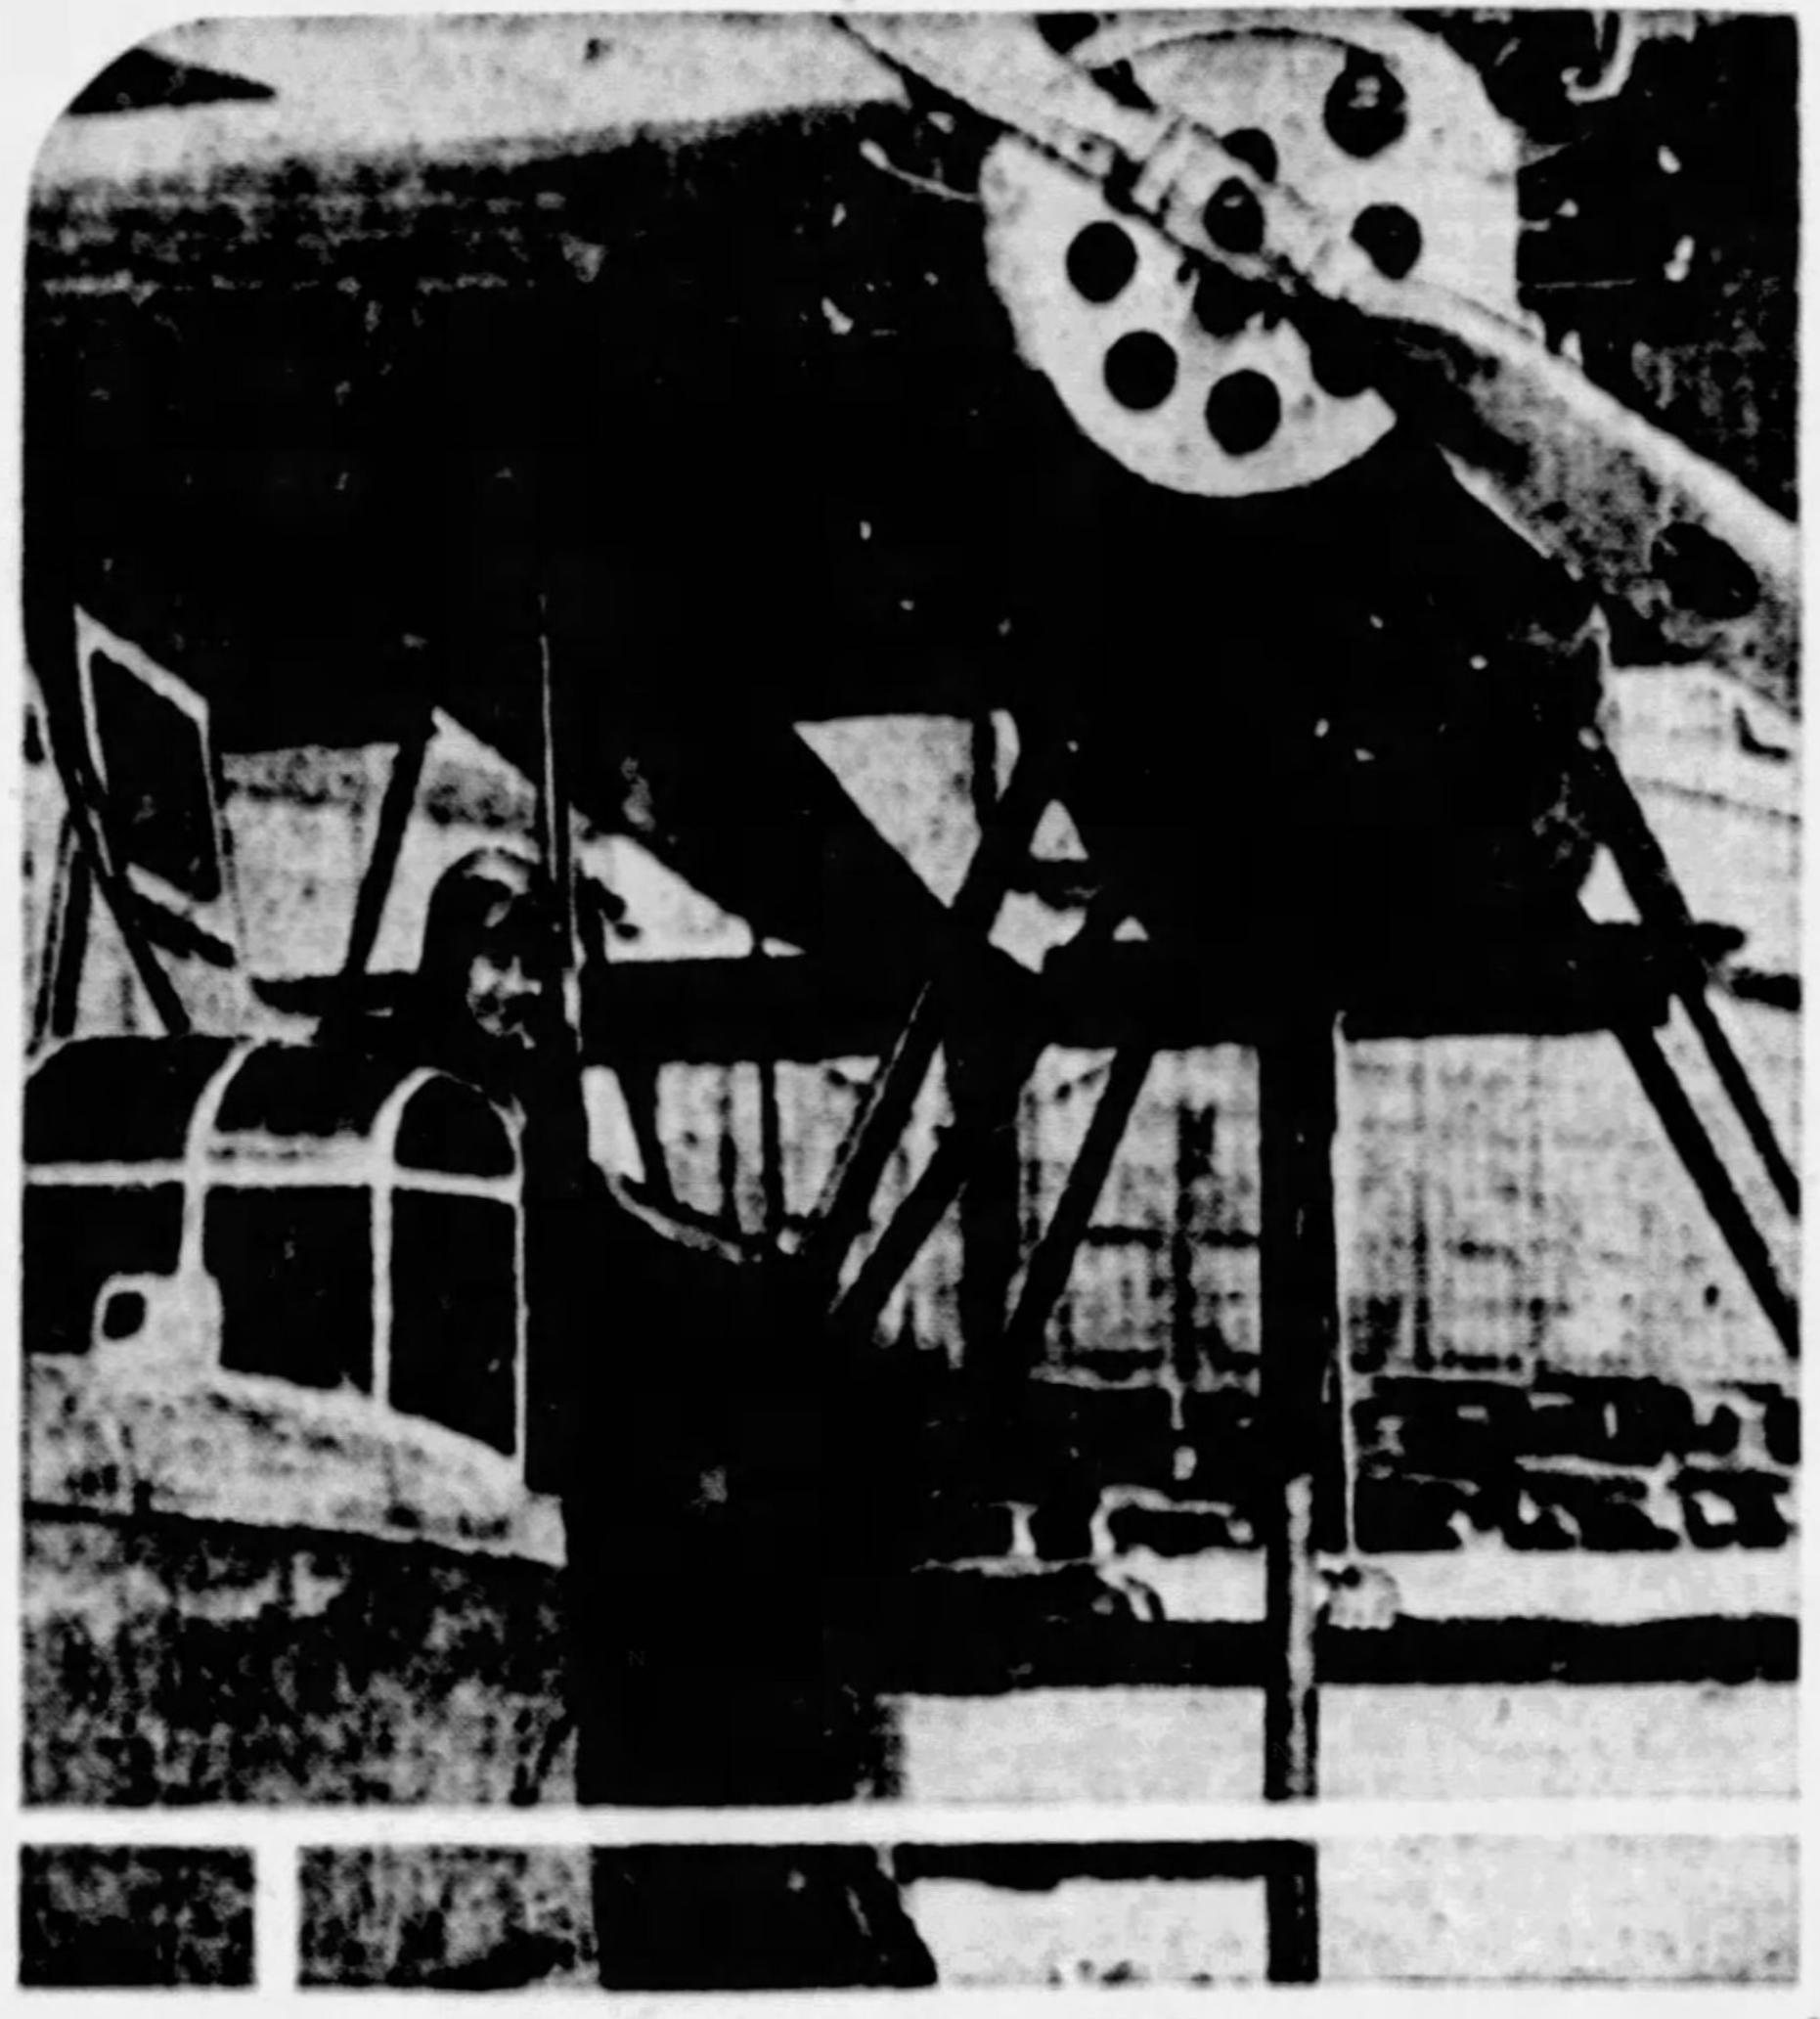
Plans Safe And Sane Flight

VOTE BRAWL PARTICIPANTS GET SENTENCE POSTPONED

PITTSBURGH SCHEMER SEIZED

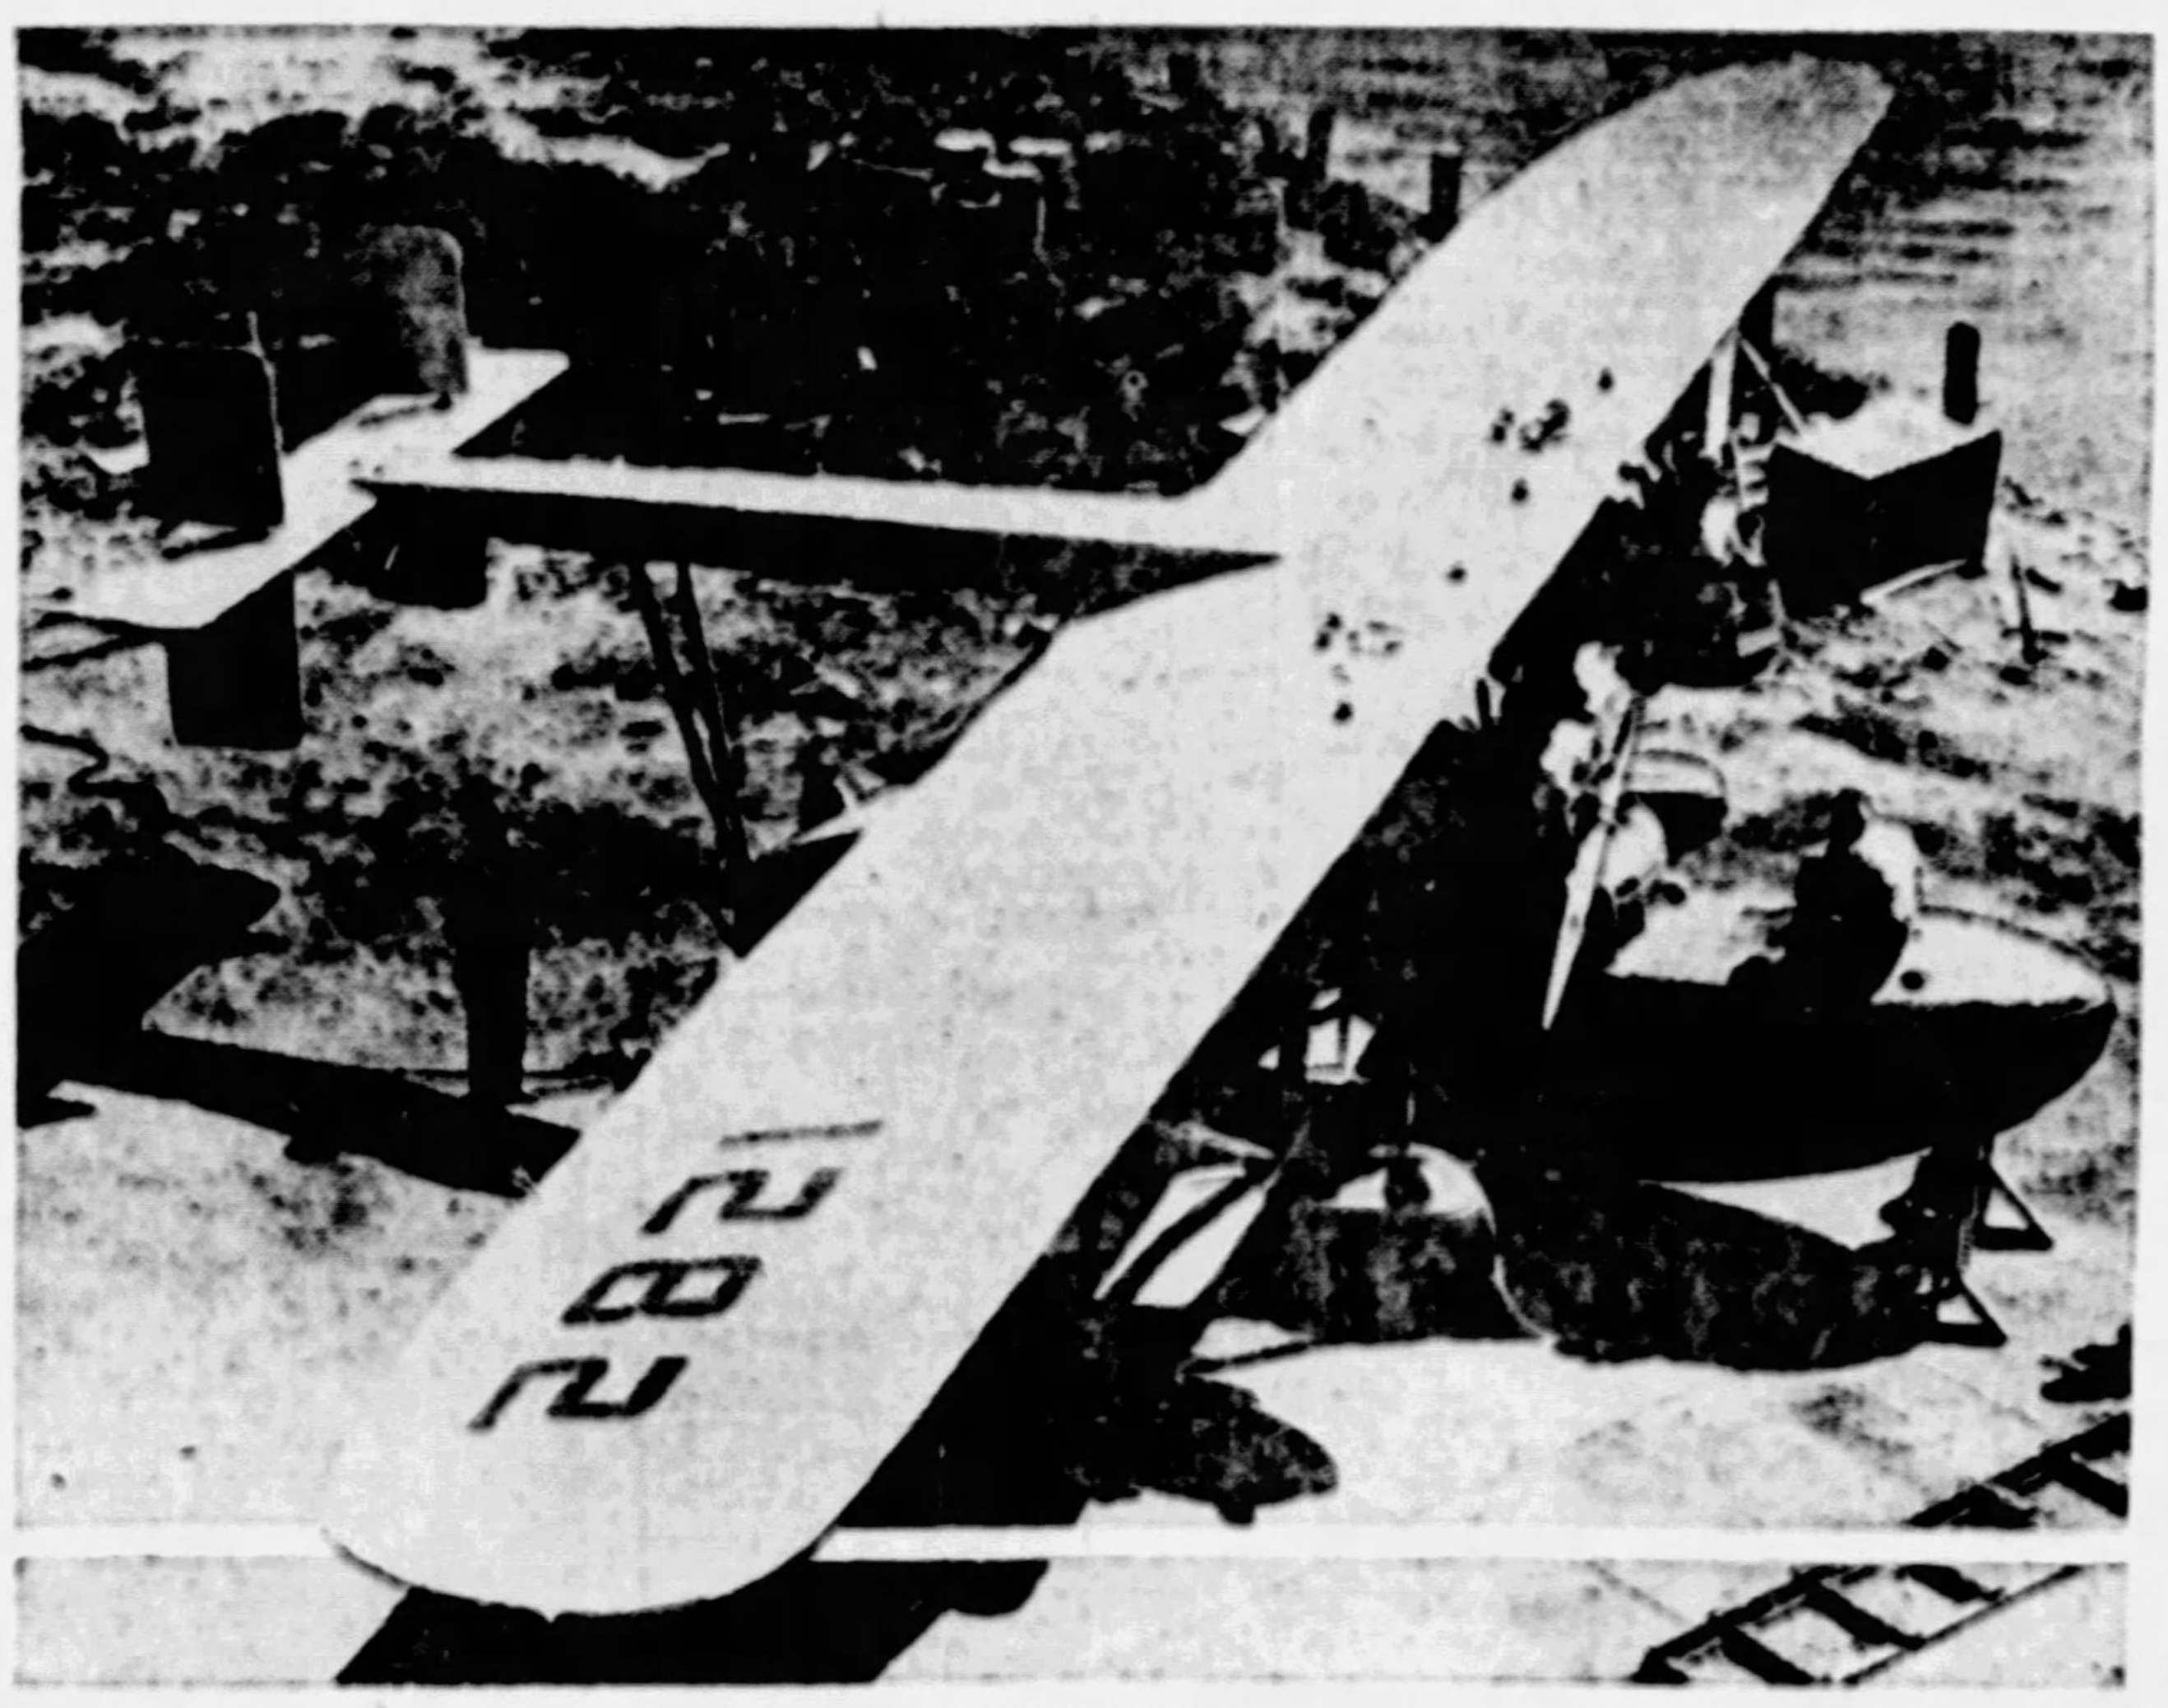
A scheme to defraud insurance companies by having an able-bodied man take the necessary physical examinations for a dying man, was revealed here today with the arrest in New York of Fred S. Sahada, of Pittsburgh. He will be brought back here to face a false pretense indictment on charges preferred by representatives of the John Hancock Life Insurance Company.

Sahada, it is alleged, represented himself to be George Sahada, of Dormont, when applying for a $5,000 insurance policy. The real George Sahada, representatives of the insurance company say, was a cousin of the man under arrest, and at the time application was made for the policy, was in ill health and died sometime later. Fred Sahada, the insurance company representatives say, took the examination and made other misrepresentations in connection with the case and then attempted to collect the face of the policy following his cousin's death.



TO HOP ATLANTIC

Miss Frances W Grayson, Long Island real estate broker and student aviatrix, will attempt a "safe and sane" non-stop flight over the Atlantic Ocean, from New York to Paris, in the near future.



AMPHIBIAN

The ship is an amphibian, Sikorsky twin-motored, and will carry Miss Grayson along with a pilot and navigator on the projected hop in the future. She will attempt the difficult flight only with experienced pilots accompanying her. The huge ship has been especially built for the hop.

ALL SAFETY FACTORS

The plane, with all appliances required by the navy for overseas flights, is financed by Miss Grayson, (above), and Miss Aage Aucker, South Carolina sportswoman.

PAYS $25 FOR TWO HAMS

Four hours after he is alleged to have stolen a ham from a Fifth avenue food store, James O'Dowd, 27, of 206 Marlow street, went back for more ham. He got it. There was a short chase and O'Dowd and two hams were turned over to the police.

Before Magistrate George H. England this morning O'Dowd said he had been drinking and did not relish ham. A fine of $25 was imposed.

GRIM 'FRUIT' ON MEXICAN TREES

NOGALES, Ariz., Sept. 15.—(AP.)—Bodies of 24 bandits reported hanging singly and in groups from limbs of trees and from telegraph poles along the Southern Pacific of Mexico Railway in Nayarit today stressed the Mexican government's warning that "outlawry doesn't pay."

Dispatches from Guaymas, Sonora, said travelers and trainmen arriving there told of having seen the gruesome evidence of the government's campaign against the bandits. The bodies were hung along the right of way between the stations of Compostela and Ahuacatlan in Southern Nayarit, in the heart of the region where bandits have attacked railway trains with some loss of life.

SAYS JAIL BEST CURE FOR NARCOTIC ADDICTS

Jail is the best cure for narcotic addicts, Harry Reese, 22, of Bingham street, told Judge James H. Macfarlane in Criminal Court today after he had been sentenced to six months imprisonment for the theft of prescription blanks and the forgery of physicians' names to narcotic prescriptions. Reese pleaded guilty.

Pet Bites Wife and Child

A mother and daughter were severely bitten by a fox terrier, new pet in the home of Traffic Officer George C. Heiser, 1051 East Ohio, street, last night. Mrs. Hilda Heiser, 25, was able to care for her home today, but the daughter, Dorothy, 6, is in Allegheny General Hospital, with part of her lower lip torn away.

Heiser took the dog to his home when he returned from work yesterday morning. He tied it to a leg of the kitchen stove. Soon the animal became friendly, and Mrs. Heiser released it. Last evening she heard her daughter scream, and when she ran to help her the dog bit her on the left leg. She threw the animal out a window.

Heiser, notified of the accident, got leave of absence from work and with neighbors searched the neighborhood all night for the dog.

George Galetich, 11, of 1146 East Ohio street, was bitten on the left wrist by a neighbor's dog which he found under his bed last evening. His wound was dressed by Dr. C. F. Boucek, 622 Chestnut street.

BUS BANDITS' TRAIL FOUND

By International News Service.

AKRON, O., Sept. 15.—Authorities of Northern Ohio today were searching for three youthful bandits who late Wednesday held up an Akron-Cleveland bus near here and robbed Leonard Heine, New York jewelry salesman, a passenger, of approximately $50,000 worth of rings and other articles.

An abandoned case, containing 20 cheaper rings, was found by Summit county deputy sheriffs near Johnsons Corners, 15 miles from the scene of the robbery.

Two of the gunmen entered the bus at Akron as passengers, while the third followed in an automobile, in which the trio made their getaway after taking the jewels. Their trail was lost several miles south of Akron. None of the other bus passengers was molested.

DOGS BITE THREE

DOROTHY HEISER

Dorothy Heiser, 6, whose lip was partially torn off when a new fox terrier pet, brought home by Patrolman George C. Heiser, her father, to 1051 East Ohio street, attacked her and her mother, Mrs. Hilda Heiser, 25.

GEORGE GALETICH

George Galetich, 11, 1146 East Ohio street, within one square of the Heiser home, was bitten by a neighbor's dog which he found under his bed and attempted to coax from its hiding place. He was bitten on the left wrist.

PERMIT GRANTED FOR KOPPERS BUILDING

A building permit for a $2,000,000 31-story building at Grant street, Seventh avenue and William Penn place, was issued by the zoning board of adjustment today. The building will be financed by the Koppers Company, which plans to occupy all floors above the fifteenth.

The building will face Seventh avenue and will rise 29 stories from the street. At that point there will be a setback of 20 feet to a tower seven stories high. Another setback of 16 feet will be carried to another tower of two stories, with provisions for another setback of eight feet to two additional floors.

The plan calls for a swimming pool and recreational rooms for Koppers' Company employes on the two top floors.

WOMAN IS FREED OF MATE

Her husband, Henry W. Custer, having deserted her and her 10 children in 1923, Mrs. Emma L. Custer, who operates a public garage in Potomac avenue, Dormont, went into Common Pleas Court today and upon her request was declared to be a femme sole trader.

Mrs. Custer requested Judge Joseph M. Swearingen, through her counsel, Lewis M. Alpern, to give her the right to buy, sell, mortgage and otherwise conduct business without the handicap of a husband. Testimony showed that the woman has been making her own way in the world, with the assistance of her children, since her husband left her.

2 BURNED IN FIRE AND EXPLOSION

Two persons were burned in a fire and explosion today in the basement of the hotel and residence of Martin Slanina, 183 Cass avenue. Mary Slania, 29, daughter of the proprietor, was burned on the feet and ankles. As she was canning tomatoes, vapor from a bottle of gasoline communicated to the fire under a preserving kettle and caused the blast.

Fred Slanina, 30, her brother, was burned on the hands in extinguishing fire in the cellar after his sister had managed to beat out her burning clothing.

WOODSIDE ELECTION URGED BY MEYER

The nomination of Robert G. Woodside, organization candidate for Controller, and of the organization's slate of judicial candidates, was urged by United States District Attorney John D. Meyer in a radio address today. H. Fred Mercer presided at the noon meeting in the Hotel Henry headquarters. The speakers were W. Heber Dithrich, candidate for judge, and Register of Wills Joseph N. Mackrell, seeking re-election.

LIQUOR FOR SICK WIFE, ARRESTED MAN DECLARES

Arrested in Munhall street with two jugs containing three gallons of alleged moonshine, Paul Kellerman, 40, of 17 Rutherglen street, told police he was taking the stuff to his wife in a hospital. He was charged with transporting liquor and carrying concealed weapons, a revolver being found on his person, police said.

Armstrong Held Fake Meeting---Mrs. Miller

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—(AP.)—An alleged fictitious meeting of the Allegheny County Commissioners, attended only by County Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong, was given today by Mrs. John O. Miller, president of the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters, as the basis for her allegations of irregularities in the commissioners' office.

Mrs. Miller arrived here yesterday after having warrants issued in Pittsburgh for the arrest of Armstrong and William H. Ziefel, chief clerk of the commissioners' office, on charges of falsifying corporate books and making false entries in public records.

The alleged fictitious meeting, Mrs. Miller said, was held in the county commissioners' office March 28, 1925.

"The name of Addison C. Gumbert," she added, "appears on the minutes along with the name of Armstrong, in spite of the fact that on that date Gumbert was sick in a hotel at Cambridge Springs, Pa. A few days later Gumbert's family had him removed to Pittsburgh and placed in a hospital where he died. The charge against Ziefel is merely a matter of form, since as chief clerk of the commissioners' office, it is his duty to transcribe minutes of all meetings.

"Appropriations in excess of $250,000 were made at this meeting in addition to the letting of many important contracts and the creation of numerous new positions in the Department of Public Works. It is my belief that only Joseph Armstrong attended the meeting."

Congress Session Off Indefinitely --Rogers Hopes

BURBANK, Cal., Sept. 15.—Been talk of calling an extra session of Congress to care for the government's business. What's the use of doing that? Ain't Borah and Coolidge already there? Coolidge won't call any extra session. If he had his way he would postpone the regular opening indefinitely, and we'd all be better off.

FAMOUS DANCER KILLED

ISADORA DUNCAN

Isadora Duncan, world-famed interpretive dancer, met death as tragic and dramatic as the life she has led when her Spanish shawl, rippling from a motor car in which she was riding at Nice, France, caught on a wheel hub, wrapped rapidly around it, and dragged her from her seat and along the roadway. Her young husband, Sergei Essenin, poverty-stricken poet, committed suicide by hanging when she divorced him in Russia, his native land.

Vote Raider Blamed In G. O. P. Brawl

It is decidedly impractical, if not downright unhealthy, to hand out political literature in the camp of opposing candidates.

This was the decision of Magistrate George H. England today after he reviewed the numerous alleged punches in the jaw which John A. Murphy, 2728 Connecticut avenue, Dormont, independent Republican candidate for recorder of deeds; his son, Franklin, 21; James Lenigan, 21, 2023 Plainview avenue, Dormont, a henchman, and Patrolman Joseph "Bozo" Lavery paraded into Central Police Court in the wake of an altercation in the regular Republican headquarters, Henry Hotel, yesterday.

Formal verdict in the case was reserved until Friday morning, September 23—after the primaries.

Intermingled with the story of flying fists today was testimony to the effect that the Murphys and Lenigan had invaded the Republican stronghold and were blithly passing out Murphy's cards to those coming up for the regular noon luncheon. Lavery ordered them out, Murphy said, following which villification and "rights to the head and face" were showered upon him.

CABLE PRODUCTS MERGER NEARS

The projected merger of the Standard Underground Cable Company of Pittsburgh with other leading cable manufacturers and producers of subway materials, has reached the eve of actual consumption, according to well-authenticated reports in business circles today.

Following a meeting of officials here yesterday, at which consideration is said to have been given to the finishing touches of the plan, few details remain to be completed. Approval of the merger by the Federal Trade Commission is declared to be one of the closing formalities. At the office of the Standard Underground Cable Company it was stated that "something might be said later regarding the matter," but no statement was forthcoming today.

Among the corporations said to be included in the merger besides the Standard Underground Cable Company of Pittsburgh, are the Standard Underground Cable Company of Canada, John A. Roebling's Sons Company of Trenton, N. J., Safety Cable Company, Phillips Wire Company, Habirshaw Wire and Cable Corporation and one of the plants of the American Smelting and Refining Company. The combination would have virtual control of the manufacturing of subway materials, it is believed.

TWO BOYS HELD IN THEFTS

Captured after a chase of several blocks in which the arresting officer was compelled to fire a shot, Denny McAuliffe, 17, 5121 Jordan way, and George Kattish, 17, 4837 Butler street, were held by Magistrate E. M. Hough in Morals Court today so that city detectives can investigate their connections with the possible theft of automobile accessories in the produce district of Penn avenue.

The boys were arrested by Patrolman P. J. Fahey who testified he had witnessed them acting suspiciously about automobiles in the vicinity of Twenty-sixth street and Penn avenue.

ORDERS BALLOT BOXES IN 16TH WARD SEIZED

Judge John A. Evans today signed an order directing that ballot boxes used in the primary election in the Sixteenth Ward be turned over to the sheriff. The petition was presented by Francis B. Kirley, of the Department of Weights and Measures. An aldermanic contest made such a step advisable.

BAKERS HEAR EVANGELIST SPEAK

"City Wide Prayer Night" was well attended at Memorial Hall last night, where Uldine Utley, evangelist, held a special prayer service for Christians. There were no converts.

Uldine spoke on "Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, today and forever." Yesterday at noon the child preacher spoke before the employes of the Ward Baking Company at the factory and later before the laborers in the company's garage. She plans visits to various Pittsburgh factories and places of business.

Tonight will be "Preachers' Night" and tomorrow night "Young People's Night."

STATE ELEVENTH IN SEAL SALE

Pennsylvania ranks eleventh in the sale of Christmas seals, with statewide interest increasing, according to Arthur J. Strawson, of the National Tuberculosis Association. Mr. Strawson spoke yesterday at a sectional conference of tuberculosis workers for Southwestern Pennsylvania at the Fort Pitt Hotel.

Dr. C. Howard Marcy, medical director of the Tuberculosis League of Pittsburgh, reviewed the progress of the fight against tuberculosis at the luncheon. Among delegates were:

Miss Alice E. Stewart, Miss Florence Leitch and George R. Jackson of Pittsburgh; Miss Anna I. Gilliland and Miss Della A. Glenn, Lawrence county; Miss Edith Flynn and Miss Margaret A. Wilbur, Fayette county; Miss Elma C. Graham, Beaver county; Miss Nell E. Elder and Mrs. Mildred Jury, Dubois; Miss Elizabeth Ostrander and Mrs. Vernon, Donora; Miss Emma S. Lake, Westmoreland county; Mrs. Jessie L. Wherry and Mrs. John Wherry, Washington county; Miss Anna Hensick and Mrs. Robert Neal, Blairsville; Mrs. Betty Joseph and Mrs. Paul McKenrich, Armstrong county, and Mrs. Arabella Devore, Monongahela.

BROOKFIELD MEMORIAL TO WHEELER PROPOSED

SHARON, Pa., Sept. 15.—A memorial to Wayne B. Wheeler at Brookfield, his boyhood home, is proposed by J. H. Van Slyke, farmer near Brookfield and schoolmate of the late anti-saloon league champion. He has begun to receive subscriptions from friends of Wheeler in this district and expects the idea to receive indorsement generally. He would leave the character of the memorial to a committee.

Robs to Finance New Burglar Proof Lock

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—(AP.)—John Burton as a burglar learned a lot about locks, he explained in court when arraigned on a charge of breaking into a house.

As he approached 65 he decided to retire and invented the Burton burglar proof lock, which even he could not pick. To raise funds to patent it he decided to pull just one more job and this is the one that proved his undoing because he was caught, he told Judge Emanuel Eller.

He said he is willing to plead guilty to the charge, but asked a continuance until November 7 to attend to patenting the lock, which he figures will bring in enough royalties to brighten his life in prison by providing tobacco, magazines and other simple needs.

DIVORCED, FANNY BRICE PLANS ALIENATION SUI

Nicky Escapes Alimony 'Girl Friend' May Pay

By FRED VAN DEVENDER.
Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Fanny Brice got her divorce. She was the wife of Jules Nicky Arnstein, gambler, confidence man de luxe.

No alimony was asked. Fanny thinks she can get along without Nicky's support and Nicky is too much of a gentleman to ask for it.

Fanny gets the custody of their two children.

It all was very simple. Fanny filed her suit Monday. She appeared in Judge Otto Kerner's court today and told her side of the story.

Nicky was not present. He has departed for the Pacific coast, it is rumored, preferring not to embarrass his wife by combatting her suit for freedom.

"He has an inferiority complex," Fanny told the justice. "And he is no longer 'my man' but 'their man.'"

That meant, of course, that other women were claiming him and that he was no longer hers exclusively, which Fanny does demand. And unfaithfulness is grounds for divorce in the commonwealth of Illinois.

Otto Baer, attorney for Nicky, explained that his client still loves Fanny, loves her too much to oppose her petition.

"He will return to Chicago as soon as all this affair is settled," Baer explained.

That may be truer than it sounds. It is possible that Nicky may be part and parcel of a $250,000 alienation of affection suit which Fanny has hinted she may file against some New York matron of fashionable society.

CAUGHT!

Fanny was asked about the time she found Nicky and another woman in a hotel.

"When we arrived," she said, "I found him in a room with another woman. She was in a combination . . ."

"You mean a step-in," prompted her attorney.

"And there were bottles all around," she continued. "Neither of us said a word."

She said she had had nothing to do with Nicky getting into that predicament, when questioned by Judge Kerner. He evidently was of the opinion that there might have been collusion.

After it was all over, Fanny laughed. Maybe it was easier than she thought it would be.

Fanny's going to sing some more and laugh some more, and maybe think about Nicky some more. For she says they still are friends.

WOMAN SLAYER INSANE, ESCAPES DEATH CHAIR

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Mrs. Catherine Barrett who killed her neighbor, Mrs. Mary T. Moore, in the elevator of the apartment house where they lived, was adjudged insane and committed to an asylum. Physicians who examined the woman stated that she was not only insane at the time of the shooting last July, but is still insane. She did not appear in court.

CROWDS ATTEND EVANGELICAL SERVICES

A crowd so great that the tent would not hold it attended last night's evangelistic campaign near the band stand, West Park, North Side. Many sat on benches in the park listening to the services when the flaps were lifted at the sides of the tent.

Men and women from all sections of the city and surrounding country are among the crowds that are lending their support to the revival. The Rev. Charles S. Poling took his text from the betrayer Judas.

He said:

"Judas could have been saved if he had tried to be. God has never predestined any man to a life of sin or crime. When a soul repents, God forgives. Had Judas gone out into the night as Peter did, and prayed with all his heart, he could have been saved.

"If God could save Peter and Saul of Tarsus, he could save any human being living today, no matter how steeped in sin they may be. God will not let a single soul go without an effort to save it."

The musical program consisted of solos by the Rev. Alvin L. Carter and congregational singing. Last night the Rev. George W. Shelton spoke on "A Man With Four Friends."

CARRICK CLUBS PICNIC TONIGHT

Sponsored by civic and fraternal clubs, a corn roast will be held in Carrick Park tonight for the benefit of the soldiers' memorial fund. Organizations taking part include the Twenty-ninth Ward Republican Men and Women's Clubs, the Mothers' Club of Carrick, the Carrick Eagles, the Southern Club, the Carrick Literary and Social Club and the Carrick Cotillion Club.

The clubs propose to erect a memorial to the memory of the men who went to war from the Carrick district. A meeting, for discussion of the memorial, will be held in the headquarters of the Carrick Mothers' Club on September 22.

ROYAL ARCANUM SESSION TO CLOSE HERE TONIGHT

The twenty-third biennial session of the Grand Order of Pennsylvania, Royal Arcanum, will close tonight with a session in the William Penn Hotel. Judge J. J. Miller of Orphans Court addressed the opening session yesterday, which was attended by 200 delegates. H. M. Irons represented the Mayor in an address of welcome, to which Theodore M. Rose, grand orator of the order, responded. The order has a membership of 14,000 in Pennsylvania and a national membership of 125,000.

White House Pets' Valet Stricken By Economy

By Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Wilson Jackson, White House "master of the hounds," today shook his head gravely and allowed that Coolidge economy is not all it is cracked up to be.

Jackson has been transferred to a post in the bureau of printing and engraving. Hereafter, Rebecca, the pet raccoon, Rob Roy and other White House pets will be in the care of Maurice Ward, who will also perform his own other numerous duties in the culinary department of the White House.

HAROLD LEROY WHITNEY WEDS BROADWAY STAR

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The secret bride of Harold Leroy Whitney, millionaire clubman and polo player has been revealed as Miss Phoebe Foster, a well-known actress. Whitney was married last Monday to Miss Angeline Egar, which is Miss Foster's real name. The couple endeavored to keep the wedding secret, but the news leaked out and caused some distress to Miss Foster, who is about to star in a new play on Broadway. She stated that she "wants to go on with stage work" and keep her private life apart from it.

The "weather machine" enables us to guarantee you a satisfactory paint job. . .

DEVOE Lead and Zinc Paint must and does stand up under a "weather machine" test before it leaves the factory.

And how this machine punishes the paint! Artificial sun rays scorch it. Artificial rain storms drench it. Artificial frost freezes it. In a few weeks this machine concentrates all the weather wear which paint would receive in years of actual use on your house.

Do you wonder that we guarantee a satisfactory paint job when Devoe is used!

FILIPINOS URGE PORTER FOR GEN. WOOD'S JOB

Pittsburgher Favored By Nationalists

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
Sun-Telegraph Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Representative Stephen G. Porter of Pittsburgh, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, loomed today as an important dark horse contender for the post of governor general of the Philippines, made vacant by the recent death of Gen. Leonard Wood.

It became known that important Philippine elements, both here and on the islands, including Pedro Guevara, Philippine Nationalist representative in Congress and officials of the Independence Bureau of the islands here are prepared strongly to urge Mr. Porter's appointment to President Coolidge. The second Filipino delegate to Congress, Commissioner Isauro Gabaldon, is understood also to be favorable to Mr. Porter's selection.

President Coolidge has not yet indicated what course he will follow in selecting a successor to Gen. Wood, but it is thought likely that he will consult responsible representatives of the Philippine government to determine their desires. In that case, the Pittsburgh congressman would undoubtedly head the inside track.

Although Representative Porter's name has not been mentioned publicly heretofore among those who are regarded as contenders for the post, Filipino leaders are said to have been grooming him all along in a quiet way, only awaiting the opportunity to urge him upon the President.

As chairman of the important House Foreign Affairs Committee, Mr. Porter has been considerate of Filipino problems in a way to endear him to island leaders. The statement is made without qualification that he is more acceptable to them than any one else who has been suggested.

Recent dispatches from Manila reported that the minority party in the islands has indorsed for the office Acting Gov. Gen. Eugene A. Gilmore, who has been serving since the death of Gen. Wood. Also it was revealed that Manuel L. Quezon, speaker of the Philippine Assembly and leader of the Nationalist party, which is the dominant group on the islands, has suggested a list of three acceptable candidates.

Mr. Porter, however, is declared by those in position to say to be the real choice of the dominant group and the present island administration.

The governor generalship of the Philippines is regarded as one of the choicest plums handed out by each new administration, paying $18,000 a year with other attractive allowances. Gen. Wood was the incumbent during the past six years, having been appointed by President Harding at the beginning of his administration.

Indications are that President Coolidge will not fill the vacancy until Congress convenes.

ARREST FIVE IN MINE RIOT

Three coal and iron policemen of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, a union picket and his wife are out on bail today awaiting court trial on charges of assault and battery. Thomas Williams, G. C. Schwitzer and E. L. Figart, the officers, waived hearings on charges of felonious assault and battery last night before Justice of the Peace Philip Hilm of Heidelberg. Williams posted $500 bail and the other two $1,000 each. The charges were preferred by Henry Bierman and his wife, who were previously held for court on charges of assault and resisting an officer, preferred by the police.

Protect Our Marine, Johnson Pleads

By Universal Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—"The United States must protect its merchant marine!"

This forceful plea for preparedness was made by United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson before members of the National Exchange Club in convention here.

"What happened at the Geneva disarmament conference has opened the eyes of all our people," said Senator Johnson. "I believe in disarmament, but I do not believe in the disarmament of the United States and the armament of all other nations.

"We must do as Great Britain has done for the last 150 years—prepare to protect our trade. America is maintaining a trade supremacy. But America will be worse than foolish if she does not protect her proud position on the seas.

"Ours is a peaceful nation. We must arm, not for aggressive design, but to meet any nation that comes to threaten our trade. It is up to you as citizens, and the men who represent you, to see that the United States is prepared to meet such aggression on the part of other nations."

M'KEES ROCKS WOMAN FILES SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Charging cruel and barbarous treatment, Mildred G. Yaggi, 2666 Sandborn street, filed a suit in divorce against her husband, Fred J. Yaggi, 901 First street, McKees Rocks. They were married in 1918 and separated in 1926. George Y. Meyer represents the wife.

TARENTUM BABE DIES AFTER BEING SCALDED

Edward Norris, 11 months old, of Dallas avenue, Tarentum, died in the Allegheny Valley Hospital last night a few hours after he had been scalded by boiling coffee at the Norris home. The baby tugged at a tablecloth while his parents were out of the room and upset the coffee.

2 HOUSES, BARN BURN DOWN

Two dwellings and a barn filled with grain burned to the ground yesterday in Chartiers valley. The total loss was estimated at $30,000. Firemen were unable to save an unoccupied dwelling owned by Esperanto Italy of Heidelberg. Starting in the kitchen, flames destroyed the home of Dominic Rosso, Oakdale road, Treveskyn.

A season crop of hay and grain was burned when fire destroyed a barn on the farm of T. D. Lesnett, near Bridgeville. Due to the lack of water it was impossible to fight the blaze.

POLITICAL FOES TRADE SLAMS AT 4 RALLIES

"The vicious pre-election scandals by the county's obstructing controller will fade and die next Tuesday, but the parks, the splendid roads, bridges and tunnels will remain forever," said County Commissioner E. V. Babcock, speaking last night at a meeting in the North Side Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

"Servants of the county political machine have called me an obstructionist," said Controller C. C. McGovern last night in Mt. Washington. "They must mean I have obstructed measures which would waste the people's money. I would be a traitor to the taxpayers if I did not obstruct such drives on the public purse."

"Petty politics of the poorest type," was the description applied to the charges filed against County Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong and Chief Clerk William H. Ziefel by former Judge Stephen Stone, speaking last night at an organization meeting in Taylor Allderdice High School.

"When I am elected Controller I shall audit every expenditure as it comes to me and at that time exercise the Controller's function of preventing unjustifiable expenditures instead of paying them first and then attempting to audit them months later," said Robert G. Woodside, organization candidate, at a meeting in the Shadeland School, Twenty-seventh Ward. "The word of the Controller is the final word. Not one dollar can be spent without his approval."

GOLLMAR SPEAKS

While the battle between the organization and Controller McGovern continued merrily, the independent candidates for the Common Pleas Court bench spurred their drive to break the organization slate.

"The voters should be more interested in what a judge will accomplish on the bench than in his politics," said Judge Frank I. Gollmar, speaking in Tarentum last night, going on to urge the elimination of judicial delays as far as possible.

Judge Gollmar, with all of his colleagues who are seeking to succeed themselves, either as independents or as organization candidates, received special commendatory mention in the Citizens' League bulletin, which was regarded as indicating that that body favored the return of all of the present judges to the bench.

Speaking on behalf of Frank P. Canuti, another independent judicial candidate, former State Senator W. S. Woods declared that only a report that Canuti had dropped out of the race prevented him from getting "a tremendous vote" in the Bar Association poll, which was led by Judge Richard W. Martin, another candidate, who is trying to break the slate.

Commissioner James Houlahen, Democrat, who is seeking another term, injected a new note into political meetings last night when he sang his way into the hearts of Millvale voters. County Chairman David L. Lawrence spoke, as did P. F. Brennan, Houlahen's running mate. A male quartet sang. "Let Jimmy sing," shouted someone in the audience. "Jimmy" obliged.

After the organization meeting in the North Side Chamber of Commerce, the audience remained at the invitation of State Senator Morris Einstein to eat ice cream and cake.

GARLAND REPLIES

Councilman Robert Garland, who has been attacked by organizations of police and firemen on the grounds that he is unfavorable to their pay increases, declared in an address at the Horace Mann School last night that it is the duty of a councilman to judge the merits of public questions as they affect the people as a whole, and not one special class. "The voters of Pittsburgh may rest assured that I will deal fairly with all of their 6,500 employes, including the small groups of police and firemen who seek to defeat me, but I will not be unfaithful to the whole public whom I represent."

John J. Ford, former police inspector, who is being supported by the police and firemen for a councilmanic place, spoke last night in Carnegie Library auditorium, Mt. Washington.

E. PITTSBURGH C. OF C. PLEDGES BAN ON LIQUOR

An application for a charter for the Chamber of Commerce of East Pittsburgh, in which it is stated, no liquors will be allowed on the premises, was filed in Common Pleas Court by Attorney Edward S. Sheinberg. The officers of the organization are L. L. Swaney, president; W. R. Shackleford, vice president; R. L. Cale, postmaster of the town, secretary, and Lazarus Simon, treasurer.

CLAIRTON WOMAN DIES FROM BULLET WOUNDS

Helen Hakins, 40, Negro, 319 Railroad street, Clairton, died this morning from a bullet wound. She was shot Saturday in a quarrel in her home, according to a report to the coroner's office. Several suspects have been arrested.

Festered and Scaled Over. Face Disfigured. Cuticura Heals.

"My trouble was a breaking out of pimples and blackheads on my face. The pimples were not very hard but varied in size. They festered and scaled over, and my face was disfigured. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and in a short time could see an improvement. I continued using them and now I am healed." (Signed) Miss S. F. Albino, 327 Midland Ave., Midland, Pa., July 1, 1926.

Keep your skin clear by using Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum for daily toilet purposes. Touch pimples and itching, if any, with Cuticura Ointment, bathe with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Cuticura Talcum is fragrant and refreshing, an ideal toilet powder.

Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c. Sold everywhere. Sample each free. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. R, Malden, Mass." Try Cuticura Shaving Stick 25c.

Jack Holt, Who Has Deserted Spurs and Paramount, to Make Second Film Play for Columbia

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS,
Motion Picture Editor of Universal Service.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.

NO ONE ever suspected that Jack Holt would grow tired of western roles. The old sombrero and chaps, to say nothing of the string of ponies, had become such a symbol of Holt that everyone thought he would continue playing Wild West heroes. After 10 years of western "drammer" he has signed with Columbia to star in "Tigress," a story laid in Spain.

Holt left Paramount some months ago after 10 years as their pet western artist. Since that time he has been flirting with the various companies. His decision to sign with Columbia is said to have been made after the success of "The Blood Ship," aided by the promise that George Seitz, the same director, would direct "Tigress."

Dorothy Revier, Richard Barthelmess' leading woman in "The Drop Kick" and approved by Dick in no uncertain terms as an actress of ability, will add the feminine color.

Joseph Brandt, head of Columbia pictures in New York, in telling me this story, admits that Columbia feels justified since the success of "The Blood Ship" in spending more money. Let us hope Columbia continues being sensible, for while all the other producing companies were crying the need of economy, Columbia was safe in the knowledge that there was no necessity for retrenching. Their pictures were never costly.

Winfield Sheehan, looking like a million dollars, is back from Europe with a thousand and one plans. When isn't Winnie full of plans? Anyway, he tells me that the world premier of "Sunrise" will be held at the Times Square Theater October 1. He also tells me his new Washington Theater will open with "Paid to Love." But more important is the news that the German quota permits F. W. Murnau to sail for America October 1. Winnie says Murnau will be here for five weeks. I do not know whether he will take out citizenship papers or not, but I do know he will go to work immediately on "Four Devils," scheduled as Fox's piece de resistance for 1928.

"Trelawny of the Wells" is being held for production until Sidney Franklin gets well. He has had to ask for three weeks leave of absence to regain his strength after a serious illness. When a company holds a picture for that length of time you know a director is valuable. Irving Thalberg chose Mr. Franklin to direct Norma Shearer in "Trelawny of the Wells," following his work in "Quality Street," Marion Davies' last picture. I ain't going to say anything about this picture until you see it, but if you don't like it then I will know there is no use in making good pictures. By the by, I understand that Irving and Norma will be married in November. I am glad they are waiting until I get back to Hollywood, because that is one wedding I want to attend.

There will be another wedding in Hollywood in November that will not be very much of a surprise. I believe I wrote of the engagement of Diana Kane and George Fitzmaurice a few months ago. At that time there were some doubts expressed by other writers. Now comes the word direct, boys and girls, that Diana will became Mrs. Fitzmaurice in November. Another wedding I am going to attend.

Stage Actor Back In Hollywood For Films

Completing the cast for "Coney Island," the F. B. O.'s production being filmed under the direction of Ralph Ince, Rudy Cameron has been signed to play the leading masculine role and William Irving and Eugene Strong have been chosen for important parts.

Cameron, who is well known on the New York stage, recently returned to California after an eight-year absense. In "Coney Island" he will make his first screen appearance following his return. When last in Hollywood he made a series of eight pictures with Anita Stewart as associate producer with Louis B. Mayer.

Before leaving New York, Cameron appeared in "For the Love of Mike," a Robert Kane production released under the First National banner. Prior to that he was the featured lead in the Broadway stage offering "Bye, Bye, Bonnie."

With his cast, which includes Lois Wilson and Lucila Mendez, complete, Ince has settled down to a long period of hard work until he finishes the picture he started in New York a few weeks ago. The story of "Coney Island" is from the pen of Joseph Jefferson O'Neill.

COMING SHOWS ANNOUNCED

"The Cradle Song" company, which comes next week to the Nixon, is headed by Mary Shaw, whose memoirs are soon to appear. Harry Davenport is a son of the noted tragedian, E. L. Davenport, and Phyllis Rankin, is a daughter of McKee Rankin. Seats go on sale today.

"Rose Marie," the successful Arthur Hammerstein operetta, will be seen in the Alvin for one week beginning Monday evening, September 19. This musical play will be seen in its farewell engagement here at this time, it is stated. The seat sale opens today.

Next week's offering of the George Sharp Production Stock Company in the Pitt will be Willard Mack's "Honor Be Damned," a dramatic play, with plenty of comedy relief. Thurston Hall will be seen as the district attorney, who deems it honorable to defend his boyhood associates, even though they be guilty, just because they are his friends.

Caesar Rivoli is booked for the Keith-Albee vaudeville program next week in the Davis. He appears with "Memories of the Opera."

"Wine, Woman and Song," in the Gayety next week, will bring Bert Bertrand, who has been stepping in Keith-Albee vaudeville for a couple of seasons. Scenic mounting includes a "Mello Mars" presentation.

"Midget Follies of 1927" will be the featured vaudeville attraction in the Harris next week. They have what is described as "A Big Revue by Little People."

The burlesque booked for the Academy next week is "Happy Hours," which will be presented by a company including Etna Moore, Renee De Mares, Freddie Walker and Bob Taylor.

Among the vaudeville attractions in the Sheridan Square Theater for the first half of next week will be Gerber's Jesters, described as a laughter revue with Harry Seymore, Val Irving, Teller Sisters, Chat Gorman and Joe Rock, forming a sextet of jolly merrymakers.

Victor McLaglen and Edmund Lowe are co-featured with Dolores Del Rio in "What Price Glory," screen feature in the Grand next week.

The attraction on the screen in the Olympic next week is "Barbed Wire." Pola Negri is co-starred with Clive Brook and Einar Hanson.

COLLEGIATE DANCE IN WEBSTER HALL

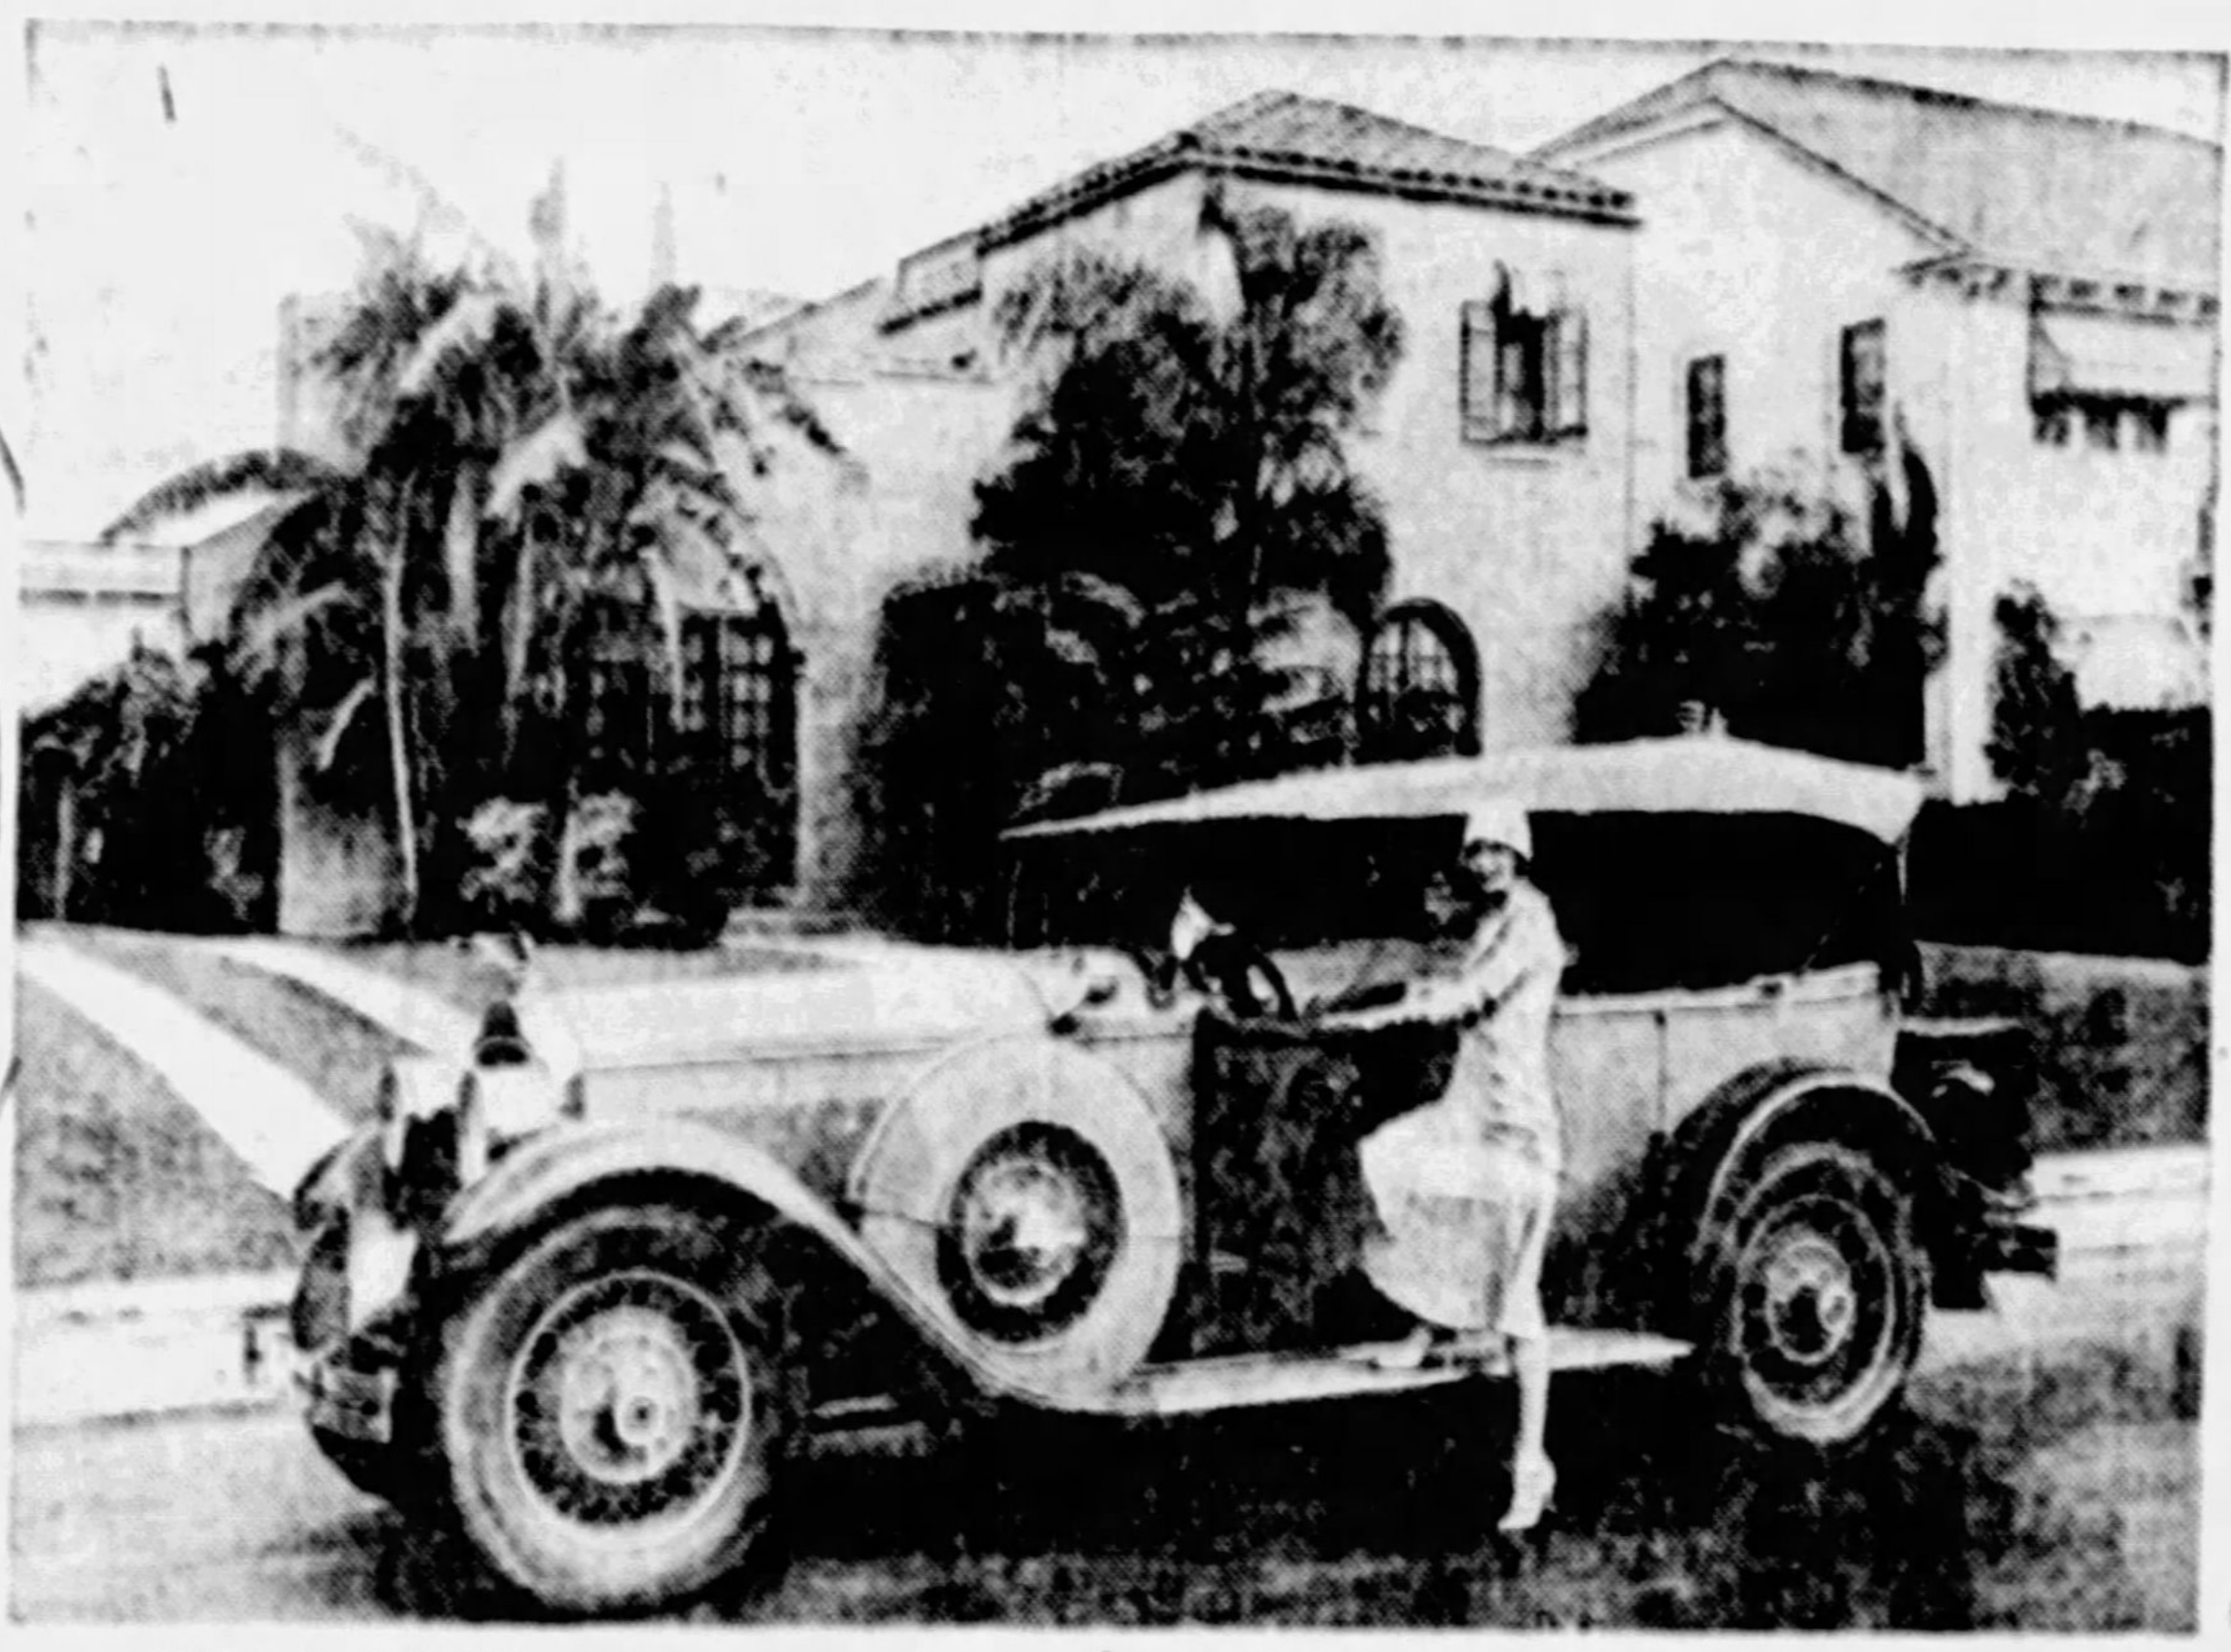
Tomorrow night in Webster Hall the regular Friday night collegiate dance will be held, with moonlight dancing both in the Georgian room and in the Spanish Garden. Dewey Bergman and his Webster Hall Orchestra have arranged a novelty program which will be broadcast as usual over station KDKA.

WALKER'S ORCHESTRA IN KLEMAN INN

Kleman Inn announces it has engaged Walker's Pennsylvanians, a seven-piece orchestra, beginning tonight. It will appear in Kleman Inn at various times during the season. Dinner service begins at 5 p. m. daily, Sundays and holidays. David S. Lewis has assumed management of the Inn.

Comedienne -:- Why Girls Seek Film Fame -:- Song Bird

LILLIAN SHAW will be featured on the stage program in Loew's Aldine next week, when a new policy of five acts of vaudeville and a feature picture will be inaugurated.



GILDA GRAY, whose new picture is "The Devil Dancer," chose just the right kind of a pose in this scene to make more girls yearn to leave home for Hollywood and crowd Mary Pickford, Norma Talmadge and Gloria Swanson right off the screen. Stars, of course, do not get photographed as waitresses except when acting.

BEULAH BERSON is a singing lass, prima donna of "Rose Marie"—no less. She will appear in the company presenting that operetta in the Alvin next week.

MELLON BACKING OF HUGHES THOUGHT SURE

New York to Unite With Pennsylvania

By JAMES R. NOURSE,
Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Pennsylvania Republican leaders, headed by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, will help those of New York in the effort to make Charles Evans Hughes the Republican nominee for president in next year's convention.

This was made known authoritatively when Secretary Mellon permitted it to be stated that Hughes is his personal choice for the nomination. It confirms a dispatch by Universal Service last Thursday in which it was stated that Secretary Mellon was planning to line up behind the Hughes candidacy.

The entire Republican organization in Pennsylvania will be thrown behind the movement to boom Hughes for the nomination. This is made certain by the fact that Secretary Mellon and his nephew, W. L. Mellon of Pittsburgh, Republican state chairman, have been in close conference and are united on the plan of sending a Hughes delegation to the convention.

Pennsylvania's [illegible] votes added to New York's [illegible] would give the Hughes workers an initial force of 170 votes in the balloting on candidates.

Although the Mellons are seriously interested in the Hughes candidacy, it was authoritatively stated on behalf of Secretary Mellon that no campaign in behalf of Hughes has been started in Pennsylvania and that the Mellons [illegible] are up to this time without any authority from Hughes to start a boom for him. They are of the opinion, however, that the statement made by Hughes upon his return from Europe that he still regarded Coolidge as the logical candidate has not closed the door against giving the nomination to Hughes if this can be done.

TO GIVE HOOVER CHANCE

Another reason why Secretary Mellon will proceed cautiously before taking any active part in launching the Hughes boom is that his fellow cabinet member, Herbert Hoover, is looked upon as an actual candidate for the nomination and Secretary Mellon is disinclined to do anything that might injure Hoover's chances. In line with the policy of other Republican leaders, Secretary Mellon wishes to let the Hoover boom run along and get as far as it can before getting actively into the campaign.

Pennsylvania's votes in the convention undoubtedly will be cast for Secretary Mellon on the first ballot as a compliment to his record as head of the Treasury Department and Republican leader in his state. After the first ballot the votes may be used for whichever candidate Secretary Mellon himself favors, and his present choice is Hughes.

SENATOR WATSON BETTER NEEDS NO OPERATION

By Universal Service.

ROCHESTER, Minn., Sept. 15.—Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, who has been a patient at the Mayo Brothers Hospital for the past three weeks, said today he would not undergo an operation. He is gradually improving under a strict diet. "I am getting along nicely," the Senator said. "I do not know how long I will be required to remain here. I am in bed the greater part of the time, getting a good rest."

SEEKS DIVORCE AFTER 20 YEARS

Mrs. Anna Edwards, 1016 East Warrington avenue, married 35 years ago, has applied for a divorce from Henry Edwards, 1015 Sarah street. She claims he deserted her 20 years ago.

Mary S. Kidwell, 301 Boggston avenue, alleges cruel and barbarous treatment as a cause for seeking a divorce from Wilbur A. Kidwell, 5223 Gertrude street. They lived together from 1920 to 1925.

Novelist Escapes Rope On Slaying Charge

By IRENE KUHN,
Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

ROCKVILLE, Conn., Sept. 15.—With wholly unexpected and startling abruptness, the trial of Leonard Cline, novelist, for the murder of his friend, Wilfred P. Irwin, in Mansfield, Conn., last May, came to an end yesterday.

In seven minutes Cline found himself lifted out of the shadow of the hangman's noose and made a virtual guest of the state for a year.

Within an hour the novelist had left the Rockville courthouse, was back in the Tolland county jail and at work on the first of the five novels he has in preparation.

Cline entered a plea of guilty of manslaughter.

There was no questioning the popularity of the verdict and Judge Edward P. Yoemans' sentence of one year in the county jail and $1,000 fine.

Professor George Irwin, teacher of Romance-languages in a southern university, and brother of the man the state contended Cline killed, was among the first to grasp Cline's hand.

"There are no hard feelings, I hope?" said Cline, a bit wistfully, for he had been very fond of the dead man.

"No, we were not seeking revenge," said Irwin, simply.

"I know you were not," Cline replied.

REFER SPEED AD PROTEST

A protest against emphasis of high speed in automobile advertisements, made by the Better Traffic Committee of Pittsburgh, has been referred by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce to Alvan Macauley, president of the Packard Motor Car Company and acting chairman of the street traffic committee of the chamber, according to a letter received today by Gen. Albert J. Logan, chairman of the local committee, from John C. Long, secretary of Macauley's committee.

Mr. Long promises Mr. Logan that the matter will be taken up by the committee and also probably will come before the board of directors of the national automobile organization at the fall meetings.

Attempt on Life of Mussolini Foiled

By Universal Service.

ROME, Sept. 15.—Within twenty-four hours two attacks on Fascism within Italy have been foiled, although one attack outside of the country apparently succeeded. One attempt failed through the vigilance of Mussolini's secret service. The heroism of an intended victim spoiled the other.

Tuesday night the Rome-Milan Express was derailed near Bologna. It was commonly believed Mussolini was taking the train.

The second attack occurred when two chiefs of the Fascist party, Ravenna Ettore Mury and Renzo Morici, dropped to the street last night wounded by the fire of Massarali Leopoldo, who later was identified as a violent anti-Fascist.

Morici returned the fire and killed the would-be assassin.

Stomach Aches of Pupils Blamed on "Hot Dogs"

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 15.—(AP.)—"Hot Dog" venders near Cleveland public school buildings parade their wares before school children in such a way that an "epidemic of stomach aches" from too free eating of the hot dogs has been caused. This was the declaration today of a delegation of mothers from the East Thirty-seventh street and Orange avenue district when they appealed to police to stop the hot dog venders from selling their wares near the school buildings.

Police Prosecutor Francis Douglas made an ineffectual search of the ordinance books to find a law which would stop sale of the tempting hot dogs near school buildings. He told the mothers the only thing that could be done was to caution children against over-eating.

Good News for Expectant Mothers

Doctor's Discovery Relieves Much Unnecessary Suffering

IT has been proven conclusively that much of the suffering experienced during expectancy, as well as at child-birth, is entirely unnecessary.

Dr. Holmes' discovery, "Mother's Friend," aids the muscles and tissues to expand more easily, month after month, right up to the climax of child-birth!

Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., writes: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used "Mother's Friend" and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

Start using Mother's Friend tonight—the sooner the better and write for free booklet on "Things to Know Before Baby Comes" (sent in plain envelope). Mother's Friend is sold by all drug stores.

DR. F. S. M'BRIDE TO SPEAK AT LUNCHEON

The Rev. Dr. Francis Scott McBride, who will shoulder the legislative work of the late Wayne B. Wheeler, counsel of the Anti-Saloon League at Washington, will visit Pittsburgh tomorrow. He will speak at the testimonial luncheon to be held in the Fort Pitt Hotel for Prohibition Administrator John D. Pennington.

It was in Pittsburgh that Dr. McBride began his career. Soon after graduation from the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary in 1901 and ordination, he accepted the pastorate of the United Presbyterian Church at Kittanning. He became quite active in Anti-Saloon work there, but it was while pastor of a Monmouth (Ill.) United Presbyterian Church, his second charge, that he gained his national reputation as a dry worker. He distinguished himself in the legislative work of the Illinois Anti-Saloon League and was made the league's national superintendent.

FISHER GOING TO INDIANA REUNION

The Indiana County Reunion Association of Allegheny county will have as guests at its annual reunion Saturday in Highland Park many prominent persons, including Governor John S. Fisher, Judge J. N. Langham, of Indiana; Secretary of the Interior Hubert Work, Mayor Charles H. Kline, former residents of Indiana, Congressman Clyde Kelly and Dr. J. A. H. Kirk, superintendent of public instruction. Officers of the association say there will be no political speeches—only addresses with Indiana county as the general subject. The membership of the association is composed of residents of Allegheny county who formerly resided in Indiana county.

DEATH ROLL

Mrs. Mary G. Stewart.

Mrs. Mary G. Stewart, formerly of Stewart Station, died Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Frank Graff, Worthington, Pa.

Mrs. Stewart, 87, was a daughter of the late John Shaw and widow of David Stewart. She was a charter member of the United Presbyterian Church of Stewart Station. Mrs. Stewart leaves a son, Samuel S. Stewart, and a daughter, Mrs. J. Frank Graff; two grandchildren, Greer S. Graff and Stewart Graff, all of Worthington, Pa.; a sister, Mrs. Martin H. Cort, of Mt. Lebanon, and a brother, John E. Shaw, of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. W. P. Buchanan

Mrs. Margaret Snodgrass Buchanan, wife of W. P. Buchanan of 229 Bailey avenue, Mt. Washington, died Tuesday in the Allegheny General Hospital. Besides her husband she leaves two brothers, Alexander Snodgrass of Leeds, England, and Edward Snodgrass, Sr., of Bellevue.

Mrs. Mary G. Stewart

Mrs. Mary G. Stewart, 86, widow of David Stewart, formerly of Stewart Station, died Tuesday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Frank Graff, of Worthington, Pa. She was a charter member of the United Presbyterian Church of Stewart Station. She leaves a son, Samuel S. Stewart, and a daughter, Mrs. J. Frank Graff.

William B. M'Nary

William Boyd McNary, 72, of Thomas, Pa., died Tuesday. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Jennie Herron McNary; two daughters, Mrs. Carrie Hammond of New Concord, O., and May McNary, at home, and two sons, Charles T. McNary of Dormont and Robert B. McNary of Thomas.

ASKING OFFICER TO HELP ROB JAILS GIRL

Suggesting to a policeman that he join in robbing a [illegible] according to Patrolman James McAfee, caused Alice Terry, 23, [illegible] Forty-second street, to be held over for further investigation by Magistrate E. M. Hough in Morals Court today.

McAfee testified that he was summoned by John [illegible], [illegible] Morgan street, to Butler and Forty-second streets, where [illegible] car was parked early this morning. The girl is said to have asked [illegible] to drive her home. She was intoxicated, it is alleged, and after directing her to several wrong addresses [illegible] called the policeman. While they were trying to find the girl's home, she is said to have suggested to the policeman that they rob [illegible] and divide the loot.

Marriage of Miss Frances Hornecker To James W. Henry, Jr., Announced

MR. AND MRS. C. B. FERREE, of Tennyson avenue, announce the marriage of their niece, Miss Frances Louise Hornecker, and James W. Henry, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Henry, of Bigelow boulevard, which was solemnized yesterday. After an eastern trip, Mr. and Mrs. Henry will be at home in the Ruskin apartments.

At 10 o'clock this morning in Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church, the marriage of Miss Elizabeth R. Briant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Briant, of Allendale street, Sheraden, and Alfred McClung Lee, II, son of Mrs. A. M. Lee, of Oakmont, was solemnized by the Rev. Dr. Edgar Jones, rector of St. Thomas' Memorial Episcopal Church, Oakmont. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore white crepe embroidered with pearls, with a tulle veil secured with orange blossoms, and she carried blush roses. Miss Edythe Thompson, as maid of honor, appeared in pink crepe, while the bridesmaids were Miss Doris Baurman, in corn-colored crepe, and Miss Mary Ray, in blue crepe. They wore small black hats and carried asters to match their frocks. George Lee was his brother's best man and the ushers included William Hamor, of Oakmont, and Richard Briant, brother of the bride. A breakfast in the Congress Clubhouse followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Lee will take a motor trip and after October 1 will be at home in North avenue, Wilkinsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Curry, of Chester, formerly of Swissvale, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Gertrude Elizabeth Curry, to Dr. Paul W. Shogren, of Swissvale. Miss Cury has been teaching in the Swissvale schools. Dr. Shogren is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh school of dentistry.

Miss Mary Magdalen Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Mers, of Hutchinson avenue, Edgewood, has chosen October 5 as the date of her marriage to Leo F. McAleer, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. McAleer, of Wilkinsburg.

* * *

Scheduled for today is the wedding of Miss Dorothy Arnold Babcock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Vose Babcock, of Ellsworth avenue, and Gordon Fisher, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Fisher, of Colonial place, taking place at the Babcock summer home in the Three Degree road. Included in the list of the bride's attendants are Mrs. W. W. Kirkpatrick, Jr., of Dayton, O., matron of honor; Miss Elizabeth Philbrick, of New York, maid of honor; Miss Laura C. Suydam, Mrs. George L. Craig, Jr., Miss Marjorie Babcock, Miss Sara Louise Gwinner, Mrs. Henry L. Jones, III, of Wilkes-Barre, and Miss Margaret Elliott. Mary Alice Hammond and Phyllis Hoelzel are flower girls. John M. Fisher is best man and the ushers include Edward Vose Babcock, Jr., Fred C. Babcock, Theodore Friend, Jr., James J. Campbell, Jr., William S. Stimmel, Jr., Graham Johnston, Russell R. Huggins, Jr., and Fordham Ihzler, of Bethlehem, Pa.

Last night at 8:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Florence Hardy Kiskadden in North Harrison avenue, Bellevue, the marriage of her daughter, Miss Florence Lillian Kiskadden and Alfred Shelton Keith, son of Mrs. A. H. Keith, of Kentucky avenue, was solemnized by the Rev. Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, pastor of the Bellevue Presbyterian Church, assisted by Rev. Dr. Isaac Boyce. The bride wore white crepe satin with a bouffant skirt, and her tulle veil was held with a cap of duchesse lace. She carried a shower of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Margaret Kiskadden, as her sister's maid of honor, appeared in changeable peach taffeta with a bouffant skirt faced with orchid, and she carried orchid dahlias. Harry Hassell, of San Dimas, Fla., was his cousin's best man, and Miss May Miller, of this city, played the wedding music. After an extensive motor trip Mr. and Mrs. Keith will be at home in South Mathilda street.

MAGAZINES ASSAILED AT CONGRESS LUNCHEON

"There is no greater challenge in your community than that of your corner newstand," Mrs. D. Edwin Miller read yesterday from the report submitted in his absence by the Rev. Dr. J. W. Claudy, general acting director of the board of Christian education for the Presbyterian Church in America. The occasion was a joint luncheon of the Congress of Clubs' educational department, of which Mrs. Miller is chairman, the legislative committee of the Congress and the Better Magazines Council of Allegheny County, an expansion of the altruistic committee of the College Club, which is conducting a campaign against questionable magazines. Dr. Claudy's report further pointed out that a great deal of good can be accomplished in a short time, good which can be weighed only in the years to come. The movement, he added, promises to take on national proportions.

Mrs. Frederick B. Chalfant, honorary chairman of the council, outlined the plan of work by which the appointed readers in the council will be able to survey the blacklisted magazines each month before they have reached the newstands—this through the co-operation of the wholesale houses—and thus prevent their sale. If a committee of librarians upholds the findings of the readers committee the matter will be placed in the hands of the Children's Service Bureau, which will take any legal steps necessary.

Candidates who will be voted upon in the primary election have been invited to speak at a meeting tomorrow night in the Wilkinsburg Y. W. C. A. Mrs. H. J. Fox has had charge of the arrangements. Mrs. Robert Dibbie, chairman of the Wilkinsburg League of Women Voters, will preside. This will be a non-partisan meeting, open to the public. The Edgewood League will meet tomorrow night in the Edgewood High School Auditorium.

FRENCH ANGLING FOR COMPROMISE IN TARIFF SNUB

U. S. ASKED TO MAKE TRADE TREATY

PARIS, Sept. 15.—(AP)—The French Foreign Office replied to the representations made by the United States on the French tariff question today, the reply being in the nature of a compromise proposal requiring further negotiations.

In the reply, which was handed over to Sheldon Whitehouse, American charge d'affaires, the French government invited immediate negotiations for a commercial treaty between France and the United States on a reciprocal basis, setting forth its ideas of the principles upon which such negotiations should proceed.

In the meantime, if Washington desires to enter such negotiations, various tariff concessions will be made, but these will be rather in the nature of intermediate rates and not complete parity with countries having commercial treaty arrangements with France.

The nature of the note indicated that the French government's purpose appeared to be to leave the door quite open for further discussions of the subject, but does not give entire relief such as was asked for by the American government, even pending further conversations.

The text of the reply was not made public and was immediately put upon the cables to Washington by the American embassy, which will await further instructions.

MAN SHOT BY ROBBERS

Charles Elkus, 45, of 110 Whitworth street, robber victim, was reported slightly improved this morning in St. Joseph's Hospital. Elkus was shot down at Whitworth street and Boggs avenue last night when he ran on being accosted by three holdup men. A bullet passed through Elkus' hip.

Elkus told city detectives that the thugs were all young men and wore handkerchief masks.

COMPANIONS HELD AFTER MAN IS BEATEN

Beaten on the face and head and suffering from a probable fracture of the skull, William Brown, [illegible] Fifth avenue, was taken to the Homeopathic Hospital last night. His companions, Norman Bump and William Lymans of Cleveland, O., who said they picked up Brown on the North Side, were arrested and lodged in the Oakland Police Station.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE PLANS BEING URGED

Pleading for co-operation among all groups and communities for assistance in the fight against tuberculosis, Dr. C. Howard Marcy, medical director of the Tuberculosis League of Pittsburgh, yesterday appealed to a group of Southwestern Pennsylvania health workers in the Fort Pitt Hotel to formulate plans for the twentieth annual Christmas seal sale.

INTERURBAN TROLLEYS' RUNNING TIME CUT

Announcement was made today by the Pittsburgh Railways Company that the running time of the Washington interurban cars will be cut from one hour and fifty minutes to one hour and thirty-five minutes, effective September 25. In view of the change in schedule, the present express, or limited, service will be discontinued September 25, making the entire schedule practically a limited service.

COFFERDAM AT SCHENLEY GIVES BUILDERS TROUBLE

Difficulty is experienced in draining the last cofferdam of Lock No. 5, Allegheny River, at Schenley. For more than 10 days pumps of the Dravo Contracting Company have been lowering the level to a depth which would permit them to construct to closing section of the dam. J. Hippert, superintendent, stated yesterday that water was seeping through the porous bottom as fast as it can be pumped out.

Is "YELLOW MASK" your teeth's foe?

Enamel is naturally white—why not yours?

Do your teeth have a dingy, yellowish tinge? They should be a pearly white—because that is enamel's natural color.

Then why, you ask, do mine have that yellowish cast despite daily brushing? Because of a "liquid cement" in your saliva.

This is called Calculus. It glues to your teeth—then hardens into a glassy mask. It completely veils the lustrous enamel. And worse, it is absorbent . . . drinks in coffee, food and tobacco stains like a blotter absorbs ink. These discolor it—give it that yellowish tinge.

Ordinary brushings fail to remove it. Only one thing can—a peculiar substance known as "Tri-Calcium Phosphate." Your dentist uses it to clean teeth. It makes a tooth fairly dazzle. Yet it cannot scratch the softest enamel.

Now, dental science gives you this wonderful "Tri-Calcium Phosphate" in a tasty, pleasant tooth paste. That means a sure and positive way to remove that yellow mask and gain glorious, pearly teeth. Often this magic dentifrice does this in a few applications.

The name of this marvelous tooth paste is ORPHOS. Dentists everywhere endorse it—especially for teeth difficult to whiten. Convince yourself of its wonderful powers to beautify. Get a tube now from your druggist—or mail coupon below for generous FREE tube.

LOOK FOR THIS! Note the "brush cling" when you use ORPHOS—also the utter absence of that nauseating foam.

There is just one right way to keep the skin clear and smooth

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system. This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

You owe it to yourself to try S.S.S. It helps Nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished.

"I was troubled with pimples and blackheads. I took a course of S.S.S. It cleared my face and back. I think S.S.S. is wonderful. I have told many friends about S.S.S., and they are getting as much benefit as I did." Miss Ruth Gahm, 1134 Elden Ave., Los Angeles, Calif.

S.S.S. is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory. It is time-tried and reliable.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

BLOOD TEST MAY SOLVE BABY CASE

SAYS HOSPITAL MUST PRODUCE HER 'SON'

By International News Service.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 15.—Becoming more complicated with each development, the habeas corpus action of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smith, seeking to compel a local hospital to produce a baby boy in place of the girl now being held by Mrs. Smith, today had involved four infants with the possibility of a blood test being ordered in an attempt to clear up the case.

On August 22, last, Mrs. Smith gave birth to a child which, she claims, hospital authorities told her was a boy. Several days later she discovered that the baby she was nursing was a girl. After a preliminary investigation, hospital officials admitted there had been a "technical mistake," but declared "there was now no doubt that Mrs. Sam Smith's baby was really a girl."

This failed to satisfy Mrs. Smith and habeas corpus proceedings were filed in an attempt to force the institution to produce one "Baby George" Smith. Three other mothers of infants involved in the controversy say they are satisfied that they have received their own babies and "will never give them up."

In the meantime, Common Pleas Judge Carl V. Weygandt, playing the role of a modern King Solomon, has called upon physicians for advice regarding possible blood tests to help solve the unique law suit.

WHEELING GROCERS JOIN TO FIGHT CHAIN STORES

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 15.—Retail grocers of the Wheeling district plan to combat inroads of national chain stores by chaining themselves. Thirty-five grocers already have agreed to participate in a plan for lot buying. Others are expected to join.

2 Indian Tribes Join Melody Way Club

The Sun-Telegraph's Melody Way club will be enriched by 33 new members today.

Laying aside their tom-toms, two tribes of Blackfeet Indians, halting here today en route to the Baltimore and Ohio centenary exhibition in Baltimore, plan to learn first-hand the ways and means of playing their tribal music on the white man's instrument—the piano.

Several teachers, appointed by the Western Chapter, Pennsylvania State Music Dealers' Association, will instruct Chief Two Guns White Calf, head of the delegation, and Fish Wolf Robe, dancer and leading musician of the tribes. The Melody Way will be taken to the reservations in Glacier National Park when the tribes return, and taught to the papooses when they are able to learn, or able to get pianos.

The Blackfeet, under the direction of A. M. Miller, of the B. & O., will take the party this afternoon to one of the affiliated dealers and be duly registered.

Many hundreds, with their certificates received, are already enrolled in music classes furnished by the affiliated dealers. There will be thousands enrolling right along, and downtown and other dealers are preparing to furnish instruction and the use of pianos. Some letters including certificates are without buttons, but the buttons will be mailed later. The certificate is the necessary credential to present the music store, while the button is simply an emblem of the Sun-Telegraph club.

If you have enrolled send in your blank today. Speed in entering the club will assist the music class in forming early and allow preparations for future classes. The second of the series of 12 lessons will appear in Saturday's Sun-Telegraph.

Please enter me in the Borrah Minevitch Sun-Telegraph Harmonica Contest to be held at Loew's New Penn Theater.

FREE-STATERS IN LAST RALLY

By PATRICK HOEY,
Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

DUBLIN, Sept. 15.—The last rally to save the treaty is on. A government election organizer told Universal Service that the anti-De Valera Republicans are working hard to aid in the return of the Free State government at the elections today and are fighting to defeat De Valera at all costs.

The latest forecasts give the Free-Staters a small majority, although the government's chances are reported to be improving in the last hours. This will undoubtedly be the hardest-fought election in Ireland since the old Sinn Fein days. More than a thousand speeches are billed to be delivered in the cold and rain in the Free State tonight.

CANADA TO CURB IMMIGRANTS

By Universal Service.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 15.—Canada is likely soon to have its own quota law, according to Ottawa advices.

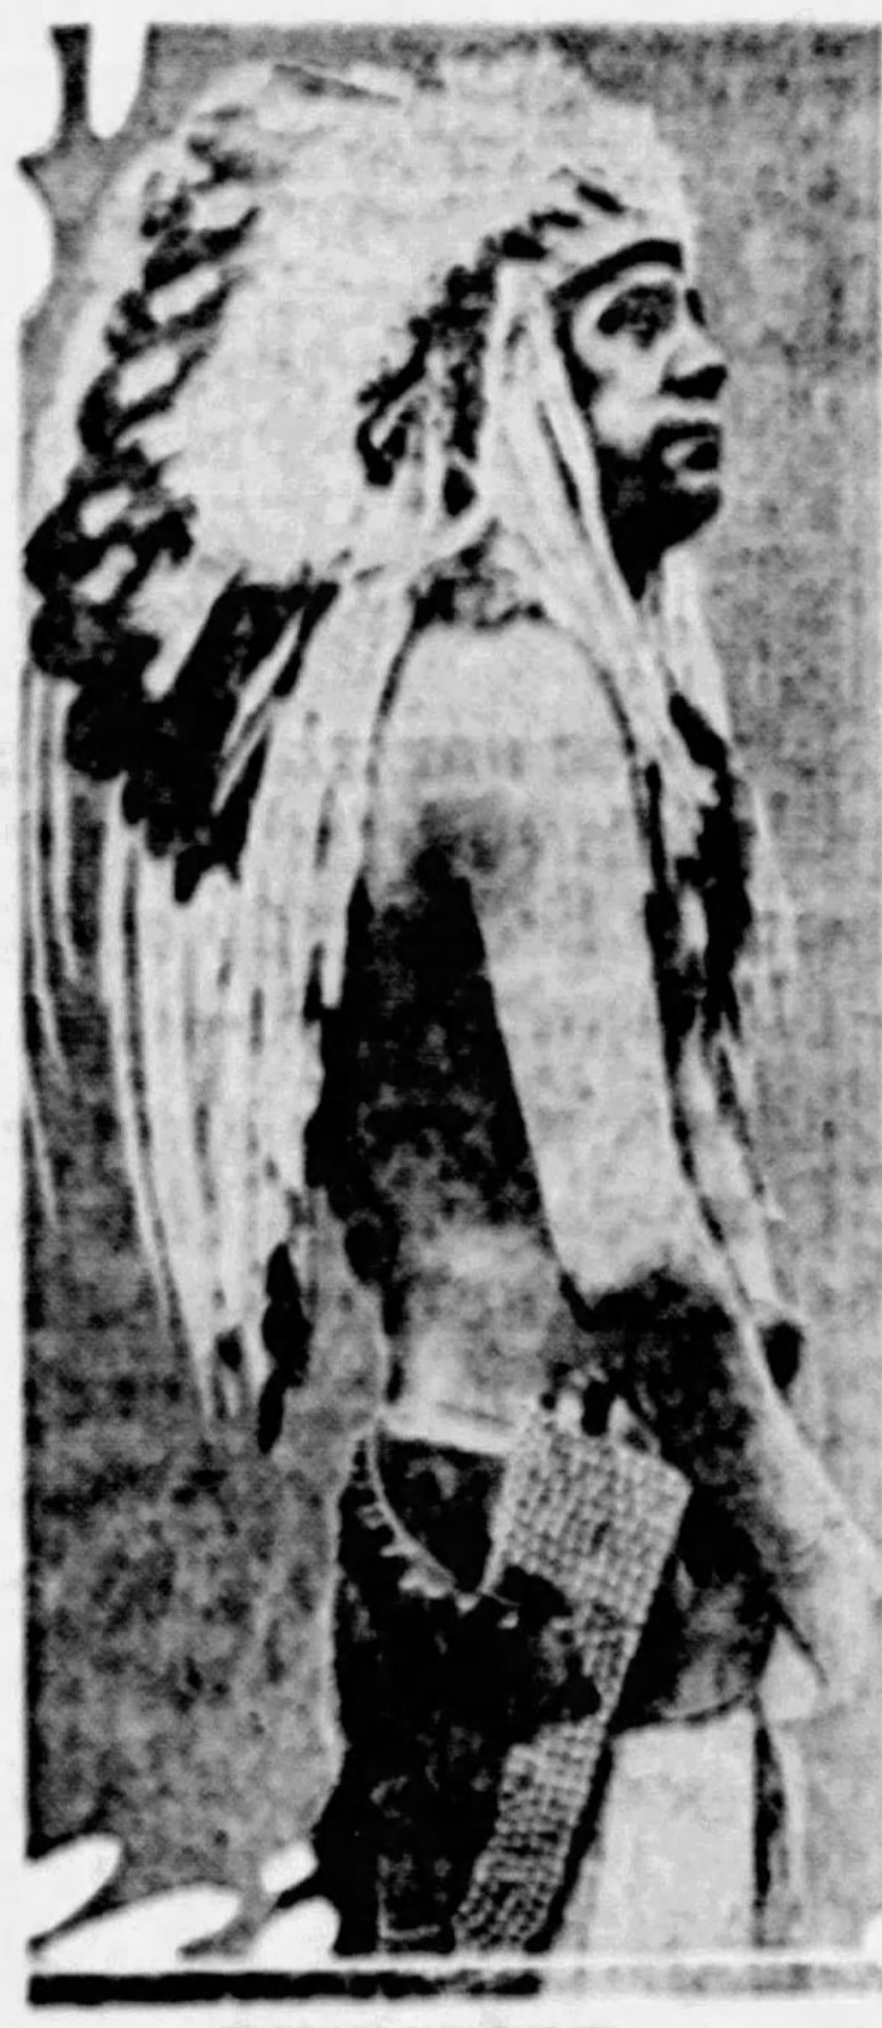
Throwing a bombshell into the ranks of the steamship and railway companies, who, in the past have been permitted to dump immigrants into Canada indiscriminately, Robert Forke, minister of immigration, has announced that from now on settlers will only be admitted in proportion to the employment available.

In addition, a quota law or a heavy head tax, will likely be applied against all immigrants from outside the empire, the United States and France.

COLEMAN HOME TO HOLD TAG DAY ON SATURDAY

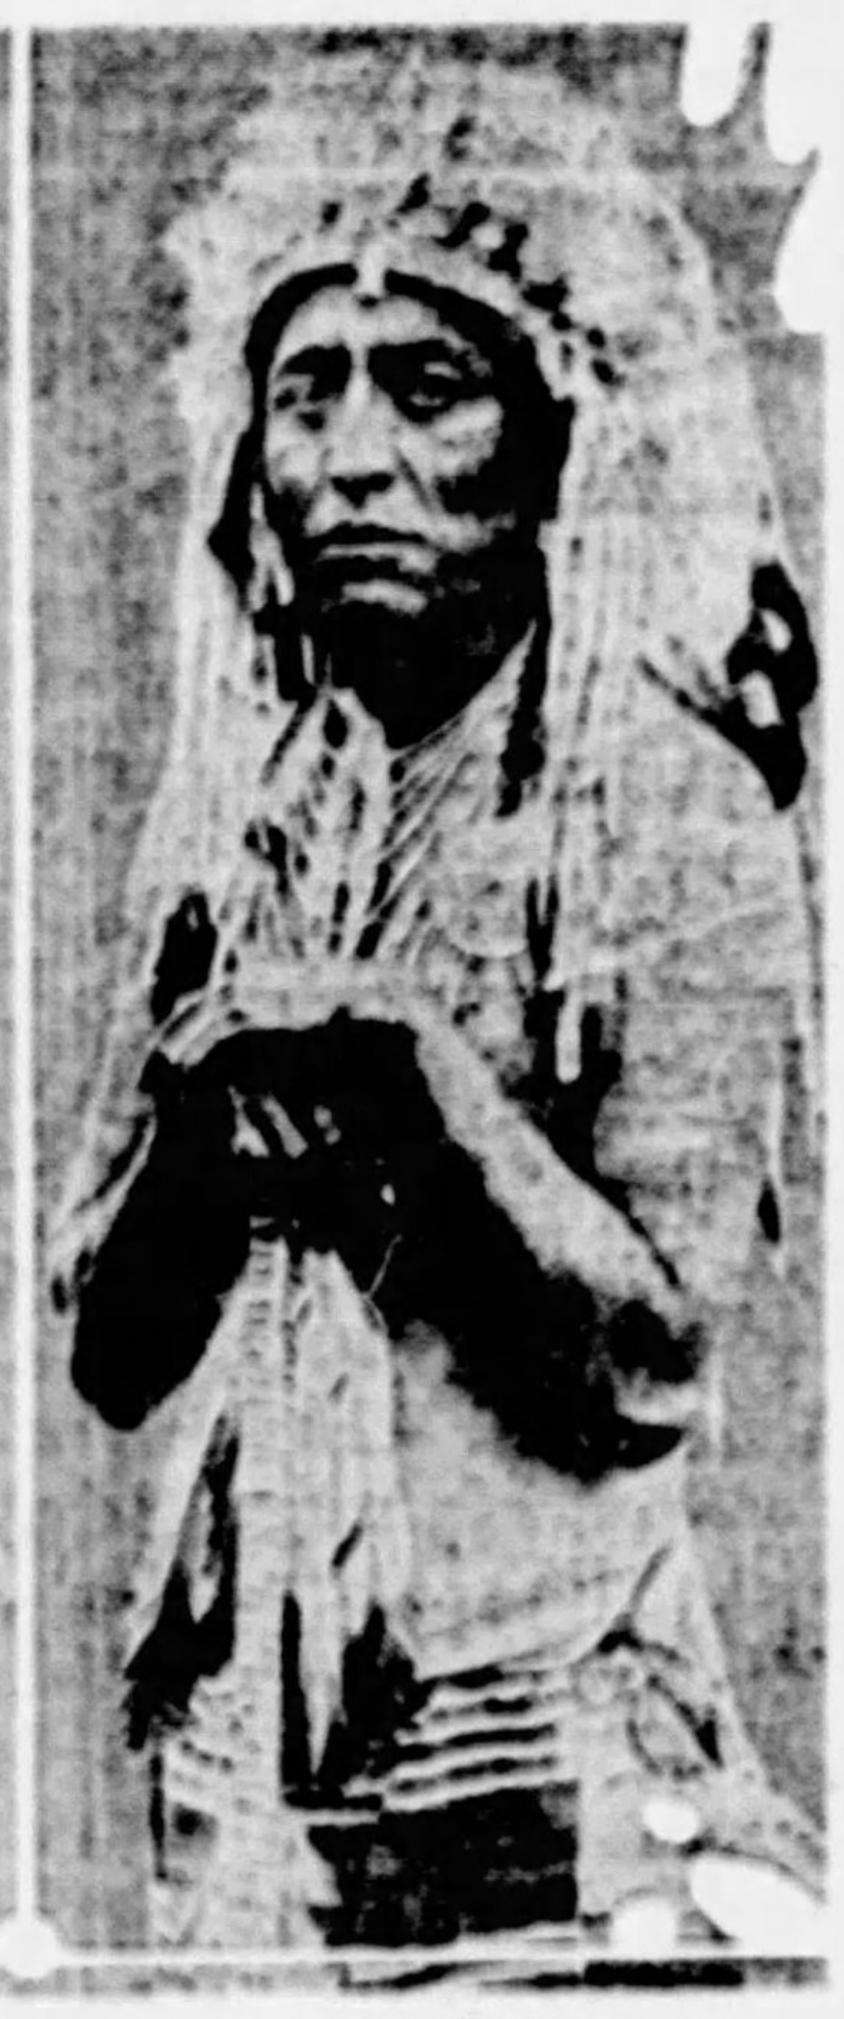
The Coleman Industrial Home for Colored Boys will hold its annual tag day Saturday. Workers will be on the streets of the downtown district and other sections of the city, asking for contributions from the public.

MELODY WAY MEMBERS



FISH WOLF

Is one of the most musically inclined of the 33 Blackfeet Indians from Glacier National Park, who are spending today in Pittsburgh, en route to the Baltimore and Ohio centenary celebration in Baltimore. He plays the tom-tom and dances.



TWO GUNS

He is the chief and head of the delegation. While the piano is not the instrument of the plains, it may soon be, and he is going to find out today how to learn the Melody Way to play and teach back home. Many of his tribe are also interested.

EX-NATRONA MAN IS SLAIN

MOBILE, Ala., Sept. 15.—(AP.)—After several hours questioning Mrs. Charlotte C. Boerner, chiropractor and estranged wife of Paul H. Boerner, 51, musician and plumber, was detained by police today in connection with the death of Boerner, whose mutilated body was found in his home yesterday by a son.

Boerner, a native of Germany, came to Mobile 27 years ago from Natrona, Pa. He had been separated from his wife and lived alone in a house two doors away from the house where his wife lived with their 15-year-old son, Arthur P. Boerner.

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE OF JAPAN VISITS U. S.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The "Florence Nightingale of Japan"—Miss Iyo Araki, who won fame during the earthquake four years ago in her native land—has arrived here to study American nursing methods. Miss Araki will spend a year touring American hospitals. She is superintendent of nurses in St. Luke's International Hospital, Tokio.

Your Smile and Your Teeth

Anita Stewart

How Movies' $100,000 Smiles are Made Gleaming White

MODERN dental science now has found a way that restores "off-color" teeth to clearness, that gives toneless gums a healthy coral tint.

Famous movie stars use this way before going on a scene. That's why movie smiles glisten so. Leading dentists urge it widely. For it protects the teeth and firms tender gums.

It is called Pepsodent—a new-type tooth paste that works by removing the dingy film coat from teeth that old-time dentifrices did not clear off successfully. That's why brushing has failed you.

Run your tongue across your teeth and you'll feel that film. A slippery coating that absorbs discolorations and keeps your teeth off color, that breeds bacteria and invites tooth decay, gum troubles and pyorrhea.

Remove it and you will be amazed at what you see. Discard old ways now. Get Pepsodent at any drug store. Or send coupon for 10-day tube to try.

EXILED BISHOPS WILL NOT BOW TO MEXICO

By Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The Catholic bishops of Mexico, now in exile, wish to return to their native land, but they will make no sacrifice of "honor or principle" to accomplish that end, the Rt. Rev. Pascual Diaz, of Tobasco, secretary of the bishops of Mexico, has declared.

Bishop Diaz is attending the conference of bishops meeting here at Catholic University.

He said:

"The bishops stand as they have stood from the beginning, for the principle of religious liberty, for the right of the church of Christ to live and function as the church.

"Naturally as lovers of our native land we wish to return to her, and we would do all we can to return except to make any sacrifice of her home and honor."

When NESTLÉ'S flew to the North Pole

Suddenly the world was amazed! An airplane had reached the North Pole.

On board, as part of the emergency ration, and vital in case of a forced landing, was Nestlé's Milk Chocolate. And even when it was necessary to lighten the cargo, to discard every needless ounce, Nestlé's was retained.

Nestlé's Milk Chocolate is so rich in concentrated energy, so nourishing and appetizing, that the commander of the Byrd Arctic Expedition considered it a necessity.

Head of the Jerome Family Returns Home After Nine-year Absence

What Has Gone Before

SALLY JEROME, pretty and clever, is the prop and mainstay of her family, which consists of MRS. JEROME, the twins, BEAU and MILLIE, and Sally herself. Mrs. Jerome enjoys poor health, so Sally does the housework mornings and office work for MR. PEEVEY down town afternoons. In the flat below the Jeromes lives TED SLOAN, an automobile salesman, who wants Sally to marry him and keep on working. But the only man who interests her is JOHN NYE, whose real estate office is across the hall from Mr. Peevey's. Nye hires Millie as his secretary and becomes blindly infatuated with her, making her expensive gifts, etc. But Millie confesses that while she likes Nye a very great deal, she really prefers a salesman named DAVIDSON. Millie goes to the hospital for an operation, and Mrs. Jerome sends for her husband. In the meantime Millie begins to get better in the expensive, flower-filled room that John Nye provides for her. She will not see him, but asks to see Davidson, who has developed a passion for Sally. Sally is working mornings for John Nye to hold Millie's job for her and asks Davidson to stay away from the office. One night when she goes to ask Beau and Mabel to meet Mr. Jerome at the station and bring him to the flat, they announce their intention of giving up their own furnished flat and coming back to live with the family. Sally worries about it.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

WHEREUPON Mabel marched into the bedroom to take off her cold cream and put on her makeup, and Sally began to peel onions for the hamburger steak.

It was 8:30 when the three of them locked the door of the flat and started down the stairs to the car.

And then it was another 45 minutes before they started, for the little red car stubbornly refused to start and Beau had to "tinker" with it and prime it and heap all sorts of abuse upon it before it finally decided to run that evening.

Then it got away to a racing start that all but threw Sally through the windshield and made Mabel burst into a wild peal of laughter. Mabel adored any kind of excitement. If she had been a man she would have been a parachute jumper, she often said.

"Drop me at the flat, Beau," Sally said when they were well on their way. "I've got to fix Millie's room up for my father."

"And then after he goes we can move right in," bubbled Mabel. "Oh, boy, won't I be happy, though! No more dishes to wash! Hoop-la, says I!"

Sally was perfectly silent. Her eyes narrowed as she looked into the lamp-studded darkness of the streets. Curiously enough, the thought of the extra work they would make didn't worry her. It was the money question.

"You'll each have to give me $10 a week for your board," she said after a moment or two of deep thought. "I hate to talk about money right away, but that will have to be understood from the start."

"Oh, sure," answered Beau easily. Beau would promise anything.

"Why, of course," echoed Mabel, who would do the same thing.

"But to get them to actually pay it—that's going to be the rub," Sally said to herself, and unseen in the darkness her face was very grave and troubled.

CHAPTER XXXV.

AT half past ten that night, Sally had everything in readiness for her father's home-coming.

A lunch of cold baked ham and bread and butter was laid for him on the dining room table. The coffee-pot bubbled cheerily over a low fire on the stove in Sally's spotless kitchen.

She had carried all of Millie's fancy, frilly things out of the room that once had belonged to Beau, and stowed them away in the room that she and Millie had shared for so many years.

There was clean linen on the bed where her father was to sleep, and a match-box and ash-tray on the table beside it.

Thus, in her own small way, Sally had prepared a welcome for him.

Mrs. Jerome, too, had made preparations for his coming. She had waved her plentiful hair and put on her best dress of gray silk.

"It's five years old, but your father has never seen it," she twittered, while Sally hooked her into it. "Dear me, I hope he won't find me too changed. . . . But, so far as that goes, he'll be nine years older, himself."

Sally could remember her father only dimly. Her most vivid recollection of him was of an afternoon when he had taken her to the circus.

She had been only 7 years old at the time, but she still could remember how she had clung to him with her hot, damp little hand, in terror, when the lion had roared—and how he had bought her peanuts and popcorn and the most beautiful pink shiny yellow straw in it.

And she could remember that he had worn a blue suit and a straw hat with a colored band around it, and had laughed a great deal and held her high on his shoulder as he pushed his way through the crowd after the circus.

It was that memory of him that she had held and loved for 13 years, and she still expected him to be young and gay and strong.

"I can hardly wait to see him," she said when she and her mother sat waiting for him in the sitting room. "Wouldn't it be nice if he decided to stay with us and never go away again?"

Mrs. Jerome, still pink and fluttering, did not answer.

"That reminds be," Sally went on, carrying the begonia from the dining room to the center of the library table against the back wall of the sitting room. "Beau and Mabel want to come home to live. They say they just can't keep up a place of their own, and Mabel doesn't know how to cook and she's too tired after a day in the office to look after a home—"

"Tired? What makes her tired, I'd like to know!" cried Mrs. Jerome, indignantly. "What does she do but sit at a typewriter and move her fingers all day? That's not work. That's play."

Mrs. Jerome had never touched a typewriter in her life, but she was quite sure that to run one was child's play—and she often said so.

"It would be nice to have Beau at home again, though," she added, wistfully. "I'd almost put up with Mabel just to have him around again." She adored Beau as a mother always adores her only son. In her eyes he was perfect—a knight, a gentleman, and a young god. He could do no wrong.

"I don't know how it will work out," Sally told her. "They're going to mean a lot of extra work—"

"Oh, the work will take care of itself," replied Mrs. Jerome, easily. She had always let work do that very thing. Work had been the least of her troubles.

"They'll have to pay their board, too!" Sally declared firmly. "And right on the dot, too, every Saturday night. Otherwise we may just as well pack up and move right into the poor house now!"

Mrs. Jerome looked reproachfully at her with large, round, blinking eyes. "Sally, you talk as if you didn't want your brother here at home," she said sadly. "You talk as if he weren't welcome here."

Then she started up from her arm chair and looked out of the window. "Here they are!" she cried, and the sound of a chugging motor came faintly up from the street.

There were slow footsteps on the stairs outside, and Sally's father came walking into her life.

He was not at all like the father she remembered. There was nothing to even suggest that father.

There was nothing gay and strong and young about him now. He was dressed in a gray suit, and his eyes and hair were gray, too. He was not nearly so tall as Beau, who towered behind him. And he was quiet—almost timid—in his manner.

"Clara Margaretta," he said softly, and actually held out his hand to the woman who had been his wife for almost a quarter of a century. There was no affection—and no lingering resentment—in his manner to her. He was, as the sharp-tongued Mabel remarked later, as polite as a floorwalker.

She winked now at Sally, and shifted her tongue from one cheek

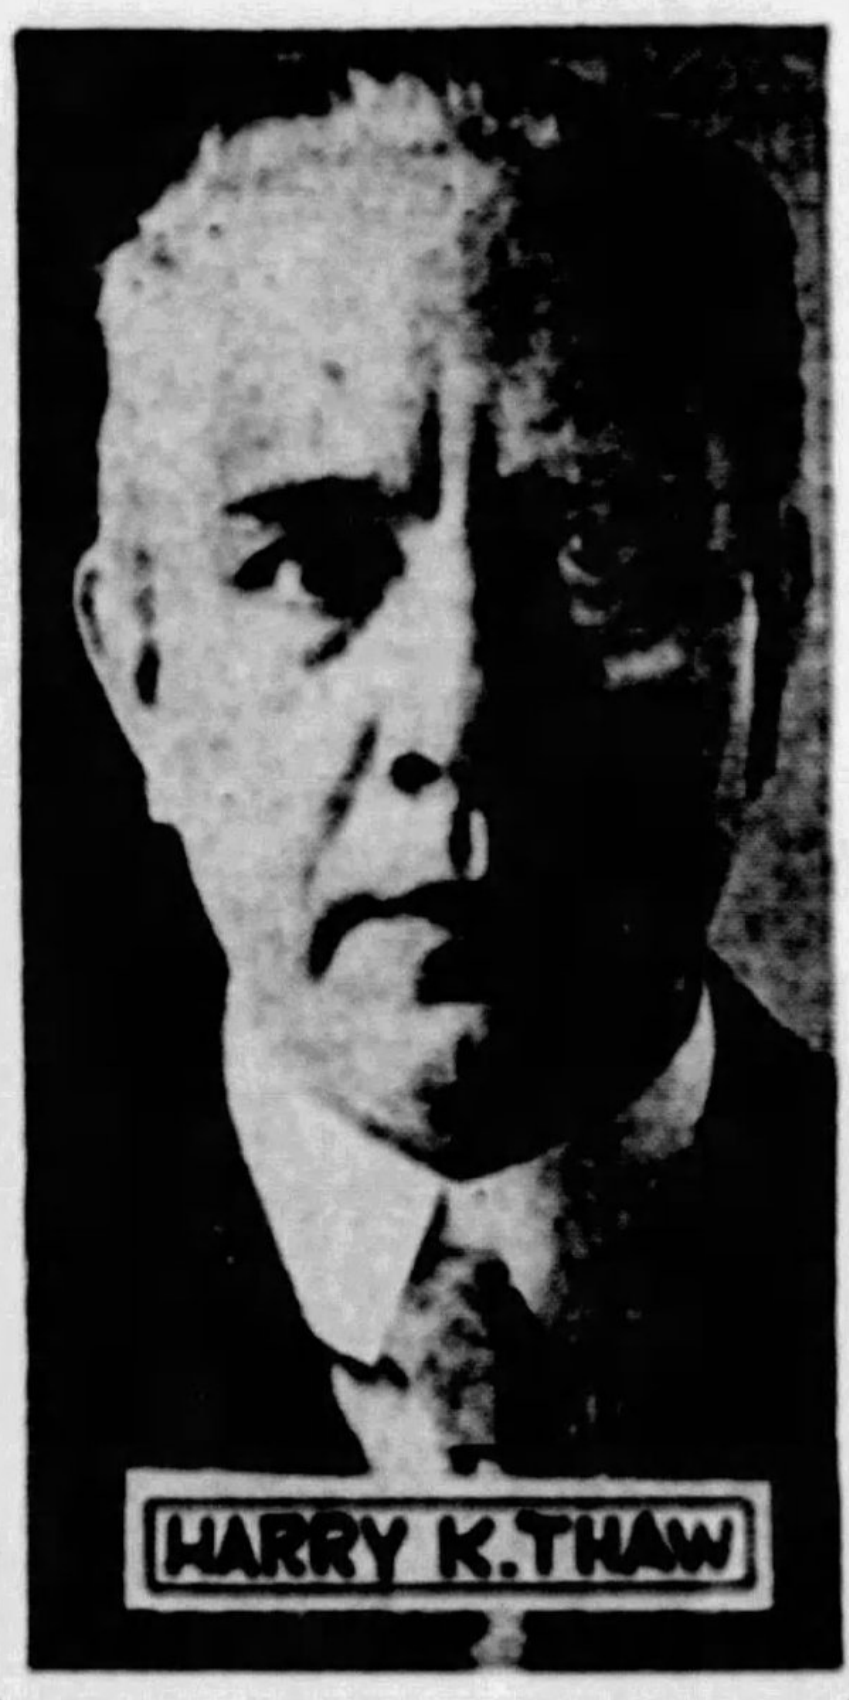
RUSSELL THAW -:- WORKS AS LIFEGUARD -:- FOR $25 A WEEK

EVELYN NESBIT

RUSSELL THAW

ON THE BEACH



GOING TO SCHOOL

Russell Thaw, 17 this year, practically out of the public eye since the accusation directed at him as a hotel "deadbeat" in Chicago, June, 1926, is a lifeguard at Oug Beach, N. Y. A recent photo shows him to the left in a pose of worried nonchalance. Above is Evelyn Nesbit, owner of the Evelyn Nesbit Club, Atlantic City, his mother. He plans to go to Princeton Prep School in the fall.

SAVES EARNINGS

Russell, in street garb, on the beach with Miss Flossie Mason, a friend, is shown to the lower left. Above is his father, Harry K. Thaw, Pittsburgh, and to the right is Russell. Of his $25 each week, he saves part of his earnings, he says. "It's been a lot of fun," he said. "I'm going to do it next year, too. How many lives have I saved? Oh, six, seven, or eight."

WOODSIDE CASE TO BE HEARD SEPT. 26

Arguments will be heard in a number of homicide cases when the Pennsylvania Supreme Court meets in Pittsburgh, Monday, September 26.

Appeals to be heard will include cases emanating from Armstrong, Clarion, Fayette, Forest, Jefferson, Mercer, Somerset, Venango, Westmoreland and Allegheny counties.

The appeal taken in the case of Robert G. Woodside, candidate for controller on the Republican ticket, and upon whom a fight is being made by Attorney Frank C. McGirr, representing several clients, will be taken up first. McGirr says that Woodside is not eligible to serve or to be elected before January 4, 1928, which would be two years following the time he left the office of sheriff.

The court also will consider a number of appeals taken in workmen's compensation cases.

RESTAURANT FIRE CAUSES LITTLE LOSS

Burning grease in the kitchen of the Washington restaurant, 206 Smithfield street, this morning caused damage estimated at about $10. Firemen from No. 1 Engine Company, summoned by telephone, extinguished the flames.

HABEAS CORPUS FREES BALDWIN TWP. FARMER

Wenzel Paulik, a farmer of Baldwin township, committed to jail in default of bail for court on a charge of larceny by bailee, August 24, was released on a writ of habeas corpus yesterday by Judge Joseph M. Swearingen.

LOVE NOTES OF MINISTER FOUND

ENID, Okla., Sept. 15.—(AP.)—Held without charge for a week during investigation of the death of Mary Jane Bailey, 18-year-old minister's daughter, Mary Atkinson, nurse who attended the girl, today waited action by County Attorney Dan Mitchell, who announced he would file a charge of murder against her.

A pathological report showing poison in the viscera of the Bailey girl and discovery of a drug in a hypodermic syringe of a type not used at the hospital where the girl died, brought announcement from the county attorney that he would prosecute the 26-year-old nurse.

Miss Atkinson, described by the Rev. Charles Bailey, Episcopal pastor and father of the dead girl, as a friend living with the family for years, has repeatedly denied any knowledge of mysterious events leading up to the girl's death, or of similar circumstances in the fatal illness of the pastor's wife.

Mrs. Bailey died about three weeks ago, shortly before Mary Jane and four other Bailey children became ill. All showed symptoms of ptomaine poison, physicians said.

In her denial, Miss Atkinson explained that poison found in her room was procured when she was a student nurse at Chicago in 1926. She said it was used as medicine for a sister.

Mitchell said he would base his case on the discovery of three hypodermic syringes of the type found at the hospital in the nurse's room.

County authorities also had several letters written by the Rev. Mr. Bailey to Miss Atkinson. The pastor described them as "letters of sympathy." He declared they were similar to many he had prepared for members of his church. Asked as to her alleged professed love for the pastor, Miss Atkinson said she admired him because of his kindness to others and that he was like a father to her.

WILL OF FOSTER M'CUNE GIVES ESTATE TO WIDOW

J. Foster McCune in his will disposes of an estate valued at $25,000 to his widow and son. Jacob Hoffer, late of Plum township, leaves an estate of $18,000 to his wife, Philipine Hoffer. The will of Rosie A. Yost, late of North Braddock, disposes of an estate valued at $37,500 to her sons. In a will written on a piece of ordinary note paper, J. Ellis Johnston, late of McKeesport, bequeaths a $5,000 estate to his wife, Theresa. Jacob Hoffman, widower, of Crescent township, left an estate of $14,500 to members of his family.

Glad She Hit Teacher, Girl Athlete Says

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Sept. 15.—(AP.)—Although it cost her $100, Miss Ruth Steiner, 18, former Morrisville High School athlete, is not sorry she assaulted her science teacher, Miss Mary Bones, 28. Miss Steiner admitted she struck the teacher, but said Miss Bones pushed her first.

"Are you sorry you did this?" Judge William C. Ryan asked the girl yesterday when she was brought before him for sentence after having been found guilty by a jury.

"No, sir," answered the girl.

"Do you realize I can send you to prison for this?" asked the judge.

The girl did not answer.

"Do you care whether I send you to prison?" asked the judge.

"Why certainly," Miss Steiner replied.

"Well, the only reason I will not is because of your sex and age," Judge Ryan said. "There is nothing I can say that will impress you evidently."

The girl's father paid the fine and costs.

Miss Steiner, a senior and captain of the girls' basketball team until her dismissal from school for insubordination, said Miss Bones was "always sneering at her" and was "responsible for her trouble at the school." She contended Miss Bones refused to permit a boy to apologize for an offending remark he had made to her.

SUE HOST FOR $5,000 AFTER AUTO KILLS CHILD

Suit for 5,000 has been filed bp Nick and Barbara Staresnic against their host, Nick Jaketic, as the result of an auto accident on the Sharpsburg road, O'Hara township, June 29, last. Barbara Staresnic, 7 months, was killed when the auto overturned.

GIRL FLIER TO BRAVE PERILS OF ATLANTIC

ROOSEVELT FIELD, MINEOLA, N. Y., Sept. 15.—(INS.)—In spite of the disasters which have attended recent attempts to cross the Atlantic Ocean in airplanes, Miss Ruth Elder, 23-year-old aviatrix, today was completing plans for a hop to Paris in the Stinson-Detroiter monoplane American Girl.

Miss Elder and her co-pilot, Capt. George Haldeman, arrived here last evening from Wheeling, W. Va., in the plane. Although she had manipulated the controls during three-quarters of the 420-mile flight, Miss Elder showed no signs of fatigue.

"We plan to start," the aviatrix said, "within two or three days if weather permits." Present plans call for the hop-off to take place early Sunday morning if favorable weather reports are received.

Wheeling business men who are backing the flight are now opposed to it in view of the recent disasters and have advised Miss Elder not to attempt the transatlantic hop, but she is determined to be in Paris within a week. She has great faith in Haldeman and the plane and also in the white buddha, a mystic Chinese symbol which she carries. The charm is supposed to insure long life.

POLICE ASKED TO HUNT GIRL BELIEVED ELOPER

The missing persons bureau was asked to aid in a search for Dorothy White, 16 who disappeared from her home, 17 Plush way, North Side, yesterday. Investigation led to a belief that the girl had eloped.

TEN CHARLES ST. PROPERTIES SOLD

A row of 10 frame houses on a lot 100x160 feet in Charles street, Twenty-sixth Ward, has been sold by David Teitelbaum to Israel Marcus at private terms. Mr. Marcus deeded in part payment 67½x200 feet on the north side of Main street, Sharpsburg. The later property is improved with a brick dwelling.

A new brick residence at 6951 Reynolds street, Fourteenth Ward, has been sold for John A. Kapp, Jr., and Harry E. Kapp to Raymond W. Neyhart for a consideration of $27,500. The lot is 42x125 feet. The buyer will occupy the property as a home. L. W. Monteverde of the Real Estate Company of Pittsburgh closed the deal.

Charles S. Shroup has sold to John Quinten an improved property in McClure avenue, Swissvale, lot 35x100 feet, for $15,500.

Foundations for two new downtown buildings are included in the building permit applications today. Plans were submitted for foundation work for the new Hotel Pittsburgher, the project of A. W. Mellon, at 428 Diamond street. The preliminary details will cost $30,000.

The American State Bank and Trust Company applied for a permit for the foundation of its building, excavation for which is now going on at the southeast corner of Grant street and Sixth avenue. The foundation will cost $25,000.

Other permit applications filed included:

Fourteenth Ward—H. B. Smith, brick and tile dwelling, 1233 Bellrock street, $16,000.

Twenty-seventh Ward—E. H. Stumpf, store and dwelling, 261 Clearview road, $16,000. Andrew Stossell, brick dwelling, 1251 Hodgkiss street, $5,500.

Nineteenth Ward—C. F. Halleck, brick dwelling and garage, 452-54 Halleck street, $5,500.

Sixteenth Ward—E. H. Stumpf, stone dwelling, 1900 Arlington avenue, $6,500.

TWO ARRESTED IN DRY RAID

Two Carnegie residents were arrested last night by prohibition agents after they had seized liquor and equipment for manufacturing bootleg whisky. They are John Mentes, who occupies a three-story brick building at 8 Third street, Carnegie, and Max Miller, saloonkeeper, 12 Third street. The former was released on his own recognizance on a plea that he was ill, while Miller was held under $1,000 bond for court trial.

HOUSTON URGES ELECTION OF R. W. MARTIN TO BENCH

Attorney J. Garfield Houston, who recently withdrew as a judicial candidate, today urged the election of Judge Richard W. Martin to the bench of the Court of Common Pleas.

Addressing a noon-day meeting in Judge Martin's campaign headquarters, Attorney Houston attacked slate-making, recalled the primary law and explained the significance of the Allegheny county bar vote in naming Judge Martin first of its choices for the bench.

MAY COMPLETE PORCH; INJUNCTION DISMISSED

Attorney Leonard A. Mazer may complete the porch, which he started to attach to his residence at 2617 Beechview avenue. Judge George V. Moore today dismissed the temporary injunction granted Maurice S. Stone on August 2. The court held that Stone was lax in making his demand that Mazer cease the work, which Stone alleged was in violation of the 10-foot building line restriction.

2 HURT IN CRASH OF MAIL TRUCK AND TAXI

George Jankura, 25, of 204 Hobart street, Knoxville, and E. R. Smith, 25, of Steel Products Company, Union Trust Building, were injured early this morning when the taxicab in which they were riding collided with a United States mail truck at Third avenue and Ferry street.

Jankura is in the Allegheny General Hospital with a broken leg. Smith, after receiving treatment for cuts on the face, was taken home. The left side of the cab was crushed. The driver, N. Simpson of 1022 Coe street, Braddock, was arrested and later released on bond.

John Margey, 8, of 7120 Elsie street, is in a serious condition in St. Joseph's Hospital after being struck by an automobile at Spring and Eleanor streets last night. The auto was driven by Ernest E. Saurland, 305 Renne street, who was arrested, charged with reckless driving.

Crushed between a parked car and one which he was cranking in East Ohio street, Ben Splicha, 37, of 1464 High street, is dead in his home today. Splicha had left his machine in Ohio street yesterday. During his absence someone moved the car and left it in gear. Unaware that it was in gear, Splicha attempted to crank it. He was removed to Allegheny General Hospital, where he died last night.

Japan's Favorite Beverage

SAKE, the favorite Japanese beverage, is distilled from r and has a pleasantly exhilarating effect.

ELINOR GLYN tells the TRUTH about

Expediency

I HAVE thought deeply what this "X-ingredient" in the make up of the truly successful man can be—and I have come to the conclusion that it is a pronounced sense of expediency. Now look up in any dictionary for the exact signification of the word "expediency" and you will get what I mean. It is that appreciation of what the essentials in any situation are which would insure achievement, coupled with the necessary ruthlessness to inforce their observance.

ELINOR GLYN

Take a highly colored example. The person with the expediency sense—the X-ingredient—might have a great aim in view which would be benefited by the cutting down of an old cedar at Lebanon—a thing of beauty—and enveloped in the sentimental admiration of himself and all the neighbors. The man without this sense would allow his judgment to be swayed by his own emotion and the feelings of his friends. He would leave the tree, and perhaps militate, by so doing, against the accomplishment of his aim, which could have benefited millions of people.

The man with the expediency sense—the X-ingredient—would instantly balance up which course of action would really prove the wisest in the end, and would then unhesitatingly and unswervingly have pursued the determined course.

This was Lincoln's attitude all through the darkest days of the Civil War. This is the course of all great statesmen and great generals, great captains of industry and great leaders of men—if they hold their positions. There is an ephemeral success which can be immense, but merely a flash in the pan. But every man who achieves and retains command of other human beings and events must possess the X-ingredient. He must use reason and not permit himself personal equation. He must recognize Expediency. So let us call this marvelous thing "Ex." And please remember that it does not mean cruelty or ruthlessness for ruthlessness' sake. It does not mean an exhibition of personal power for vanity's sake. It means vision and judgment and courage, which others can resent and rebel against—can abuse and fight with, but which invariably wins the game for them and the fortunate possessor of this amazing quality. Remember the word—"Ex."

This work of wisdom is appealing more and more to modern scholars. Certainly it is filled with materials of the greatest interest to all humanity. Who can doubt the good sense of the particular proverb I have quoted?

DR. COPELAND

These articles of mine are written with a view to the prevention of illness. They are not intended to assist you in getting well from your ailment, whatever it is. On the contrary, they are intended to advise you how to live so you won't get sick.

If you are really sick, or think you are, you should go to your doctor. If you have no doctor, you should select one.

I should not care to live where there is no good physician. His presence is essential to our welfare.

There are eight things one should know about a place before selecting it to be the permanent home. There should be the certainty of having:

1. Good water.
2. Pure milk.
3. Sewage and waste disposal.
4. Accredited schools.
5. The church of your choice.
6. Convenient transportation.
7. Orderly government.
8. A first-class physician.

It is safe to locate in any community in the world if it measures up to this standard. You can build your home there because it will be placed on a substantial foundation of health and morals.

Your doctor must be your friend. If he is worthy his high calling, he is worthy of your friendship and you should be proud to have his.

Next to your minister, your priest, or your rabbi, he should have your confidence. Indeed, he can be, and often is, both doctor and priest. No secrets should be kept from him. He should have full knowledge of your past follies, mistakes and weaknesses.

Frankness on your part may spare you hours of worry and days of suffering. It may save your life.

So chose your doctor. Then when he has time to spare tell him all about yourself. When illness comes or is suspected, call him at once. He will know exactly what to do without delay.

Answers to Health Queries

J. M. S. Q. How can the ankles be reduced? The legs are thick just above the ankles in the back.

2. How can nasal catarrh be remedied?

A.—If the trouble is due to fat, exercise and massage will help reduce the ankles; if due to muscle formation, nothing can be done. Reducing in a general way may be helpful. For further particulars, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

2.—This requires special attention. A nose and throat spray is often helpful. For details send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

E. S. Q.—What do you advise for high blood pressure?

A.—You should correct your diet and avoid constipation. For full particulars, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

M. L. H. Q.—What can I do for poor circulation? Different parts of my body get numb, and my feet are usually cold.

A.—This condition may be overcome by building up your general health. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

C. R. Q.—What is the relative food value of rice, and what of its digestive qualities?

2.—Is drinking milk and eating meat at the same meal proper according to dietary laws?

A.—Rice is a starchy food and has great food value. If properly cooked, it should be easily digested. When rice is taken it is unnecessary to include potatoes in the meal.

2.—Both contain protein. Depends upon the amount of each consumed. As a rule it is not wise to include too much protein in the diet.

What's the Answer?

1. What is the new capital of Turkey?
2. When did we first begin to use umbrellas in the United States?
3. What makes the moon shine?
4. Why do the cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church wear red hats?
5. What is the distance around the earth on the surface?
6. What patriotic air is sung in 12 countries?
7. Who exclaimed, on his deathbed, "The South! The South! God knows what will become of her!"
8. Where was the first Christian marriage ceremony performed in America?
9. What is the largest active volcano in the world?
10. Who is Sir Austen Chamberlain?

The answers to these questions may be found in tomorrow's paper.

Here are the answers to yesterday's questions.

1. Sir Francis Drake was the first English commander to see the Pacific. He reached it in 1572 or 1573.
2. The original Robinson Crusoe was a man named Alexander Selkirk, who was left on his island in 1704.
3. We tan when we are exposed to the sun because some of the living cells in the skin have the duty of making dark colored substances which absorb the sunlight and keep it out just as a black cloth would do.
4. Christ was born in 4 B. C., according to our reckoning.
5. King Canute (994-1035) is said to have commanded the sea to retire, to show that no earthly ruler can command the forces of nature.
6. Contrary to common belief, in Roman gladiatorial contests, the signal "thumbs down" meant life, "thumbs up" meant death.
7. Absalom was the rebellious son of David.
8. On a perfect musical instrument A flat and G sharp are not the same note, although they are on the piano.
9. The first day of the Twentieth Century was January 1, 1901, not January 1, 1900.

Horoscope

Friday, September 16

GOOD and evil planetary influences contend today, according to astrology.

There is a fairly promising sign for merchants and manufacturers who should be wise in making decisions under this sway.

Business should be encouraging and profit is foretold from exact organization and wide co-operation.

While there is a sign read as presaging bitter commercial competition from foreign nations, the United States will develop new trade, especially in South America.

Now Russia comes under a direction of the stars making for some sort of profit to this country through certain imports and exports.

Education continues under the most stimulating and expansive influences. Through its enterprise the nations of the world are to be brought closer together.

This is not an auspicious rule for labor and especially for that which is connected with mines. Difficulties may be expected.

Engineers, contractors and all who are interested in building of any sort will benefit at this time.

Advertising is still subject to the most favorable sway, which promises great gains and corresponding profit.

Owing to the baleful effect of the total eclipse of the sun last June, Paris, Rome, Belgrade and Warsaw are to be scenes of varied troubles, it is prophesied.

For the winter, after the partial eclipse of December 24, loss of life by war or by some great convulsion of nation is foretold for Europe.

The seers again prophesy warlike preparations abroad that will be of special interest to the United States.

Persons whose birthdate it is may have a few unusual anxieties, but otherwise the year will be satisfactory.

Children born on this day probably will be exceedingly determined and able to cope with all sorts of difficulties.

Dorothy Dix Says:

Write Cheerfully, Write Briefly, Write Nothing You'd Be Ashamed to Have Read Aloud, and You Won't Be Sorry

THE complaint is frequently made that the art of letter-writing is a lost art, and the assertion is true. In our grandparents' time the ability to write a graceful and charming letter was not only the hallmark of breeding but the quintessence of polite education.

DOROTHY DIX

Letter-writing today, however, has sadly fallen from its high estate. From being an elegant accomplishment it has passed into a drudgery that we hire some one to perform for us if we can. The wire has superseded the pen. We telephone or telegraph our congratulations, our condolences, our news, even our love missives, until it looks as if we might cease writing altogether and the letter become as extinct as the dodo.

This is a pity, for letter-writing is still an art worth following, and none of us is so dull as not to recognize the charm of a beautiful and well-written letter. In society the ability to write such an epistle is its own letter of credit that every one honors at sight, while in business it forms one of the most valuable assets a man or woman can possess.

Of course, no one can teach another person just how to write a letter any more than he can teach him or her how to talk. That must depend on circumstances and be the result of one's own spontaneous thought and reflect one's own personality. But there are some ways of not writing a letter to which the attention of the young may be profitably called.

THE first is the unpardonable rudeness of not answering questions. This is the pet, particular sin of the woman correspondent who rarely pays her correspondent the courtesy to read over the letter which she is answering, or even to remember what it was about.

You may write to a woman and ask questions in which you are vitally interested and which are of the greatest moment to you, and she will reply with 12 pages criss-crossed until it is like a Chinese puzzle without ever alluding in the remotest manner to the things you wrote to her about and which you wish to know.

Another bit of counsel that the letter-writer may well take to heart is never to mail a letter that has been written in an emotional moment until you have kept it in cold storage for 24 hours. You can put a lot of pep into a letter that you write when you are angry that you will miss if you wait until you cool off, but you will save yourself many a lifelong regret.

All of us say things we do not mean, and that hurt and wound when we lose our tempers, but the spoken word is a pellet of dough compared to the written sentence. That is a steel bullet that pierces the heart and slays friendship and affection.

THE hot words, the harsh criticisms, the bitter accusations spoken when blood was up, will be forgiven and forgotten, but the letter stands unexcused by the anger of the moment, and often and often the flimsy paper on which it is written outlives the hand that penned it and keeps the memory of even the dead surcharged with bitterness.

Equally dangerous is the tendency to be sentimental in letters. Nearly every woman is full of bottled-up poetry and sentimentality, and she is assailed beyond resistance by the temptation to make a fool of herself when she sits down before a quire of clean, white paper with a pen in her hand.

Then it is that she writes things of yearning, and thrills, and dark hectic flushes that she wouldn't have the nerve to say to any human being's face and that she would blush to read the next day.

Nor are women alone in this tendency to slop-over in letters, as is witnessed by the idiotic love letters written by otherwise intelligent men which form Exhibit A in most divorce and breach-of-promise cases. A safe rule to go by when you feel like dropping into poetry in a letter is never to write anything that you would not be willing to hear read aloud by the cold and unsympathetic attorney for the prosecution. For fool endearment never seems so foolish as when it is written out in a letter.

IF THE art of letter-writing should, indeed, become a lost art, there is one thing that would reconcile us to it, and that is the amount of folly it would save young girls from committing. Any one who has sons or brothers, or is the confidant of young men, must almost feel that it is a mistake to teach girls how to write when they peruse the reams of gush, the passionate endearments and the protestations of undying affection which young women do not hesitate to pour out on paper to any youth for whom they have a passing fancy.

It is no justification of these letters to say that the girls who write them don't mean them and that they write sentiment just as they talk sentiment because they don't know anything else with which to fill up the time and space. The bald fact remains that they are written and that they never should have been written.

Of course, every girl deludes herself with the false belief that her letters are sacred and meet no eye but the one for whom they are penned. Never was there a greater mistake. The average youth regards his mash letters as the Indian does the scalps at his belt, as visible proofs of his prowess.

And in the few cases where a man is honorable enough not to show his letters from girls he is careless and leaves them around in office desks, in bureaus and old coat pockets for prying office boys and curious housegirls to read at pleasure.

FINALLY, don't write depressing letters. Don't take the lamentations of Jeremiah as a model for your communications to your family and friends. All of us have correspondents whose letters we dread to open because they are a record of everybody who is sick, or dead, or who has gone broke, or had some misfortune, and the writer throws in gobs of gloom on her behalf until we are ready to think that everything has gone blooey in this miserable veil of tears. If we were face to face with the individual, we would know this pessimism was merely a passing mood, but the letter seems final, desperate, fraught with despair and woe.

In a word, write cheerfully, write briefly, write gossiply. Never tell a secret in a letter or write anything you wouldn't be willing to have your worst enemy read. And if you write a poor hand, for heaven sake use the typewriter!

Hawaiian Pickles

Peel and slice 12 bananas, slice 12 onions thinly, add two cupfuls of fresh dates seeded and cut in small pieces, three-quarters of a cupful of molasses, two cupfuls of vinegar, one cupful of water, a teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of allspice, a half teaspoonful of ginger, and a half cupful of sugar. Cook gently for three hours, stirring frequently. Lift the solid ingredients with a skimmer to hot dry jars, boil the syrup up once then fill the jars to overflowing and seal. Tighten the covers as the pickle cools and label and store.

This way to get clothes whiter is so safe!

No scrubbing or boiling!

DROP those old-fashioned washday habits! Let this new way save you work—and save the clothes, too.

You don't need your washboard any more. You don't need to boil the wash unless you want to. You don't need any powders, bar soap, softeners, chips.

All you need is Rinso! Even in hard water, Rinso gives thick suds. Not big frothybubbles—but creamy, tight, soapy suds that swish through the fabric and loosen dirt and stains. All you need to do is rinse!

Clothes come out of the Rinso soaking whiter, brighter than you can rub them. Of course they last longer, this gentle way. And your hands aren't ruined by scrubbing.

So safe, too. That's why the makers of 30 leading washing machines highly endorse it.

Feel Stiff and Achy?

To Be Well the Kidneys Must Thoroughly Eliminate Waste Poisons From the Blood.

TO feel constantly lame and achy is often indication of improper elimination. The kidneys are the blood filters, and rid the blood of waste impurities.

Sluggish action, however, does not thoroughly cleanse the blood of poisonous waste and is apt to make one languid, tired and achy, with dull headaches, dizziness and often a nagging backache. A common warning of imperfect kidney action is scanty or burning excretions.

Assist the kidneys at such times with a stimulant diuretic. Since 1885 Doan's Pills have been winning friends the country over. Ask your neighbor!

When using "Wear-Ever" Fry Pan TURN FLAME MEDIUM until pan is THOROUGHLY HOT

Then TURN FLAME DOWN one half and place food in utensil. Do not increase flame to hurry cooking.

This is the right way and the economical way to cook with "Wear-Ever" Utensils.

The "Wear-Ever" ALUMINUM Fry Pan-Broiler

While this pan is excellent for all frying purposes, it is particularly ideal for broiling because its extra thick metal makes possible the complete searing of chops, steak, etc., which seals in the valuable juices so often lost in the ordinary broiling operations.

As soon as meat is seared on one side, turn over until other side is seared. Then, reduce flame one-half until food is done to your liking.

How much more delicious food is when broiled this way! The juices do not run out but are sealed in—all the nutritive value is preserved and the full natural flavor retained.

The "Wear-Ever" Fry Pan and Broiler will make your favorite foods taste better—chops, steak, fish, chicken, sweetbreads and even ham and eggs. Get one today and use it tonight! Note the extra depth and heaviness of the pan. Remember—this special price offer is only for a limited time.

Head of the Jerome Family Returns Home After Nine-year Absence

to the other. She was enjoying all this, hugely.

"Yes, papa," answered Mrs. Jerome, who had colored up like a girl, but had never moved from her place by the window. It was plain that she did not know how to greet this gray, middle-aged man who had been a forceful young husband when he had banged the door of that very flat violently behind him nine years before.

It was Sally who saved the day. She ran across the room and threw her arms around her father's shoulders and kissed his dry, wrinkled cheeks. She tried to keep remembering the day he had taken her to the circus.

"We're so glad you came!" she cried. "And there's some coffee for you! Where's your bag? Put it in Millie's room, Beau. Your old room, you know."

Talking and laughing, she got them all into the dining room and around the table. She poured coffee and passed food and did her best to get things going to break the ice.

But a pall seemed to have settled down over the house. Even Mabel's light laughter sounded mirthless, and Beau looked from his silent father to his silent mother with puzzled, questioning eyes, and hardly spoke.

At half past 11 he and Mabel went home in their temperamental car, and the rest of the family went to bed.

Sally kissed her father good night, but Mrs. Jerome did not. And when Sally tiptoed into her room a half hour later with her glass of warm milk she was sitting straight up in bed, staring into space.

"He's just like he used to be—hard and cold and mean," she said, as if she were talking to herself. "I'm sorry I sent for him. He took his time about getting here, anyway. And Millie doesn't need him now."

Then, with a sigh, she took her milk from Sally's hand and picked up her latest novel—"The Princess Dagomar"—from the table beside her wide, deep, soft bed.

"Well, thank goodness, I have you left, Sally," she said. "You'll never leave me, will you?"

Sally's kiss was a promise. "Not unless you want me to, dear," she answered.

The next morning Sally was up 5, like the little pig in the fairy tale.

For, since she had started working for John Nye, she had been doing her housework in the mornings and evenings—and this morning there was more work than usual.

She set the breakfast table for her father and mother. She filled the coffee pot and set the electric toaster on the sideboard, with the bread beside it under a clean napkin. She made ham sandwiches and rolled them in a damp cloth in the ice box.

"I'll bring home the things for supper tonight," she wrote on a slip of paper which she slid under the door of her mother's room, "so just get something cold for father's lunch. I've left some ham sandwiches in the ice box. If you go to the hospital with father, please take Millie's clean nightgowns to her. They are wrapped up in a newspaper on the table in my room. I'll be home at 6:30.

"SALLY."

But she was not at home at 6:30 that night.

For at 6 o'clock, just as she was leaving, John Nye poked his head in at the door of Mr. Peevey's little office and asked her to give him some extra time that night.

"I've a new salesman coming on in the morning, and I'd like to get some prospects lined up for him," he explained to her. "So, if you would go over some lists that I've made I'd be very—"

"Right away? Do you want me right away?" asked Sally, impolitely breaking in upon his sentence. She was beginning to strip off her jacket when he answered her.

"Better go and get something to eat first," he advised her. "I've a couple of hours' wor kpiled up in there." He jerked his head in the direction of his office.

"If I were Millie he'd be asking me out for something to eat," Sally thought, not bitterly, but with a kind of dull unhappiness. If she were blonde and clinging and baby-faced he wouldn't be treating her like an office machine instead of a flesh-and-blood girl who was in love with him.

"Not that I'd go with him, anyway. I wouldn't be disloyal to Millie," she told herself, as she crammed her hat down upon her hair once more.

"I'd ask you to go to dinner with me," John's voice surprised her, "but I had lunch late today and I'm not very hungry. So I thought I'd go right on with my work."

Sally went past him into the hall. "I'll be right back," she answered, with a tiny nod of her head. "In 15 minutes."

It was not until she reached the street, transformed by the lemon glow of October evening, that she remembered her mother and father at home, waiting for their supper.

She went into the first drug store that she came to and telephoned the flat. But there was no answer.

"They're probably still at the hospital," Sally decided, and hung up the receiver.

The drug store was one of those glorified shops that carry everything from aspirin tablets to sandwiches, served at a long, white counter.

Sally climbed up on one of the high stools and ordered a minced chicken sandwich. But when it came she could not eat. She was too filled with excitement, too eager to get back to John Nye's office.

And then, just as she was going out of the store, a happy thought struck her. She would take a couple of sandwiches to John Nye. . . . He had said that he was "not very hungry," but with a man that meant, usually, that he was very hungry indeed.

"I'll take a salmon-salad sandwich and a Swiss cheese sandwich with me, if you'll wrap them up," said Sally to the white-aproned soda clerk, and carried them out with her into hush of the downtown streets, always so quiet after the day's roar—as quiet, by comparison, as the hushed aisles of a great cathedral or a forest just before a storm. A quiet that is like the soft sound of the great city breathing a sigh after its day's work.

The air was filled with the gray-violet twilight of autumn now, and the shop windows were already lighted. Now fall and winter clothes were on display in them—hats of velvet and satin and felt. Dresses of heavy silk and dark glossy cloth. Shoes that were little masterpieces of leather. All the thousand and one things that every woman, at least, who cares how she looks—longs for inexpressibly.

Sally longed for them. For all her up-and-comingness and her hard-working life, she was 20, and lovely to look at. And she was in love, besides.

In one window was the prettiest dress she had ever seen—a yellow taffeta, trimmed with little blue-velvet bows.

Sally looked first at it and then at the purse in her hand. In one pocket of it 10 $1 bills were stuffed—all she had left of her week's salary.

"So much for dresses with blue bows," thought Sally, wistfully. "But I wish I had a new hat—tonight, especially."

She couldn't help it. She couldn't help wishing to look nice for John Nye—even though he belonged to Millie, she couldn't help it. For, after all, she was only human.

She pulled down her old hat over her starlike blue eyes and went on her way to him.

CHAPTER XXXVI.

A GREAT office building is a very silent and lonely place after working hours.

It seems to be shut off from all the rest of the world—like a tower of ivory in an enchanted forest.

The stillness in the Nye-Naylor building was so thick that it could be cut with a knife that night when Sally Jerome stepped out of the elevator at the top floor.

She started along the corridor, and her light feet made no sound on the marble floor.

Through the open door of John Nye's office she could see his dark head bent over some papers on his desk. But instead of turning in, she unlocked the door of Mr. Peevey's room and stepped inside.

On a shelf above his desk was his plate and a box of paper napkins. Sally took down the plate and laid the two sandwiches she had brought upon it, covering them with a clean paper napkin. Then she filled a glass with water from the cooler, and set it with the plate upon Mr. Peevey's Japanese tray.

John Nye did not raise his head as she walked into his office, carrying it in her hands. She laid it on his desk, shoving it gently towards him across the polished mahogany top.

"What's this?" he asked again, and looked up at her with startled eyes.

Sally tried to answer him, but the words tangled themselves up in her throat. She could feel her face flame and her hands began to shake and grow ice cold.

"Sandwiches!" she managed to blurt out at last, and then after another moment, "For you. You missed your dinner!" She wished with all her soul that the velvet-covered floor would open and swallow her quietly up, in that moment.

"I see," John answered in his deep, quiet voice.

And he seemed to see, too, that she was greatly embarrassed, for he stopped looking at her and picked up one of the sandwiches.

He bit into it. "Very good sandwich!" he said with appreciation. "And very nice of you to bring it to me. You were right—I was hungry."

Then he deliberately carried Mr. Peevey's lacquered tray over to the window sill and set it there. He finished his meal, standing there with his back to the room.

To Be Continued.

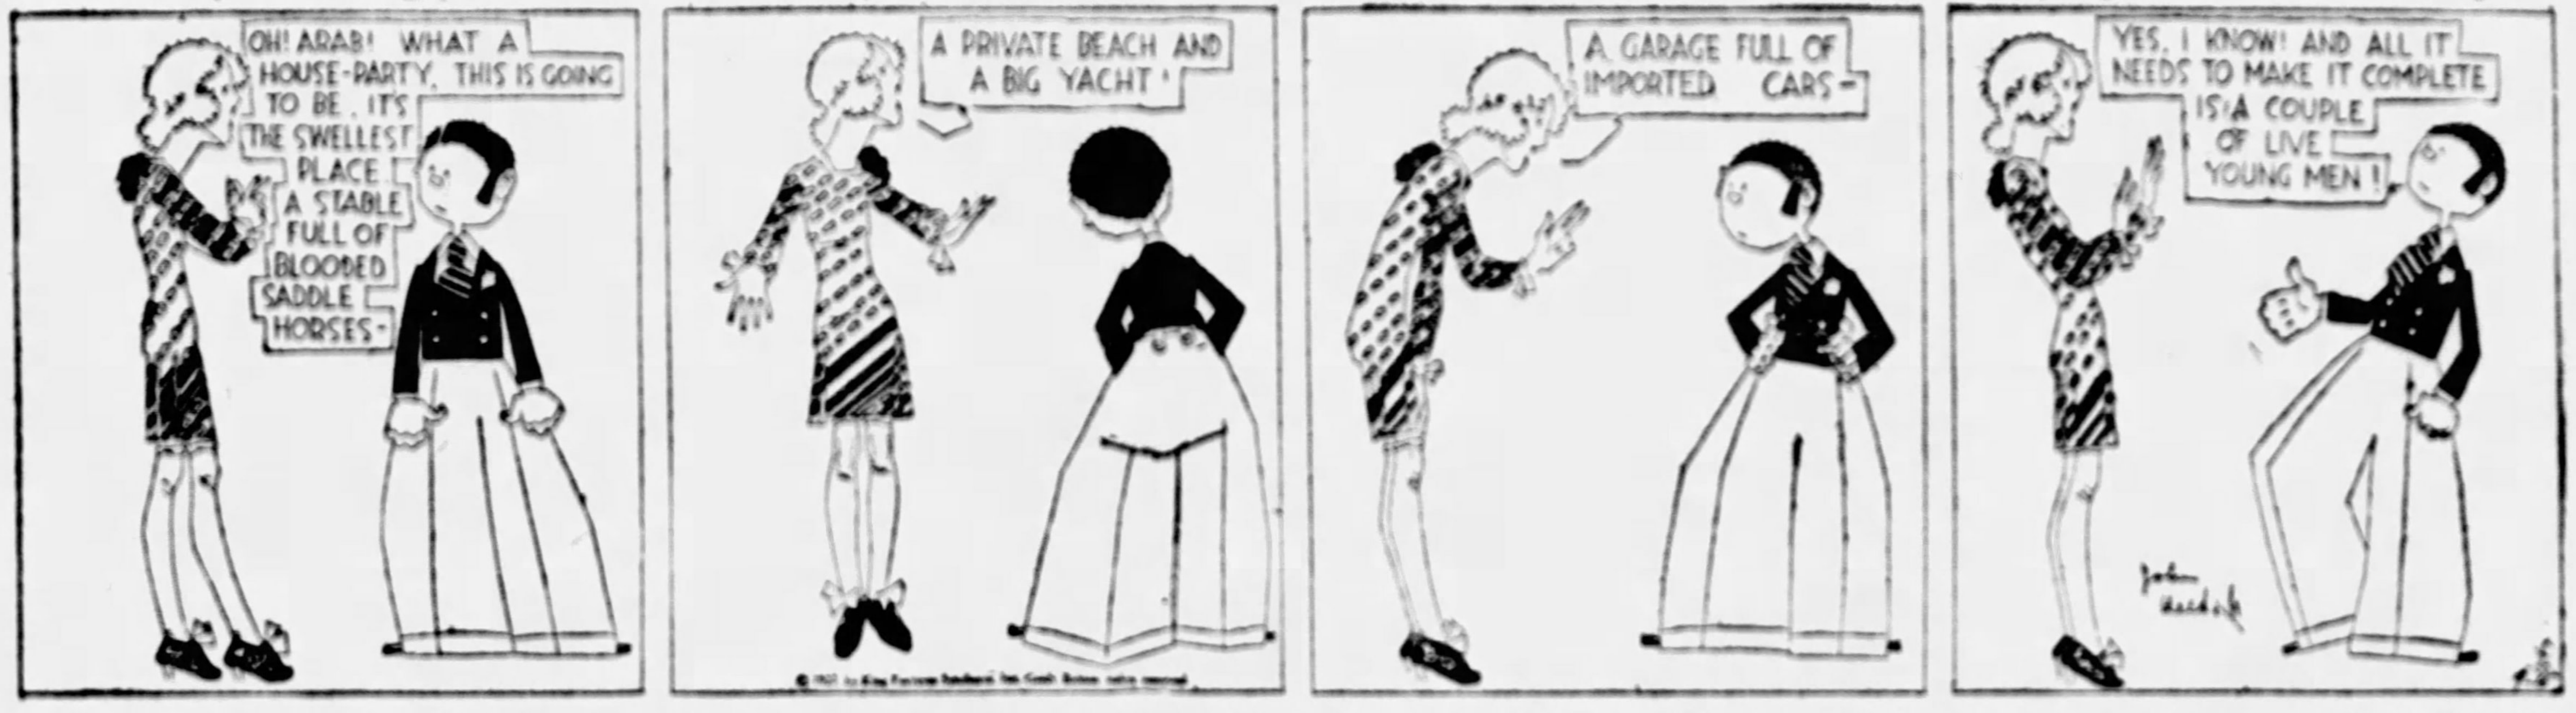
Merely Margy, An Awfully Sweet Girl

Story by Lloyd Mayer

By John Held, Jr.



OH! ARAB! WHAT A HOUSE-PARTY, THIS IS GOING TO BE... IT'S THE SWELLEST PLACE - A STABLE FULL OF BLOODED SADDLE HORSES -
A PRIVATE BEACH AND A BIG YACHT -
A GARAGE FULL OF IMPORTED CARS -
YES, I KNOW! AND ALL IT NEEDS TO MAKE IT COMPLETE IS A COUPLE OF LIVE YOUNG MEN!

"ACtually, my dear, the NERVE of this ARab is SIMply tiTANic, because you HONestly should have HEARD the reMARK he MADE to me about this HOUSE party I have been inVIted to at the McTAVish's! I mean it ACtually LAID me an EGG, no less, because it was so sort of TYPical of the GENus PIPsqueak, laBORiously SPEAKing—you know the type! Well, ANYways, you see I was sort of RAving ON to him about what a HEAVenly BRAWL it was going to be, because they HONestly have the most diVINE place you've ever SEEN, my dear—HEAPS of snappy CARS, a large-sized YACHT effect that you drink COCKtails on, and LOADS of the most aDORable SADdle horses that I simply CRAVE to beSTRIDE, and they practically NEVer have a house party that at LEAST two or THREE couples don't make a situAtion of it and come away enGAGED, no less, because there's this simply seRAPHic ROSE bower effect round this LARGE-sized LAWN that ev'rybody calls the PETting green—can you BEAR it, my dear? Well, ANYways, where WAS I? Oh, YES—that perVERted remark of ARab's! Well, when I had been deSCRIBing to him about all these deLECtable FEATures he said that all the party needed to make it comPLETE was a couple of LIVE young MEN, deLIB'rately inSINerating that I should invite he and NOIsy—can you BEAR it, my dear!"

Madge Admits Estrangement to Dicky's Mother

MOTHER GRAHAM wasted no time in preliminaries. As soon as the door of her room closed upon us she pointed to a chair near the window, took one facing it and said in a voice which she tried in vain to keep controlled but which trembled perceptibly:

"Margaret, what is the trouble between you and Richard?"

It was the tremulousness of her voice, betraying the weakness of age, the gradual decline of her physical strength, which smothered the irritation I naturally felt at so abrupt an onslaught upon the wall of reserve which I long ago built around my emotions. But I knew there was no use in trying to evade her question, so I answered quietly:

"We have had a serious estrangement, Mother, the reason for which I cannot tell you. For Junior's sake, because he needs both of us, we are agreeing to live in the same house and pretend that everything is going along as usual. But, of course, I knew it would be no use to try to deceive your keen eyes."

She bridled and a tiny flush of gratified vanity crept into her withered cheeck.

"I should hope not," she commented; then brusquely: "Go on."

"There is nothing more to tell you," I said gently, "except that Dicky and I are both—suffering—and if it is a possible thing to adjust our differences we shall do it—later. Just now—we cannot, so the best service you can do us is to go on as if you noticed nothing. Only—don't plan for us to be together any more than you can help. I think it is harder for Dicky than for me. Another thing—we are both equally to blame."

She rose from her chair excitedly.

"I never heard such balderdash," she began. Then with a searching look at me and a quick catch at her breath she walked over to me and put her hand upon my shoulder.

"I'll take that back," she said slowly, heavily. "Margaret, I have told you before something of my difficulties—with—Richard's father. Once we tried—an—experiment—like this, but the end was tragedy for me. It drove my husband into the arms of another woman."

Her hand went up to her throat as if something were choking her. I started to speak, but her eyes forbade me.

"I didn't want to know the reason for this," she went on slowly, "and you probably wouldn't tell me anyway. Of one thing I am sure. You are too generous when you say you are equally to blame. I know Richard. I knew his father. I have watched you. There are many little things in which you are to blame. You do not know how to manage him and you give in too much. In the big things, however, he is to blame—he is the offender. But—it is a risky experiment you are trying now, though, of course, you are the only one who can decide. But, oh, dear, oh, dear, you've been such a good daughter to me, Margaret, and I thought you and my boy were lastingly happy beneath all the surface bickering. Oh, dear, oh, dear."

It was an apparently strong, imperious woman who had begun the colloquy. It was a feeble, trembling, weeping old one who finished; and with an ache in my heart for the woman who had made things very difficult for me when I first married her son but who for years had been my firm if often captious ally, I gathered my husband's mother into my arms and wiped the tears from her eyes.

"You've been a good mother to me," I assured her. "Please don't take this to heart so much. I promise you that—"

I stopped aghast. What had I been about to say? This estrangement with Dicky was not a matter which could be settled with words or even deeds. It was a matter for my heart. At present I could feel no emotion for him. Until I could it would be mockery for me to promise anything.

I welcomed a soft knock at the door which prevented me from answering. Mary Harrison's voice came through the closed door.

"Are you in here, Auntie Madge? You're wanted on the telephone. I think they said it was a wireless."

MEDITATIONS of a MARRIED WOMAN

by HELEN ROWLAND

TRIVIAL, BUT TRUE

IF YOU could secure an annulment of your marriage on the grounds that you were not in a responsible or normal state of mind at the time most men would be carefree bachelors, tomorrow.

Nature has her little way of spreading things around equally, by making the most fascinating men marry the most nondescript women, the best men marry the most worthless women, and the brainiest men marry the dumbbells.

* * *

The average man regards his wife as a "property man," who should be able to produce anything from his silk hat to a can-opener, at a moment's notice, and is to blame for losing all the things he hides from himself.

HELEN ROWLAND

To a man, the charm and essence of a Summer romance are not security but novelty, not surety but immunity, not continuity but elasticity.

There are four things which are not possible and cannot exist; an egg which is half good, a woman who is slightly married, a man who is almost honest, and a lover who is partly faithful.

To a woman, the approval and admiration of men is sustenance and wine, but to a man, the admiration of women is only a little "relish," and their approval a foregone conclusion.

It is variety and uncertainty that makes the weather or a woman interesting; there wouldn't be much kick to life if both of them were monotonously pleasant all of the time.

Being married to a woman is about as thrilling to the average man as reading a daily chapter in a novel of which he knows the whole plot.

When a man goes about with a fatuous grin, declaring that "It's a pretty good old world!" it's a sign that he has either just gotten into a brand new love affair or just escaped from an old one.

To some men, marriage is mostly a state of chronic, intermittent or acute irritation. Business, blondes and baseball are the counter-irritants.

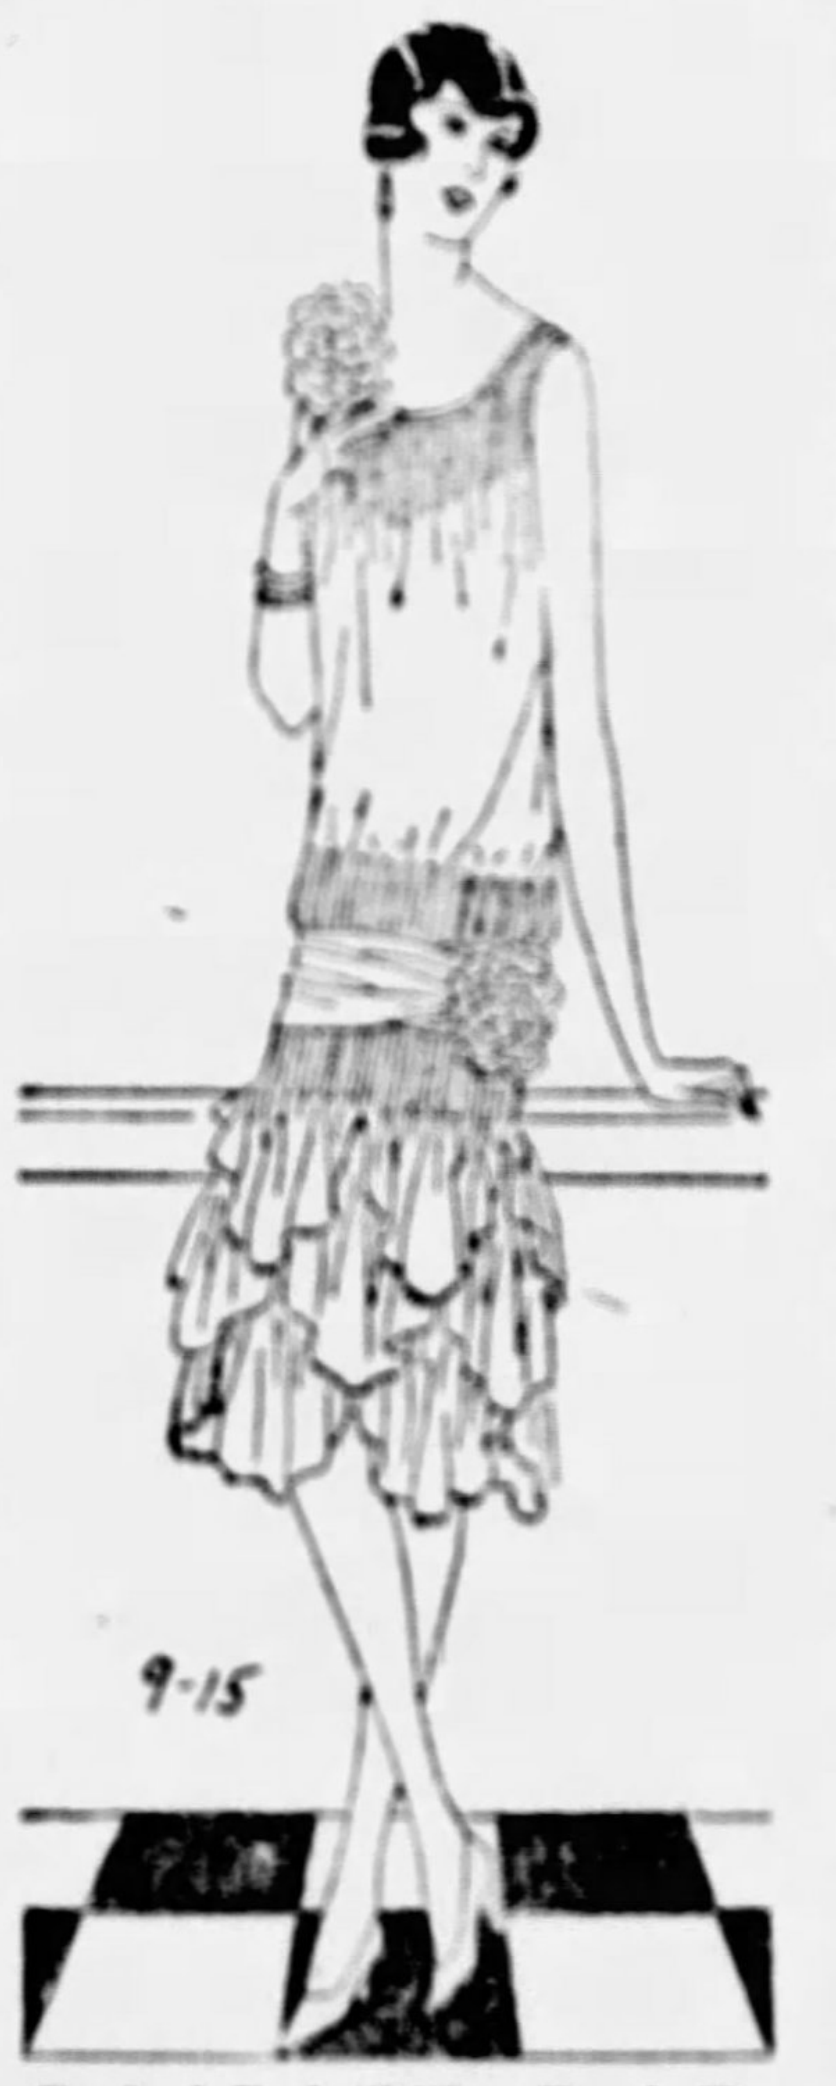
Today's Fashion



Tucked Red Chiffon Frock Has Petal-Tiered Skirt.

WITH the return of the vogue for trimming, tucks are being used as a concession to the demand for simplicity and femininity.

In this red chiffon frock the charm lies in the tucking of the blouse and skirt. The broad girdle is caught with a chiffon flower, and there is another flower on the shoulder.

It has two other smart features of the mode—tiers and the uneven hem line. The tiers are cut and picoted to resemble petals.

To Mend Glass

Mix together in a bottle a gill of methylated spirits and an ounce of isinglass. Place the uncorked bottle in a bowl of warm water, to dissolve. Shaking will help matters. When dissolved strain through muslin. This makes an invisible cement for broken glass. It should be given a considerable time in which to set, after which it will stand immersion in reasonably warm water.

Turbans and Toques

Flattery of felt feathers has been recognized by the best-dressed Parisians, who are wearing small, snug-fitting turbans and toques, of the softest felt, trimmed bountifully in flat feather effects. Novelty colorings and markings make many of these feather novelties very distinctive.

Sweater Collar

Caught by the collar one becomes aware of a strictly new note in fall sweaters. The boyish collar, so appropiately named "Robert Collar," is knitted, rolled, turned-down type that looks most youthful and "collegiate."

A La Savages

Taking a savage pride in sticking feathers in their head-dress was an Indian trait of chieftain and squaw. Seeking history for inspiration, jewelry draftsmen have designed hat pins and dress brooches of crystal to represent feathers. Such a glittering quill has a central vein of the same color as the hat or frocks with which it is worn.

Scalloped Avocado

Pare, halve, remove the stones and dice two avocados, (alligator pears). Mix a cupful and a half of cold boiled chicken, diced, with the pears. Add a cupful of fine crumbs, a grated onion, pepper, salt, a little sugar, and two eggs beaten with a cupful of light cream. Pour into a well-buttered baking dish and bake a delicate brown.

Improving a Dry Scalp

DEAR MISS LEEDS—(1) What can I do for a dry scalp? (2) I am 5 feet 2 inches tall, 29 years old and I weigh 107 pounds. what is my correct weight? (3) Is olive oil good for the scalp and hair? (4) Should the hair be singed and how often? (5) Does it injure the hair to wind it on curlers? I have long hair and like to have a wave in it. MRS. L. M. T.

Answer—(1) Dray scalps need plenty of massage to stimulate the oil glands to their proper activity. In addition an oily scalp food may be rubbed in three times a week. A mixture of one ounce olive oil, three ounces white vaseline and 20 drops oil of lavender makes a good salve to use on your type of scalp. Before your shampoo you should also use a hot oil treatment. (2) Unless you have unusually small bones you are underweight. Try to gain about 10 pounds. I think that your hair will be in better condition if you gain weight. (3) Yes. (4) Dark hair may be singed two or three times a year; light hair should be clipped instead of singed. (5) The only danger to the hair from the use of such curlers is that you may wind them too tight and too close to the scalp so that a strain is put on the hair with the result that in time it begins to get thin.

Bleaching the Skin

Dear Miss Leeds—How can I prevent my skin from tanning, and bleach the tan that is already there? Please also give me a remedy for enlarged pores on the nose that turn into blackheads and pimples. I am very careful of my diet and yet my skin is very oily. Would you advise me to cleanse my face with cold cream alone? I have been told that this would correct an oily skin and poor complexion.

D. D. M.

Answer—There are commercial preparations in the form of a cream that one may use to prevent tanning. Protect your complexion with cream and powder before you go out in the hot sun. Wear a wide hat or carry a parasol. On coming indoors after an outing do not wash your skin immediately, but cleanse it with oil. If there are indications of sunburn pat on a lotion made of equal parts of olive oil and lime-water. You may use a bleaching cream or lotion to whiten the skin that is already tanned. Recipes for these may be found in my leaflet on "Complexion Ills," which I shall be glad to mail to you on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The same leaflet gives treatments for blackheads and pimples. Mild sunburn is good for a skin of your type. After the cold cream or oil cleansing you should wash your face with soap and water. Rinse well, dry and pat on an astringent lotion. A poor complexion is often due to poor health; build up radiant health by right diet, exercise and rest besides giving your skin the correct local treatment.

Reducing in Two Months

Dear Miss Leeds—I am trying hard to reduce as I am about 20 pounds overweight. I am 22 years old and 5 feet 5 inches tall. I get so hungry between meals, but I have lost a few pounds. Can I lose the 20 pounds in two months without strenuous exercise?

L. M.

Answer — You should weigh about 128 to 130 pounds for your age and height. Slowly sipping hot water between meals will help appease the appetite or you may eat some watery fruit like an orange, apple, pear or melon. A tomato and lettuce between meals would not be fattening and would satisfy the gnawings of hunger. Yes, I think you can lose 10 pounds a month, but you need daily exercise of some sort to keep your figure firm.

New Lingerie

Fragile but fascinating is the black point d'esprit lingerie that is steadily gaining popularity. Nighties, step-ins, and step-in chemise of this dotted net are exquisitely dainty, though fragile they give more satisfactory wear than do those of chiffon and lace that have been enjoying such a vogue.

Why be Fat?

When so many people, all about you, know an easy, pleasant way to reduce.

In every circle you enter now, slenderness prevails. Excess fat is the exception. New health and vitality has come with this reduction. Ask anybody who has found the way, and he or she will urge you to adopt it.

This change has not been brought about by abnormal exercise or diet, though moderation helps. Research men discovered, some two decades ago, a cause of excess fat. It lies in a fault in nutrition which calls for an extra supply of some factors.

The help they suggested was embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. Now people have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. And everyone knows people who can tell them what this method does.

At one time people feared Marmola—the results were so amazing. Now every box contains the formula, also all scientific reasons for the good results. And fear has been abolished.

Users of Marmola take four tablets daily until weight comes down to normal. They gain at the same time new vitality and health. And they know exactly why.

Go try Marmola. Do not suffer any longer the blights of over-weight And do not think that reduction means starvation. Try what people have for 20 years been using with such results. You owe that to all who love you.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. If your druggist is out, he will get them at once from his jobber.

THROUGH the SPORT LENS

HAVEY BOYLE

HAVEY BOYLE.

CURIOUS portraits linger in memory of the man who watches sporting events. Heavily outlined, they are easily seen long after the event has passed into ancient history. For instance, a neat brown leather glove propelled by Jack Dempsey toward the jaw of one Sharkey, is so close to me now that I imagine I can reach out and touch it. The other night I saw a face in a boxing ring that will haunt me for a long time, a face that will float through space in any reverie about the affairs of the ring.

I REFER to the portrait offered by one Red Chapman recently defeated by Benny Bass in one of those rare episodes (a double knockdown) of the squared circle which make for the colorful romance surrounding the doings of pugilists. The natural characterization of a boxing man in distress offered by Chapman was a complete picture.

CHAPMAN has a long face, a chin which protrudes slightly and which hangs low enough to offer the suggestion that an extra piece of chin had been tacked on by nature in an idle moment. The nose is broad, normally made broader by pummelling at the hands of designing artisans among his ring foemen. The nose was broadened by fighters who might have said: "Well, perhaps another half inch of width wouldn't hurt that nose at all. Here goes." The broad nose makes appear even more deeply set naturally deep-set eyes, small, and owning an air of inquisitiveness. The eyes are continually questioning.

ONLY a few feet away from me the other night I saw this Chapman picture on the canvas of a Philadelphia ring. The naturally quizzical eyes were made more questioning by a bewildering turn in events which found Chapman knocking his foeman, Bass, down just as Chapman himself was knocked down by Bass. The questioning eyes, sharpened by an instinct to protect himself as he rose to his feet, a mouth, almost puckered, taking on this appearance from the long face and long chin, actually made this fellow appear to be whistling in astonishment at the tide of circumstance which he was running against. "Phew," he seemed to be whistling, in utter astonishment.

THE boy, not a great fighter at all, took on great dimensions by his gallant refusal to bow to a remorseless fate which, having denied him a knockout of his foe, seemed intent upon piling insult on injury by causing the boy himself to be knocked out. "Phew," was all Chapman was able to register, and since he owned none too much of his conscious self as the result of the impact, he really was marveling unconsciously at the woes which tread upon another's heels in their pursuit of him.

WHAT, by the way, would have happened if both Bass and Chapman were still on the floor, out, after the referee had counted 10? Neither was able to get up? A draw? By no means. The winner would have been the man who got up first, even if it had been long after the referee counted 10. It would have been the duty of the referee to keep the ring cleared of seconds while he waited for one of the fellows to regain his feet before the bell rang ending the round.

LEW TENDLER, Philadelphia boxer, was on a card in Philadelphia the other night meeting a second rater, in a semi-final bout. Tendler must have earned close to a quarter of a million dollars in a period of 10 years. He is old and fat now and keeping in mind his great earnings one wondered why he dallied any longer in the ring sport.

Inquiry developed that of the great fortune amassed by Tendler only a little is left. To replenish his depleted treasury he plans to keep as busy as possible in the ring. Unsound investments, the story of many a man who has acquired wealth suddenly and without careful training for its maintenance, have brought Tendler to his present low estate.

There was a ladies' dresses venture that panned out badly and there were real estate ventures that brought little but dismay. In the end, Tendler found a once handsome bank account showing many a vain withdrawal.

TO THOSE with no money at all, the trick of keeping a quarter of a million seems easy enough, but the human being in seeking his worldly destiny is a strange creature. The man who once thought $100,000 would be quite sufficient, discovers that after all, after he has got that much, there are many who have far more than $100,000. Consequently, he tries for more. Sometimes in the trying he loses everything. The great difficulty is that persons, and especially athletes, continually look to others more fortunate, declining to be contented with a glance at the many who are far behind.

However, Tendler may not be so unhappy in his present estate as many imagine. The savants have long argued there is absolutely no relation between wealth and happiness. It is possible that Tendler "broke" may be happier than Tendler wealthy. However, Tendler's profession, a hard, old grind, seems to make more poignant his loss than a loss suffered by a man, say, who has earned his fortune in a calling where broken noses, tin ears and body beatings have no part.

If you ever got a quarter of a million who could take it away from you? Make that two.

British Fail In Comeback

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—(AP.)—International polo supremacy rests in the United States until 1930. A courageous comeback by the British challenging team fell short of its objective yesterday at the Meadowbrook Club, and America's Big Four dashed off with its second straight victory, this time by a score of 8 to 5.

With a revamped lineup, the invaders strove to atone for their 13-3 defeat in the first match. For the last seven chukkers they matched goal for goal with the veteran Yankees, and it was only because of a first-period salvo of three goals by Tommy Hitchcock, the brilliant American forward, that the defenders were able to conclude the series without the necessity of a third game.

Hitchcock's whirlwind start was just a bit too much for the British to offset, but in the face of a powerful American defense they carried the attack throughout the last half of the match. Once in the seventh chukker they were within two goals of tying the score. That was the high water mark of their bid, Capt. John Dening emerging from a scrimmage and sweeping the ball through a cluster of players for a difficult goal.

BRITISH OUTRIDDEN

As in the opening match, the British were outridden, but the margin was far slighter this time. The foreign drive was slow to get in motion and it was not until the fourth period that it began to materialize. Then Capt. Roark and Maj. Atkinson scored in succession. At the half-way mark the Americans led, 5-2.

Hitchcock and Devereux Milburn, invincible in the opening match, missed at times yesterday. Stevenson, after his phenomenal getaway, in which he scored two of his goals in less than a minute of actual play, flashed only occasionally. Several of his brilliant dashes down the field ended with a slice to one side that cost Americans possession of the ball. Milburn was as impenetrable as ever on defense, but his all-around play lacked just a little of the fire and dash of last Saturday. Malcolm Stevenson played a mighty role in the defense of the home forces yesterday, shifting quickly and breaking up any number of enemy formations with his daring riding and ability to "mix it."

CAPT. GEORGE PROVES STAR

Capt. George, a replacement at No. 1 for the British, gave Milburn a rugged battle and scored two of his team's goals. Atkinson proved to be a big cog in the British defense and his ability to reach the scene of contact helped set their attack in motion quickly.

The margin of America's victory was the closest it has been held to in international cup play. In the 1924 series the same big four won by scores of 16-5 and 14-5.

Yesterday's triumph was the sixth for the United States in the last seven series. In the 41 years of British-American rivalry the United States has won six victories to three by Great Britain. Milburn has taken part in the last seven series and never has been replaced in a single game. Hitchcock has played on three winning teams in succession from 1921 on. Webb also has been in the last three series. Stevenson yesterday completed his first full series, but took a part in two others.

SOCCER DRAW MADE

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—(AP.)—Drawings for the national challenge soccer cup competition for 1927 have been announced by the cup committee. The entry list includes 117 clubs. The drawing for the Pennsylvania districts, with the qualifying series playable October 1 or 2, follow:

WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA

Harmarville Whippets vs. Mustard Hollow F. C., Elizabeth, Pa.; Heidelberg F. C. vs. Pittsburgh Rovers; Pittsburgh S. C. vs. Pittsburgh International F. C. The Westinghouse F. C. of Turtle Creek drew a bye.

EASTERN PENNSYLVANIA

The Bethlehem Steel F. C. and the Philadelphia F. C. were declared exempt and the following teams drew byes: Bethlehem Wanderers, Fairhill F. C. of Philadelphia, Pen Mar F. C. and Centennial F. C., both of Philadelphia.

EXEMPTION GRANTED

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—(AP.)—Exemption from playing in the qualifying competition has been granted to the American Soccer League for the national challenge cup this season and the 12 clubs comprising that circuit have been entered en bloc for the first round opening January 14, 1928. Qualifying rounds start October 1.

The challenge cup committee of the United States Football Association announced today that 117 teams had entered for the open competition. Fall River, Mass., holds the national championship, having defeated the Holley Carburetors of Detroit in last season's finals.

ROLLING ROCK HORSES ANNEX 84 RIBBONS

GREENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 15.—Horses from the stables of the Rolling Rock Country Club, near Ligonier, have arrived home after winning 84 ribbons in four eastern horse shows. Eight of the awards were firsts.

The horses competed at Derby, Batavia, Newport and Rochester, N. Y., and were in charge of Capt. Herbert Parker.

GREENVILLE WINS FLAG IN SOUTH ATLANTIC LOOP

GREENVILLE, S. C., Sept. 15.—(AP.)—The 1927 pennant of the South Atlantic Association has been won by Greenville and the circuit's champions tomorrow will start a seven-game series against Portsmouth, Va., winners of the Virginia League. The victor of this clash then will clash with Jacksonville, Fla., champions of the Southeastern League, to determine the Class B league championship of the South. The South Atlantic Association ended its season yesterday, Greenville recording 92 victories and 56 defeats.

DETROIT SANDLOTTERS LOOM AS CHAMPIONS

DETROIT, Sept. 15.—(U.S.)—The Kennedy Clothes, city sandlot champions, added another game to its string of unbroken victories yesterday and is now considered potential titleholder in the national amateur baseball tournament.

Kennedy's game was with the heretofore undefeated Paige Dairies of Toledo, the score being 3 to 2. This leaves Kennedy Clothes the only unbeaten team in competition.

BIG TEN GRIDDERS OFF TO "HOT" START

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—(AP.)—In the hottest practice weather the Big Ten has ever experienced, the Western Conference football season opened officially today under the rule permitting only two weeks' preparation for opening games October 1.

Some of the coaches have arranged two practice periods per day, morning and afternoon, as classwork at most of the schools does not begin until after October 1.

VARSITY CLAN HONORS SKIBO GRID LEADERS

The members of the Varsity Clan of Carnegie Tech will honor the Skibo coaching staff at the annual meeting and luncheon scheduled in Carnegie Inn on Woodlawn avenue. The guests of honor will be Head Coach Wally Steffen, Assistant Coach Bob Waddell, Dr. Marks, Trainer Bert Munhall and Paul Allison.

The affair will get under way at 6:30 p. m. and will be in charge of William Finkel, president, and J. N. Franklin, secretary.

HOW STADIUM WILL BE CONVERTED INTO OCEAN OF SEATS FOR BATTLE

Panorama view above shows how the seating arrangements are being worked out for the Dempsey-Tunney fight to be fought at Soldier Field, Chicago, one week from tonight. The specifications call for seats to accommodate 161,000 persons, the largest crowd that ever attended a fight anywhere in the world. At the left, (above), is Dempsey, the former champion, now in the role of challenger and the sentimental favorite to win. At the right, (above), workmen are shown building the foundation for the ring in the center of the huge arena.

SPORT COMMENT

by JAMES J. LONG

TODAY is the last day under baseball law on which a major league club may purchase players from the minors, or on which minors may sell or transfer players to one another, the ban lasting until November 5, so unless some additional material is bought before midnight, which is unlikely, the Pittsburgh club may be considered "all set" for 1928 with the timber that it has already acquired.

This excepts, of course, such changes as may be made during the winter, including not only drafting operations on October 4 or within the five-day period allowed later, and further purchases after the lid is lifted again on November 5, but such trades and sales of present Pirates as may be made during the winter.

IF present signs are not misleading, there probably will be an unusual number of such trades or sales, for in addition to Outfielder Hazen Cuyler, whose transfer to another club is forecast in the handwriting on the baseball wall, Pitcher Johnny Morrison, possibly another veteran pitcher and two or more lesser lights are booked to figure in off-season proceedings that will cause their future diamond addresses to be cities other than Pittsburgh.

But for the present the incoming players alone are concerned. Only eight players are allowed to be sent to the minors under option by each major league club, and the latest bulletins from Pirate headquarters show that all of Pittsburgh's eight have been bought back.

The strings to Outfielder Carl Frey, Pittsburgh boy, who has been sent to Wichita, and Catcher Tommy Farr, first sent to Columbia, S. C., in the South Atlantic League, were cut some time ago, others being sent out under

YOUNG NETMEN IN FORM

HENRI COCHET LOSES IN TOURNEY

By ROBERT A. HEREFORD,
Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 14.—Like a tennis Phenix rising gloriously out of the ashes of America's ravaged Davis Cup fortress, Uncle Sam's youthful court warriors upon whom he must depend to win back the famous international bowl, flashed in triumph across the panorama of the third-round matches of the national singles tournament at Forest Hills yesterday.

And as a result of the victorious charge one of France's proud conquering Davis Cup army, Henri Cochet, champion of Wimbledon and conqueror of Tilden, was wiped out of the tournament competition; a second, Jean Borotra straggled lamely into the quarter final round, and the fate of a third, Jacques Brugnon, was postponed by the fast gathering darkness.

HENNESSEY WINS

John Hennessey, a young fighting Irishman from Indianapolis, who was not even ranked last year, accounted for the season's greatest upset when he defeated Henri Cochet. Hennessey met the stocky Frenchman, who is known as the greatest five set player in the world at his own game, winning in an engagement that went the limit, 6-4, 6-4, 4-6, 3-6, 6-1.

Jean Borotra rallied in time to stave off the charge of Jerry Lang, the former Columbia University star, 2-6, 4-6, 6-3, 6-1, 6-3.

Arnold W. Jones, former captain of the Yale net forces, was battling Jacques Brugnon on even terms at two sets all when darkness ended the play. Brugnon won the first and fourth sets, 9-7, 6-1, while Lang took the second and third, 6-4, 6-3. The

"I MADE HIM WHAT HE IS TODAY"---FLYNN

By LEO P. FLYNN,
Manager of Jack Dempsey.
Written Expressly for Universal Service.
(Copyright, 1927, By Universal Service.)

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Probably the most vicious angle in the coming fight between Dempsey and Tunney is the propaganda being sent around that Jack and I are about to sever relations as fighter and manager. That is the silliest, most uncalled for thing I ever heard. The fact is that we are the closest of friends and I have Jack's confidence and he has mine.

I know who is starting this talk. In the first place, there was some discussion as to the Sharkey fight and who deserved credit for getting Dempsey in shape to score that great victory. Right after the bout Dempsey was shown some newspaper clippings, in which various persons were given praise for Dempsey's triumph. Jack was a bit annoyed and told the newspapermen that he gave me the credit and no one else.

JACK LAUDS LEO

I told Jack not to mind, that it didn't hurt me a bit and surely didn't hurt him and that some of the boys wanted a bit of publicity.

"Never mind that," Jack answered, "you got me in shape and you coached me and trained me, and you alone deserve the credit and shall have it."

Right away, word went around that there was dissension among Dempsey's assistants, all based on this very simple situation about the Sharkey fight. Now I never had any run-in with Gus Wilson, Dempsey's friend and one of his advisors. Dempsey made it plain that I was to run his camp, draw on any money that I saw fit and was to be accountable to no one.

Now as to the Martin Burke matter. Burke had worked with Jack in several fights. He was and is a splendid fellow and a great sparring partner. No one admires Burke any more than I do. But he is a close friend of one of Tunney's confidential advisors. With such an important battle in the offing, and with so many ill-advised suspicions directed toward a big bout, wouldn't we be rather silly to run any possible risks of friends confiding in each other? I think so.

BURKE VALUABLE

I would give anything to have Burke's services and so would Dempsey. But although we know Burke is honorable and loyal, it is best not to let ourselves open to idle talk by others. So I thought it best to let Burke go and Dempsey is not mad over that at all. Dempsey is one of the most sensible men I ever met.

As to the money Dempsey is supposed to be paying me, there has been no squabble. Neither have Rickard and I had any dispute whatsoever as to money or anything else. I was represented in the press as having been given $50,000 for this fight and $10,000 for the Sharkey fight. Well, the boys are about $100,000 off in that estimate.

If I thought for a minute that I was handicapping Dempsey or that I was not wanted in his camp, I should step aside immediately.

SPEED BOATS TO RACE ON POTOMAC RIVER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—(AP.)—Leading speed boats of the country will compete on the Potomac River tomorrow and Saturday in a regatta in which two notable motorboat trophies, the President's Cup and the Dodge Memorial trophy, will be at stake.

Besides the two trophy races, national titles in two classes of outboard motorboats will be contested for and the Secretary of the Navy's Cup will be another leading prize race.

JACK REGRETS FAILURE TO TAKE EARLIER DATE

EX-CHAMP IN SHAPE TO MEET GENE

LINCOLN FIELD, CRETE, Ill., Sept. 15.—(AP.)—Jack Dempsey is somewhat sorry now that he voted against fighting Gene Tunney September 15, insisting on September 22 as the earliest date he would be ready.

For Dempsey today, by his own and Manager Leo Flynn's statements, is at top form. Dempsey's last full workout, against five sparring partners Tuesday night, satisfied his handlers that he is the same scowling, merciless neanderthaler of old.

Jack has been in Chicago a month today, and in training most of that time, with the Sharkey training and fight hardly two months back. He is so near the peak today that his training has been proceeding only at half speed.

ATTENDS RACES

He did nothing at all yesterday but attend the Washington Park races, to watch the running of the Jack Dempsey handicap, returning soon afterward to his camp. Two more ring workouts are planned by Manager Flynn, but they probably will be in secret, despite the loud complaints of newspapermen to Promoter Tex Rickard.

Manager Flynn turned over his duties as chaperone of the former champion to Mrs. Estelle Taylor Dempsey for the visit to the race track. There, it developed, Jack had come with but 50 cents in his trousers, and so he had to borrow from his wife to make a wager on the first race. It was reported that he won $422.75 on the victory of Nellie Wood, and put $200 of it back on Chicago, winner of the Jack Dempsey handicap, which paid only 74 cents on the dollar.

Gene had dodged the heavy training grind for the past few days in the belief that the loss in weight under the boiling sun and the drain in nervous energy due to the humidity did not offset whatever good might come of short boxing drills. The champion says he is ready for the fight of his life—what is more, that he was ready when he left Speculator, N. Y., for the Midwest after five months of careful work in the Adirondack Mountains.

Weighing about 190 pounds, Gene begrudges the three or four pounds that are bound to melt away in the heat. Despite the hot spell, however, Tunney will box again on Friday and Saturday before quitting the training siege.

PLANS RETURN MONDAY

Monday he plans to return to Lake Forest to rest until leaving for Soldier Field and the title test against Jack Dempsey a week from today.

Tunney did not intend to don gloves today until after 4 p. m., in an effort to dodge the strongest of the sun's rays.

Since taking up quarters at the Cedar Crest Country Club here September 2, Tunney has boxed only five times, principally because of high temperatures. Undisturbed by a working average of but little over .333, the titleholder has spent the remainder of the time visiting with friends, reading with his pal and tutor, Eddie Eagan, or chasing golf balls on nearby sun-baked fairways. Rarely in his conversation does Gene touch upon the coming spectacle.

MARATHON WON BY ROWBOTTOM

John Rowbottom of the North Boroughs Y. M. C. A. won the eight-mile modified Marathon run sponsored by the Pittsburgh Stewards' Club yesterday afternoon. He covered the distance from the City-County Building to the Raybrook farm in 45 minutes and 37 seconds. The event was a feature of the Stewards' Club's annual outing. Thirteen ran.

The first 10 to finish, in the order in which they ran, follow:

John Rowbottom, North Boroughs Y.; Rufus Tankins, Edgar Thomson A. A.; Frank Jerry, Westinghouse Club; Robert Ellsworth, unattached; John Nase, Westinghouse Club; John Barcol, unattached; John Gibson, National Biscuit Company; Earl Van Dyke, unattached; Anthony Pasejak, unattached; Franklin Gainas, unattached.

The officials were William Simendinger, referee; Jim Magee, judge; Harry Neaman, timer.

HOPPE PADS LEAD

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Willie Hoppe increased his lead over George Copulos in their 600-point match here yesterday to 300 to 265.

IN M'KEESPORT BOUT

RAY SHAFER

Garfield middleweight, who meets Lin Jordan, Negro, of Johnstown, in one of the two 10-round bouts featuring the opening show of the indoor boxing season in McKeesport tonight. Harry Taylor of the North Side and Young Rudy of Charleroi, lightweights, will box the 10-round windup. In the second bout, Stanley Simmons meets Frank Hunter, Negro light-heavy, and the opener will be between Jack Banty and Georgie Peck. A big crowd is expected to turn out for the all-star bill, which will be held in the Palisades roller rink.

TICKET FORGERY STORY OUT AS SALE LAGS

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Shh! Don't tell anybody, but the ticket situation for the Dempsey-Tunney fight isn't as tough as it has been painted.

Proof of this is to be found in the usual announcement by Promoter Tex Rickard that a counterfeiting plot has been unearthed. The story is that a scheme has been nipped in the bud whereby 10,000 spurious tickets would have been disposed of. The plot, it is said, originated in Detroit, and one arrest has been made, but the identity of the man incarcerated is not given.

The announcement winds up with a warning that customers who want to make sure of getting the genuine tickets must secure them at the box office in the Palmer House or take a chance of getting gypped.

It's the old bokum. Every big fight Rickard sells all he can to the mob, speculators included, and then, when the sale slows down, he pulls the phony pasteboard stuff and scares the fans into buying direct from him. Then, usually, on the day of the fight, the specs are left holding the sack.

In other words, the counterfeit ticket story means merely that the seat sale has slowed down and Tex wants to unload what he has left before the speculators beat him to it.

CORSAIRS OPPOSE BRAVES AGAIN

while the September sun was shining in the Oakland orchard. Only two games in front when they paired off with the Braves on Tuesday afternoon, they jumped their lead two full games in two days by winning four games. Moreover, the Pirates sunk Kent Greenfield twice in two days, thereby getting square with this young Kentuckian for the things he did to them on numerous occasions.

Manager Bush was a bit doubtful as to his slab selection for this afternoon, as the four games in two days took a tax on the sharpshooting staff. Nevertheless, the Pirates were so glad over the four successes that they were quite confident that the effect would be good on any flinger who might go to Fogarty Knoll.

HILL OR CVENGROS TODAY

It will be either Carmen Hill or Mike Cvengros in the fifth game of the series, but Donie has not yet decided definitely on Carmen of Corry or Mike of Pana. Hill has had only two days of rest; if he feels strong this afternoon he stands to get the job, if not the little southpaw is likely to go to work on the slab. Manager Bancroft may start Bob Smith, who also has enjoyed only two days of rest.

Besides winning a couple of fine victories yesterday, the Pirates showed 14,000 fans a pitcher who tickled the multitude immensely. After Remy Kremer had trimmed the Braves, 6 to 2, in the opener, John Miljus, a favorite son of Penn avenue, went to the mound. John looked like one of the pitching stars of the game as he blanked the Tribe, 3 to 0. In shutting the door in the faces of the Boston boys, Miljus also yielded six hits and only one runner got as far as second base. Small wonder the Pirates were in a frolicsome mood as they hustled to the showers. They were somewhat tired, but Miljus' performance pepped them up.

MILJUS ARTIST OF SLAB

There was a consummate grace about the feat of Miljus. Hooked up with Charlie Robertson, another swift-moving pitcher, John of the Strip polished off the Braves in one hour and 20 minutes, his victory ranking with the quickest of the season in the major leagues. Robertson also pitched cleverly.

Greenfield opposed Kremer in the opener. Kent and Remy were all even as the Pirates went to the barrier in the sixth. In the sixth and seventh, the Pirates jumped on the youngster for six hits and four runs, the big push making the game safe for Pittsburgh. In the nightcap, the Oaklanders pecked away at Robertson for three scattered tallies.

CHILLY SAUCE

By CHILLY DOYLE

WELL, these Cubs were good fellows when they had it, and surely the hustling team with the "sieve infield" did give the fans a big treat right up to the last two weeks of the race. It is quite unfortunate for Joe McCarthy, Lefty [illegible], Hack Wilson, Leo Hartnett and the others that they couldn't get in on the World Series fame and fortune. Owner Wrigley will not miss the difference in the cash involved, as a million or two doesn't seem to get much of a tumble out of the proprietor of the team.

BEFORE the season started this writer could not see the Cubs better than fourth. Several weeks ago I was beginning to feel that the fast-stepping ball club under the smart direction of a great leader would spill the beans for 18 pickers, but the club couldn't stand the strain of being on the top.

HOWEVER, the members of the club deserve a vote of thanks from the citizenry, which now can forget about the troubles of securing tickets for the World Series and start to worry about annexing tickets for the big brawl. Personally, I would rather see the World Series.

I PICKED Dempsey to win the other fight with Gene and saw the battle. If it had gone about two more rounds, I think Tiger Jack would have been carried to his corner, and that is why I am picking Tunney to cop again.

THE Giants played fifty-fifty ball to date on their last Western jaunt. They would have to make a garrison finish to cop the flag in view of their present position. The Polo Tornadoes meet the Reds and Pirates after they finish in St. Louis. It makes it quite nice for the Pirates to have the Redbirds and Giants splitting bills while the Bucs cop two at a time.

LLOYD WANER came through yesterday's dual bill with five hits. It begins to look as if that friend in Ada will have to come through with two suits for Lloyd. He promised the youngster as much if Sprout bats within 25 points of Brother Paul.

HITTING, running and fielding like a star, George Grantham is in his best stride of the season. If Boots can keep up his pace, the Pirates surely will continue to win consistently. When George starts to dig down into his baseball resources he comes up with nuggets that thrill all who see the display. Like Cuyler, Grantham does not have a weakness. He can hit, run, throw and field.

MEANTIME, Pie Traynor continues to speed up the play of the club. When speaking about valuable players, don't overlook the Pirates third-sacker. While the four games with the Braves were on tap, Traynor would not be seen out of his room after nine bells. If they were all like Pie it would not be hard to win flags.

Big Monte Is Stopped

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—(INS.)—Boxing gained a new black menace bugaboo and the Nebraska Legislature regained its wandering lawmaker today as the result of George Godfrey's victory over Monte Munn, of Lincoln, Neb., in Brooklyn last night. Godfrey, the rough, well-muscled Black Shadow, of Leiperville, Pa., scored a technical knockout in the fourth round over Munn, who turned his back on lawmaking to seek a career in the ring.

Munn took the bout to determine his exact caliber among top-notch opposition. He was convinced, as were some 20,000 who packed the Ebbets ball park, that he will not progress very far in the title chase.

The finish came after 2 minutes and 26 seconds of the fourth round of what was to have been a 15-round battle. It was hardly a fight, more a complete rout. Godfrey gave the Westerner a thorough beating, scoring a nine-second knockdown and a near-knockout in the third round.

Munn's devastating right with which he had run up a sizeable list of knockouts, his speed, which kept him out of harm's way in his previous fights, his cleverness which enabled him to find openings for his knockout blow, all were missing. All he possessed was gameness and a stout heart which permitted him to stand up under the severe punishment.

Munn was much too busy to use his right hand, too busy covering and holding and seeking to stop the stream of body punches Godfrey delivered.

In the first round, Godfrey had Munn wilting from short, jolting blows to the midsection. In the second stanza the body punching had Monte's arms sagging and he was wobbling when he went to his corner.

Godfrey kept pounding Munn's body for fully two minutes of the third round and then sent a hard right to the jaw. Munn started down and a left to the head put him on the floor. Monte heard the count of nine before he arose, spent and dizzy. Godfrey rushed in to end it, but the bell called a halt.

Munn came out warily for the fourth, and although he tried to hold Godfrey off, the Negro kept him backing up with short punches, carrying plenty of heft, to the body and jaw. Munn was on the ropes near Godfrey's corner, practically helpless, when Referee Louis Magnolia stepped up and called a halt.

RISKO WHIPS DELANEY

CLEVELAND, Sept. 14.—Johnny Risko, Cleveland's rubber man, avenged his defeat by Jack Delaney, former light-heavyweight champion, by slugging his way to a decisive victory over the French-Canadian here tonight in a 10-round bout.

The fight was tame, but that was due to Delaney's refusal to mix it. In the second round, Risko brought blood from Delaney's mouth with a wicked right cross, and in the fourth made Delaney wince with a short right to the stomach.

A wild left that landed on Delaney's chin in the final session had him in trouble, but the final bell sounded with Risko pounding him in a corner of the ring.

FIGHT TICKETS READY FOR MOTOR SQUARE TRAIN

Having disposed of all reservations on the Motor Square Special, chartered to take local fans to the Tunney-Dempsey fight in Chicago on September 22, John McGarvey, in charge of the arrangements, has announced that ticket purchasers can obtain their reservations at the Motor Square Hotel.

The Motor Square Special will leave Pittsburgh the night before the fight and start its return trip two hours after the battle is finished. Fans making the trip will have plenty of time to take in the sights of Chicago before the bout starts. During the stay in Chicago the train will serve as the hotel quarters.

CITY VIEW COPS TITLE

The City View nine annexed the championship of the North Side Twilight League last evening by scoring a 13-0 victory over the Millvale Eagles.

Alexander, Net Star, Turns "Pro"

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—(AP.)—Fred B. Alexander, four times holder of the American doubles championship with Harold H. Hackett, has joined the ranks of tennis professionals. He has accepted a position as instructor at the Fox Hills Country Club, Culver City, Cal., according to word received from him by Sam Hardy, a close friend and former Davis Cup captain.

Alexander was one of the most famous doubles players ever developed in America. First gaining fame as an intercollegiate titleholder in 1901, while at Princeton, he was a national figure as late as 1918, when he ranked third. He won the national doubles title with Hackett four years in a row, 1907 to 1910. He held the indoor doubles crown six times, with Hackett, Harold Throckmorton and William Rosenbaum as partners.

ception in their places, and now the full eight have been repurchased.

THESE deals include the buying back of Infielder Dick Bartell from Bridgeport, Pitcher LeRoy Mahaffey from New Haven, Pitcher Chester Nichols from New Haven, Outfielder Herman Layne from Indianapolis, and Catcher Claude Linton from Columbia, in addition to those who reported here earlier—Outfielder Adam Comorosky and Pitchers George Peery and Walter Tauscher.

Pitcher Nichols did not remain on the Pirate roster for very long, as he has already been released again, this time to Jersey City in the International League in part payment for Pitcher Irwin Brame, purchased a few days ago.

Infielder Bartell reports to Manager Bush here today and when an opening for an emergency player arises local fans will be given a chance to see the peppery youngster in action. Many good judges believe that he has come up to the big leagues this time to stay. It is all a question of how much he has learned in the Eastern League preparatory school.

It has not been decided when Layne will be ordered to report here.

IF any doubt still lingered that Remy Kremer had thrown off the last effects of the injury that he suffered last May and had fully recovered the form that earned for him last year the ranking of the best pitcher in the country, the big Frenchman certainly has dispelled it by his brilliant performances since the Bucs returned home.

Yesterday's 6-to-2 victory over the Braves added another impressive chapter to the story of the strong finish that Kremer is making.

Those two runs scored by the visitors yesterday, by the way, were the only tallies made against the Pirate ace in his last three games, as in his preceding two starts on September 6 and 10 he shut out the Reds and Phils, respectively. In the three games he allowed a total of only 17 hits.

Remy has now won four games in a row, not counting the one he saved for the Bucs on Tuesday when he relieved Aldridge. He has won five of his last six contests and seven of his last nine.

But that is only Kremer's ordinary form when he is going in his right stride. If he had not been injured and lost to the club for a couple of months the Pirates would have had the pennant practically safe weeks ago.

If they win out now, it will not be overly difficult to guess who will be Pittsburgh's starting pitcher in the first game of the world series.

IN connection with the Giants' present string of three consecutive double-headers in St. Louis, one report states that the McGraw-men and Cardinals are setting a new major league record.

Far from it. Three straight bargain bills will bring the contending clubs only half way to the mark.

The major league record for most double-headers on successive days is six, and is held by the Detroit club. In 1923, the Tigers played three dual cards with the Athletics on September 17, 18 and 19, and then three more with the Redsox on September 20, 21 and 22. The first game with Boston went 10 innings.

The Giants and Cards are not equaling even the record of their own league, as the high mark in the National for twin engagements in a row is four, held by Brooklyn, and hung up in 1924. The Dodgers played double-headers with the Phillies on September 1, 2 and 3, and another with the Braves on September 4.

JUDD BRUFF, former sheriff of Allegheny county, has a new hunch that convinces him the Pirates are going to win the pennant. "Back in 1909," Bruff recalls, "I was a candidate for sheriff in the fall and the Bucs won both the National League pennant and the world series that year. Now we are running together once more, as I am a candidate for county commissioner, and it just naturally follows that the Pirates will win the pennant again."

Gridders Hold Dandelion Parties

SPRINGFIELD, O., Sept. 15.—Coach E. R. Godfrey's dandelion parties have brought results.

Careful, now; Godfrey's long used to sobriety, and this is no tale about what's in his cellar.

This has to do with his football playing field at Wittenberg College where he is head coach, and a playing field the equal of which there isn't any, he says.

The football field in the Wittenberg Stadium is a velvety green, cropped close like an oriental rug, and yielding as much to the tread of feet. From goal post to goal post, there isn't a spot bare enough and large enough to keep a baby rabbit from getting his feet wet in the dew.

Every year Coach Godfrey calls out a squad of willing collegians to dig dandelions, so from goal post to goal post one scarcely ever encounters any kind of weed.

Two football practice fields west of the stadium are used for drill, and the playing field is only used when the home team plays at home.

NOTES of the BOXERS

DON SNELL, coast junior-lightweight of great promise, boxes Joe Glick, of New York, in his Eastern debut in Madison Square Garden, New York, tonight. Billy Grime, triple champion of Australia, meets Honey Boy Finnegan, of Boston, in the 10-round semi-final.

Willie Davies, of Charleroi, the state flyweight champion, will remain on the coast until the completion of the elimination tournament at Hollywood, after which, if he emerges the victor, he will go to New York to meet the winner of the tourney there. He already has beaten Izzy Schwartz and boxes Johnny McCoy, of El Paso, Tex., tomorrow night, with Dave Adelman, of Philadelphia, meeting Roy Wally in another bout on the same card. Friday night of next week, Harry Goldstein, of Boston, meets Tommy Hughes, and the winner of the Adelman-Wally bout engages the winner of the Hughes-Goldstein match in the next round. The survivor of this battle and Davies, if he beats McCoy, then will hook up for the championship.

Eddie Weygandt, former featherweight boxer of New Castle, is now managing boxers out of that city.

The preliminaries for the Emmett Rocco-Sailor Maxted bout at New Castle Monday night follow: Jack Drake, Sharon, vs. Mike Friday, New Castle; Rocky Marshall, Chicago, vs. Joe Midway, Wilkes-Barre, and Mike Solomon, New Castle, vs. Eddie Sears, Cleveland.

FIGHT RESULTS

At Brooklyn — George Godfrey knocked out Monte Munn (bout stopped), 4 rounds; Earl Blue and Anderson (Buster) Martin drew, 6 rounds; Jack Warren defeated George Gemas, 6 rounds; Murray Gitlitz defeated Larry Biello, 6 rounds; Joe Oliver defeated Al Brun, 4 rounds; Jack Moreaca and Lou Barba drew, 6 rounds.

At Cleveland—Johnny Risko defeated Jack Delaney, 10 rounds; Charley Champness and Tod Smith drew, 10 rounds; Steve Nugent defeated Midget Mike O'Dowd, 6 rounds.

At West New York, N. J.—George Courtney knocked out Harry Martone, 4 rounds.

At Utica, N. Y.—Kid Blair and Eddie Frisco drew, 10 rounds; Honey Boy Skimar defeated Star Stevens, 10 rounds; Sam Marco defeated Sailor Parillo, 10 rounds.

At San Francisco—Speedy Dado knocked out Carlo Navia, 2 rounds; Manuel Albers and Battling Manning drew, 4 rounds.

Windle, Pirate Rookie, Under Knife

One of the newly-purchased recruits of the Pittsburgh Baseball Club went under the surgeon's knife yesterday. A telegram received at the headquarters of the Pirates this morning from Raleigh, N. C., announced that Willis Windle, the big left-hand first baseman purchased a few days ago by the Buccaneer management from the Salisbury (N. C.) Club of the Piedmont League, had been operated on for appendicitis. His condition is reported satisfactory.

The Salisbury and Raleigh clubs finished first in the divided season of the Piedmont League and are playing a best-three-out-of-five series for the pennant. Salisbury won the first two games.

determining set will be played tomorrow.

Rene La Coste, the remaining member of the French Davis Cup army, was not forced to face one of Uncle Sam's rampaging youngsters and survived in three sets, winning from T. Harada, ranked third on the American national list, 6-2, 6-4, 6-2.

Another of the young men who seems destined to play a prominent part in Uncle Sam's Davis cup fortunes, Francis T. Hunter, also gave short shrift to his foreign opponent, winning from Jean Washer of Belgium, 7-5, 6-2, 6-3.

VETERANS SHOW FORM

America's veteran guard also fared well. "Big Bill" Tilden, who was in a facetious mood, clowned through a four-set match with Elmer Griffin, the Pacific coast player, winning, 4-6, 6-1, 11-9, 6-0. "Little Bill" quickly quashed the championship aspirations of Jack Wright of Canada, riddling the Canadian's defense with his rifle-shot forehand to win, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

Manuel Alonzo, the striking looking Spaniard, who is ranked No. 2 next to Tilden on the United States list, was the remaining player to win his way to the round of eight. Alonzo had his troubles winning from another of Uncle Sam's obstreperous youngsters, John Van Ryn of Princeton, 5-7, 2-6, 6-1, 6-4, 6-0.

In the round of eight today Tilden will play Borotra, Hunter will meet Hennessey, Johnston faces the winner of the Brugnon-Jones engagement and the defending champion, La Coste, will tackle Alonzo.

Inside Dope On the Fight

By HARRY KECK, Sports Editor.

SOME wise men of the boxing game have been expressing themselves recently anent the Dempsey-Tunney situation. Their views are interesting.

Jack Johnson, who ranked with Peter Jackson, Jim Corbett and Gene Tunney as a clever heavyweight, says:

"Dempsey is made to order for Tunney's left, and he always will be a sucker for a counter puncher. Tunney should fight cautiously during the early rounds, for Jack will rush in and try to murder him. I don't think Tunney will have to worry after the third round."

Jimmy Bronson, who was Tunney's chief second in the first battle with Dempsey and will be behind the champion again a week from tonight at Chicago, says:

"The fight will not go more than five or six rounds and it wouldn't surprise me if Gene knocked out Jack in the first round. Dempsey is through. The Sharkey fight proved that to me. Tunney, on the other hand, has improved about 30 per cent over his condition just before the Philadelphia fight."

LEO P. FLYNN, manager of Dempsey, says:

"Naturally, we expect Tunney to get on a bicycle, but Dempsey is fast, faster than he has been in years, and he will catch Tunney and bring him down. I look for him to do this well inside the limit, and, if I were to name the round, I would say the eighth. It would be much sooner than that if Gene would come to Jack instead of going into reverse when the bell taps for the opening round."

Gene Tunney himself, in person, says:

"I never fear a man I have beaten once. Look over my record. There were Sullivan, O'Dowd, Marty and Jack Burke, Jack Clifford, Fay Keiser, Chuck Wiggins and Harry Greb. None of them was easier to hit with a left hand than Dempsey."

JACK BRITTON, former welterweight champion, and a wise dopester:

"Tunney is the best boxer the heavyweight division has seen since Jack Johnson. He is faster than Dempsey and also stronger. He is the most underrated champion we ever have had. I will not be surprised to see Gene score a knockout any time after the second round. I am sure it will be over by the eighth, as Dempsey will be so badly battered by that time that the referee will stop it."

George Engel, former manager of Frank Klaus and Harry Greb and former trainer of Benny Leonard and Tunney:

"Gene should win. He figures to outpoint Jack, whose only chance is to get to close quarters and whale away at Gene's body. Gene will lose some of his form if Jack can batter him sufficiently to slow him down, and the body will be Dempsey's objective, just as it was in the Sharkey fight. However, Jack will find this a harder job than the last one, for Gene moves about well, should keep Dempsey back off balance with his left and is a sharpshooter with his right. If Dempsey has enough left to drive past Tunney's two fists and get inside he has a chance, otherwise not."

IN OTHER words, if you like Tunney, you're convinced he'll win, and, if you like Dempsey, there's nothing to it but a grand and glorious comeback for the old boy.

Lloyd Waner Stretches Streak to 16 Games

By JULIUS LEVIN.

Getting three hits in the first game and two more in the second of yesterday's doubleheader with the Boston Braves, Lloyd Waner, sensational young Pirate centerfielder, stretched his batting streak to 16 straight games.

During this stretch the young Pirate flash has connected for three hits in four contests, two hits in eight others and one in each of the remaining four, giving him a total of 32 hits in 72 trips to the plate for an average of .444.

Before starting on his batting rampage Peewee went hitless in two consecutive games after batting safely in 14 straight contests. Young Waner has succeeded in getting at least one hit in 30 out of his last 32 games.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—(AP.)—Prices of listed bonds held firm today while the market was called upon to absorb nearly $85,000,000 in new offerings. Prompt over-subscription was reported of the $25,000,000 Colombian, and $10,000,000 St. Louis Gas and Coke issues. With about $290,000,000 being distributed today in the form of dividends, traders held out hope that a substantial portion of this sum would find its way back into the securities markets.

Foreign government issues moved within a narrow range. Polish Republic 8s were heavily traded in, touching a new high record at 100, or nearly 7 points above the year's low. Peruvian issues, which were strong yesterday, ran into some profit-taking.

Weakness of Brooklyn Union Gas stock in the early trading failed to have any influence on the debenture 5½ per cent bonds, which showed an early gain of 1 point. International Marine sinking fund 6s of 1941 were active and strong, attaining a new peak price for the year at 102, an over-night gain of 1½ points.

In the railroad list, the strength of Mobile and Ohio General 4s, which touched a new top at 85½, contrasted with the heaviness of Erie convertible 4s, series D, which sold down more than a point. Northwestern issues displayed a firm undertone on reports of heavy freight shipments through that territory.

Motometer, Inc., today announced the retirement from earnings of $250,000 of 6 per cent notes given in partial payment for its subsidiary, the National Gauge and Equipment Company.

Power Being Centralized; Reserve Board's Mistake.

By B. C. FORBES

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 15.

CENTRALIZATION of power is one of America's dangers.

We see the trend—the rush—towards centralization in the field of government, the field of finance, the field of industry, in the utility field, in the mercantile field, in the publishing field, everywhere.

COMBINATION and centralization are inevitable. Kept within reasonable limits, they make for strength. They have contributed to the upbuilding of America. They so contributed when the thirteen states originally banded together, and they have done so many times since in the realm of government.

Combination and centralization have aided vitally in developing America's unmatched industrial power. No other nation has enterprises of such strength and magnitude as our United States Steel Corporation, our American Telephone and Telegraph Company, our General Motors Corporation, our Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads—all the fruit of amalgamations and centralization.

This same process of combination is today proceeding vigorously in the utility world. Whether it will or will not be carried too far remains to be seen.

So in banking. And so too in certain other directions.

ALTHOUGH there has been less outcry since the war than there was before the war, the American public do not love gigantic octopuses. They dislike the creation of new ones of colossal sizes. The individual feels so little, so helpless in the face of billion dollar monsters.

Happily, the "anti-trust" sentiment has subsided very materially under the influence of decent behavior of most of our huge aggregations of capital. The present prospect is that Congress will not attract enthusiastic support should it launch attacks upon holding companies or other very large enterprises in the realms of industry or electric power.

BUT the people of America still have within their breasts a burning desire for personal freedom. They want to manage their own affairs. They chafe against overlords, against overlordism in any form. Each rejoices in being, not as in various other lands, a subject, but a sovereign.

And something has happened—something fraught with far-reaching, grave possibilities—that runs directly counter to this basic trait of American character.

THE directors of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, comprising the ablest and most respected business and banking men in the city and territory, saw not occasion to reduce the bank's rediscount rate from 4 to 3½ per cent, just because most of the other reserve banks had recently done so. Their decision was duly communicated to the Federal Reserve Board in Washington.

Then an astounding thing happened.

The Washington board hit the Chicago regional directors in the face, peremptorily overriding them. The rate must forthwith be lowered, no matter how much Chicago's leading men of affairs, composing the directorate of the institutions, might object and protest.

THIS is the worst blunder Washington has committed in many moons. And it was so unnecessary, so gratuitous, so short-sighted, so untimely.

THE Federal Reserve act most certainly will be thrown back into the congressional crucible—with what consequence who can foretell? Special bitterness has been injected into the fight because of intimations from Chicago that the arbitrary, autocratic action taken by Washington was the outcome of the many—yes, very, very secret—conferences or confabs held in New York and Washington recently when the heads of official banks of England, France and Germany were entertained here by Governor Benjamin Strong of the New York Federal Reserve Bank, whose attitude towards the public savors more of that of the ultra-dignified European banker than that of our own bankers, especially those farther west than the Atlantic seaboards.

AUTOCRACY won't go in this commonwealth. It was asinine to raise the issue at this time and in this way. The chief culprit should be revealed.

INDUSTRIALS GO TO NEW HIGH GROUND

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Active bidding for the high priced industrial specialties, more than a score of which established record high prices, again featured today's active stock market. The recovery was halted temporarily around midday, when weakness cropped out in a few issues, but was resumed with increased vigor in the early afternoon when call money rate was marked down to 3½ per cent.

Cotton sold down more than $3 a bale on reports of more favorable weather, but part of the loss was recovered in the sharp afternoon rally. Wheat futures advanced a cent a bushel in the early trading, but heavy selling forced the price down 2 cents below the early highs.

Heavy buying of the General Motors issues, based on expectations of an unusually favorable August sales report, continued to dominate trading. The old stock was bid up nearly 6 points to a new high record at 265, as against the year's low of 141½. Reports that the New Haven and Pennsylvania railroads would be in the market for a large quantity of rails next year brought fresh buying into the steel shares, United States Steel common moving into new high ground at 148⅞.

International Harvester soared 9 points to a new top at 236 and active bidding for Allis Chalmers sent that issue up nearly 5 points to a new maximum at 118. Among the many other issues to break through to new top prices for the year were Liggett & Myers A and B, Reynolds Tobacco B, St. Paul common, Chicago Northwestern, Hossia Insurance, Coca Cola and Julius Kayser.

COKE PRODUCTION DROPS TO NEW LOW FOR YEAR

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 15.—The Courier says: Beehive coke production made a new low record for 1927 last week when the regional total dropped to 65,040 tons. This was 3,250 tons below the preceding week and 620 tons under the previous low level of 65,670 tons during the week of August 13. Since that date there were two successive gains to 69,150 tons in the last week in August which, in turn, have been followed by two successive declines to the smallest weekly production of the year to September 10.

The estimated production of coke during the week ended Saturday, September 10, was 65,040 tons, divided between the two districts in the following proportions: Connellsville, 28,880, a decrease of 2,670 tons; Lower Connellsville, 36,160, a decrease of 580 tons, or a total decrease of 3,250 tons, as compared with a net decrease of 890 tons during the immediately preceding week.

The market remains quotable as follows:

FINANCIAL NEWS AND VIEWS

Allis Chalmers in Demand.

Allis Chalmers was one of the strongest of the high grade industrials, going into new high ground on buying by investors confident that the dividend rate will be raised to a $7 annual basis. Shares at present receive $6 a year. Earnings are far above dividend requirements and it is thought the full year may show around $10 a share for the stock. First half earnings in 1927 were $4.2[illegible] a share against $4.1[illegible] last year. Company recently called in its $[illegible] of 7 per cent preferred stock, replacing most of that obligation with a $11,000,000 issue of 5 per cent debenture bonds, saving by that operation exceeds $100,000 a year. Last May the company purchased the Pittsburgh Transformer Company of this city. Additional profit of $[illegible] a year is expected to accrue to Allis as a result of this acquisition. Outstanding common (par $100) amounts to $[illegible] and is ranked only by the $11,000,000 of 5 per cent bonds.

Westinghouse Electric.

Good buying was noted in Westinghouse Electric since the Mellons are on the board the company has assumed its real place in the electric field. The company figures in a big deal with the Philadelphia Electric and the United Gas Improvement Company. As Westinghouse has a big block of Philadelphia Electric this stock will be disposed of at a substantial profit and holders of Westinghouse Electric should receive a substantial extra dividend along with an increase in the regular rate to $4.

Harvester Resumes Rise.

International Harvester went forward today following its recent set-back resulting from profit-taking attracted by its sensational advance over the past few weeks. The stock is up 15 points since the present movement began and insiders are now said to be predicting a price of [illegible] on an expected melon cutting.

Great Northern Embargoes Wheat.

Shipments of wheat over lines of the Great Northern Railway have been so heavy that the management has placed an embargo on shipments of grain through Grand Forks. On September 14 Duluth had the heaviest receipts of wheat in its history, namely 2,[illegible] cars. The value of grain now stored in Minnesota terminals for a single day is placed above $2,000,000. Great Northern is loading 1,[illegible] cars of wheat and Northern Pacific 600 cars daily. Receipts are the heaviest since 1915 and railroad officials say the peak movement has not been reached.

Federal Smelting Earnings.

Federal Mining and Smelting Company reports for quarter ended July 31 net earnings were $[illegible] equal after preferred dividends to $[illegible] a share on 10,[illegible] common shares outstanding, against $[illegible] or $11.7[illegible] a share in the preceding quarter and $[illegible] or $11.26 a share in the July, 1926, quarter. Net earnings for six months to July 31 amounted to $1,442,2[illegible] or $22.0[illegible] on the common, as against $1,[illegible] or $23.2[illegible] a share in the same time last year. These earnings are after construction and equipment expenses, but before depreciation, depletion and federal tax. The company retired $4,000,0[illegible] cumulative 7 per cent preferred stock during the quarter ended July 31, 1927, leaving $[illegible] outstanding.

International Agricultural Chemical.

International Agricultural Corporation and affiliated companies report for year ended June 30 net loss of $112,311 after depreciation, depletion, etc. This compares with net income of $1,[illegible], equal to $14.6[illegible] a share on the $10,[illegible] 7 per cent cumulative prior preferred stock in the preceding year.

Carnegie Raises Prices.

Carnegie Steel Company, subsidiary of United States Steel Corporation, has advanced its minimum price on plates, shapes and bars to $1.7[illegible] per 100 pounds in quantities, while less than carload quantities have been raised 10 cents per hundred. This is the most important price advance in over a year.

English Bank Rate Unchanged.

The minimum rate of discount of the Bank of England remained unchanged today at 4½ per cent.

August Power Consumption.

Industrial activity for the country as a whole during August as indicated by the consumption of electrical energy was about [illegible] per cent under that of August, 1926. This is the first month since February that general productive operations have fallen below the 1926 level, Electrical World reports. The average daily production was approximately at the same rate as that reported for July of the current year. The various sections of the country reported industrial conditions widely at variance with conditions in the nation as a whole. In New England general productive activity during August was 13 per cent higher than in the corresponding month last year; the Southern States registered a gain of 27 per cent. On the other hand, general industrial activity in the Middle Atlantic states was 8 per cent under August of last year, and the North Central states reported a drop of 4 per cent. Industrial conditions in the West were about the same as those reported for August of last year.

Magnolia Adjusts Crude.

The Magnolia Petroleum Company has advanced the price of crude oil in Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas 11 to 15 cents a barrel on the higher gravities, bringing it up to the level of Prairie Oil Company, Carter and Humble Oil companies. Thirty to 34.9 gravity is posted at $1.16 with a 2-cent differential between each gravity up to 52 and above which is listed at $1.40. Under 30 gravity remains at $1.05.

Holmes Gets Rural Issue.

The Borough of Forest Hills has awarded to J. H. Holmes & Co. $[illegible] straight 10-year 4½ per cent tax free bonds. They are being reoffered on a 4 per cent basis. There were eight bids for the issue.

Orders Giant Condenser.

Brooklyn Edison Company has placed order with Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company for a single-pass surface steam condenser, which when installed will be largest of its kind in the world. Total cost, including auxiliaries, will approximate $250,000.

Nipissing's Cash and Securities.

Statement of Nipissing Mining Company, Ltd. operating company, as of September 10, 1927 shows cash in bank, government, provincial, industrial and railroad bonds and investments of $2,794,918. Value of ore and bullion on hand and in process at mine and mill totaled $[illegible].

Major Financing Today.

Four major financial operations promise to set a new peace-time record for magnitude. The United States Treasury will issue $[illegible] in new securities and pay off $[illegible] of maturing certificates of indebtedness. General income tax collections for the third quarter due are expected to total about $[illegible]. Dividend distributions by leading railroad and industrial corporations will run $[illegible] or more. Issuance will be begun of 17,400,000 shares of new General Motors Corporation common stock, having a market value of nearly $1,250,000,000, for 3,500,000 shares of the old issue.

A. P. I. Corrects Report.

The American Petroleum Institute announces daily gross crude oil output in the United States for the week ended September 10 should read 2,503,400 barrels, instead of 2,490,650 barrels, as previously reported. This is a decrease of 6,850 barrels from the previous week.

Seminole Under 420,000.

Seminole crude oil production for 24 hours ended 7 a. m. September 14 was 419,225 barrels, a decrease of 3,137 barrels from the preceding day.

Gillette for Big Board.

The Gillette Safety Razor Company directors have voted to make application to list the company's shares on the New York Stock Exchange. The company's shares are now listed on the Boston, New York Curb and London Stock Exchanges.

Harvester Companies Busy.

Farm implement manufacturers are producing machinery for spring use at a high rate and are actively buying steel. Production for the present calendar year may be the greatest in the history of several implement makers.

Wabash Railway Loadings.

Wabash Railway loadings totaled 18,083 revenue freight cars in week ended September 10, against 17,362 in corresponding week last year.

Surplus Cars Decrease.

Class 1 railroads on August 31 had 214,985 surplus freight cars in good repair and immediately available for service. There was a decrease of 25,670 cars, compared with August 23. Surplus coal cars August 31 totaled 53,204, decrease of 12,524 within approximately a week, while surplus box cars totaled 123,961, a decrease of 11,854. Reports also showed 16,424 surplus stock cars, increase of 177 cars over August 23, while surplus refrigerator cars totaled 12,690, increase 782.

Lone Star Gas Firm In Local Market

Lone Star Gas was the active issue on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange today. In the early dealings the stock displayed considerably more firmness than was evident in yesterday's market, and while the initial upward movement was not wide, the progress was steady.

Several hundred shares changed hands at the start with the quotation advancing by small fractions as the supply at the first price, 45¼, was taken up. The mildly reactionary tone of the last few sessions failed to bring any noticeable downward adjustment in the price of the issue and it was thought today that profit-taking attracted by the recent strength has about played itself out.

Miscellaneous stocks in the local list were dull. Penn Federal Corporation common, which appeared to be on the up trend yesterday, was unchanged today with only a small volume of stock changing hands in the first half. Opening of the new Penn Theater has attracted attention to this issue of which there are only about 20,000 shares floating. Standard Sanitary common was quiet but firm around 94½, the best price of the current move.

Westinghouse Electric advanced here in reflection of the move in the stock on the New York exchange. Odd lot transactions were recorded in the local trading at 88, unchanged from the last previous sale here several days ago. In the meantime the stock had suffered a moderate reaction in New York from which it had recovered several points up to this morning when the move developed speed.

In the afternoon session demand for Standard Sanitary quickly ended and the price moved up to the best level on the current swing. Standard is expected to be listed on the New York exchange shortly and friends of the stock are talking a figure of at least 100 for its debut. Previous high this year was 97¼.

GAS AND IMPROVEMENT VOTES STOCK INCREASE

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—(AP.)—Stockholders of the United Gas and Improvement Company at a special meeting today voted to increase the authorized capital stock from 2,936,528 shares of the par value of $50 each to 2,130,055 shares of like par value.

Bank of England.

LONDON, Sept. 15.—(AP.)—The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes in pounds:

Total reserve increased 103,000; circulation decreased 324,000; bullion increased 321,000; other securities increased 2,082,000; public deposits decreased 8,447,000; other deposits increased 5,362,000; notes reserve increased 91,000; government securities decreased 6,154,000.

The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability this week is 31.03 per cent; last week it was 29.85 per cent. Rate of discount, 4½ per cent.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—(AP.)—The cotton market opened steady today at an advance of 9 to 16 points on overnight buying orders which appeared to have been brought in by factors responsible for the advance of the previous day.

Early cables from Liverpool were disappointing, but the market there rallied before the New York opening and active months here sold about 15 to 18 points net higher after the call, December advancing to 22.92c.

This bulge met considerable realizing, with selling of later months here against purchases in Liverpool, and prices eased off in early trading. December declined to 22.47c, active months showing net losses of about 18 to 24 points by the end of the first hour.

The market was very nervous and unsettled by reported references to cotton in Department of Agriculture discussion of average farm prices, and there was a sharp break under liquidation.

December sold off to 22.40c and March to [illegible]c, net declines of 24 to 35 points. At these figures the volume of offerings tapered off and the tone was steadier at midday when December was holding around [illegible].49c and March 22.75c, or 9 to 10 points up from the lowest.

6% External Sinking Fund Gold Bonds

Dated July 1, 1927 Interest payable January and July 1 Due January 1, 1961

Principal and interest payable in New York City, at the office of either of the Fiscal Agents, Hallgarten & Co. or Kissel, Kinnicutt & Co., in United States gold coin of the present standard of weight and fineness, without deduction for any Colombian taxes, present or future. Coupon bonds in denominations of $1,000 and $500, registerable as to principal only. Redeemable on any interest date, at face amount on not less than 20 days' notice.

CUMULATIVE SINKING FUND CALCULATED TO RETIRE THE WHOLE ISSUE AT OR BEFORE MATURITY

A substantial amount of these bonds has been placed in Europe, including bonds which are being offered in Amsterdam by Pierson & Co., Nederlandsche Handel-Maatschappij, Mendelssohn & Co. Amsterdam and Vermeer & Co.

HALLGARTEN & CO. and KISSEL, KINNICUTT & CO., Fiscal Agents. NATIONAL BANK OF COMMERCE IN NEW YORK, Registrar.

The following has been authorized by His Excellency, Dr. Esteban Jaramillo, Minister of Finance and Public Credit of the Republic of Colombia:

Colombia, adjoining the Isthmus of Panama, and with an area greater than the combined areas of France and Germany, is the South American country nearest to the great centers of population and trade in the Eastern and Western Hemispheres. Under a stable government for over twenty years, Colombia's progress and development have been notable.

Colombia's national debt, which in 1922 was $46,948,000, had been reduced by June 30, 1926, to $23,407,000, a reduction of $23,541,000, or over 50%. On completion of this financing, total national debt, both internal and external, will approximate $46,000,000. This is equivalent to about $6 per capita, which is among the lowest for any of the countries of the world, and compares with estimated figures for Argentina of $109 and for Uruguay of $125. When compared with an estimated wealth per capita of over $750, with the volume of its foreign trade and its annual income, it can be seen that the debt of the Republic is indeed small.

This unusual situation is largely explained by the substantial annual surpluses of ordinary revenues over ordinary expenditures shown in the following table:

	Revenues	Expenditures	Surplus
1923	$32,425,591	$21,440,345	$10,985,246
1924	32,576,680	23,179,928	9,396,752
1925	45,005,038	29,874,067	15,130,971
1926	54,163,088	46,372,006	7,791,082

In the years 1922 to 1926 the Republic has spent over $57,000,000 upon railroad construction and other public works.

In addition to the surplus of ordinary revenues, the Republic has also received, under a treaty with the United States, $25,000,000, which has been devoted entirely to public works and constructive enterprises, including $6,000,000 initial capital for the Bank of the Republic and the Agricultural Mortgage Bank.

International trade has more than doubled from 1922 to 1926, amounting in the latter year to over $218,000,000.

At June 30, 1927, the gold reserves of the Bank of the Republic (the bank of issue) were approximately 100% of its notes in circulation. The Colombian peso, with a gold parity of $.9733, is at present quoted at a premium, being the only South American currency, except that of Argentina, of which this can be said.

The country has vast resources of coal, petroleum, gold, platinum, copper, iron and other minerals, and is the world's chief source of supply of emeralds. The possession of these resources, especially coal and petroleum (still largely unexploited) is of especial importance in view of the proximity of the country's ports to the Panama Canal.

Colombia is the world's second largest coffee producer, and the largest producer of "mild" coffee, which commands a premium over Brazilian grades. Bananas, tobacco, cotton and sugar are grown, while the production of live stock is an important and growing industry.

American companies have large investments in the mining, oil, fruit and live stock industries of Colombia, total American investments there being estimated at over $200,000,000.

In 1922 Colombia, recognizing its paramount need of an adequate, unified transportation system, enacted legislation to meet the situation, in pursuance of which thorough studies have been made with the assistance of eminent international engineers. As a result, the proceeds of this loan are to be used in accordance with a comprehensive plan for the extension and unification of existing railroad systems, for the development of port works and the deepening and canalization of rivers, as well as for the repayment of a short term loan of $10,000,000 granted this year, the proceeds of which were used for the same purposes. The present Government-owned railroads have reported operating profits in each of the past six years, the figure increasing from less than $900,000 in 1921 to over $3,000,000 in 1926.

These bonds constitute the direct obligation of the Republic of Colombia, secured by its full faith and credit. The Republic agrees, among other things, that if while any bonds of the present loan are outstanding, it shall secure any obligations by a lien or charge upon any national income or revenues, the bonds of this loan shall be secured in like form, equally and ratably with such obligations.

All conversions of pesos into dollars in the foregoing have been made at parity of exchange.

The Republic has agreed to make application to list these Bonds on the New York Stock Exchange.

These Bonds are offered for subscription subject to allotment. We reserve the right to reject subscriptions in whole or in part, to allot less than the amount applied for, and to close the subscription books at any time without notice. Interim receipts of National Bank of Commerce in New York will be deliverable in the first instance. Legal matters subject to approval of Messrs. Sullivan & Cromwell, New York City, and, as to questions of Colombian law, of Dr. Pedro M. Carreño, Bogota, Colombia.

Price 92½ and interest, to yield over 6.55%

WANTED—MEN! WORK DURING EVENING OR SPARE TIME.

A bonus for your summer work. You can earn at least $40 in your spare time every week.

Whether employed or unemployed, read carefully and investigate. You cannot afford to pass up the greatest opportunity in Pittsburgh today. Read these facts carefully. Remember you can earn at least $35 for your spare time work during the evenings and we will show you how to do this EXTREMELY SIMPLE work and make you understand thoroughly before you start. WORK WILL NOT CONFLICT WITH PRESENT EMPLOYMENT. NO SCHOOLING. NO INSTRUCTION COURSES. These positions can be filled during the spare hours during the evening of mechanics, tradesmen and business men. ABSOLUTELY NO EXPERIENCE REQUIRED. Full time positions can be arranged for those unemployed and those desiring permanent work. FINANCIAL COOPERATION GIVEN. This is not just "another ad," but a responsible, well known Pittsburgh firm offering real, dignified employment. Positions (part time or permanent) are extremely simple, in pleasant surroundings and most congenial atmosphere. Do not confuse this ad with others of similar wording, for YOU WILL NOT BE ASKED TO SELL ANYTHING. This is real. This is genuine. Every ambitious person in the city of Pittsburgh would be anxious to procure this employment if he only knew the facts. YOU will EARN THE MOMENT YOU START work and we will make you understand and know you can do the work before we ask you to start. Don't be misled and don't waste your time on "wild goose chases." This is an unusual opportunity. Come and get the facts. Applicant must be white and over 25 years of age. Every one will be given utmost consideration. This is not a chance but a REAL OPPORTUNITY. This ad will appear until Friday only, and none will be considered after Friday evening.

Apply Friday evening, September 16th, at 8:30 o'clock, ROOM 601 CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BLDG., Seventh ave. and Smithfield street.

NOTICE—Our business is becoming so heavy that we have decided to open a new department. Scores of new applicants have been given employment during the evening after business hours. Many of our employes, who are employed otherwise during the day time, have bought new cars and have opened new bank accounts as a result of this wonderful extra income opportunity. Make up your mind now to answer this ad promptly, for this opportunity will not last long. Knowing how and why means EXTRA MONEY during the summer months. A BANK ACCOUNT AND VACATION. [illegible] stay away. REMEMBER THE TIME TO APPLY is 8:30 O'CLOCK FRIDAY EVENING ONLY. Now, if you really desire to open a REAL BANK ACCOUNT DON'T MISS THIS. Do not answer this ad unless you are really sincere and anxious to earn an EXTRA WEEKLY INCOME during the summer months.

We will receive no application after 8:30 o'clock (daylight saving time) Friday evening, so make up your mind NOW to answer on time. REGARDLESS OF PRESENT EMPLOYMENT, EVERYONE WILL BE GIVEN FULLEST CONSIDERATION AT THE ABOVE TIME.

A LAST OPPORTUNITY

This ad is for the individual who THINKS and then ACTS. All positions are genuine and we expect to FILL ALL VACANCIES with this ad, so be on time promptly.

APPLY PAYMASTER,
601 Chamber of Commerce bldg.

MONEY for you at home; men and women can earn $15 to $25 a week in spare time writing showcards; no canvassing or soliciting; we instruct you and supply you with work; write today. The Menhenitt Company, Limited, 129 Dominion Bldg., Toronto, Can.

MEN, CATHOLIC—We need the services of two or three men to aid in Father Baker's new campaign for the "Victorian." See Mr. Schmidt, 333 Fifth ave., 8:30-10 or 5-6, Room 215.

LADIES-GENTLEWOMEN NEED EXTRA MONEY

CAN YOU SPARE 1 HOUR A DAY?

If so, you should investigate this advertisement. This is one of the most wonderful opportunities ever offered in the columns of this newspaper. If you desire, employment can be made permanent or part time, if at present employed. Positions are genuine and are made possible because of overgrowth and extension of our Pittsburgh offices. Earnings will delight the lady who is desirous of increasing her present income. NO RED TAPE. NO SELLING. We require white ladies of refinement between the ages of 25 and 45. We prefer married ladies, but all honest applicants will be given utmost consideration. Work may be done at home and will in no way interfere with your present occupation. No business experience required and work can be done as easily by housewife as business woman. An answer to this ad will promptly convince you that the problem of extra money is solved. All payments weekly. We also have a few vacancies for gentlemen, and if husbands or brothers have spare time and are willing to work, bring them with you. Call in person Friday evening, September 16th, at 8:30 o'clock.

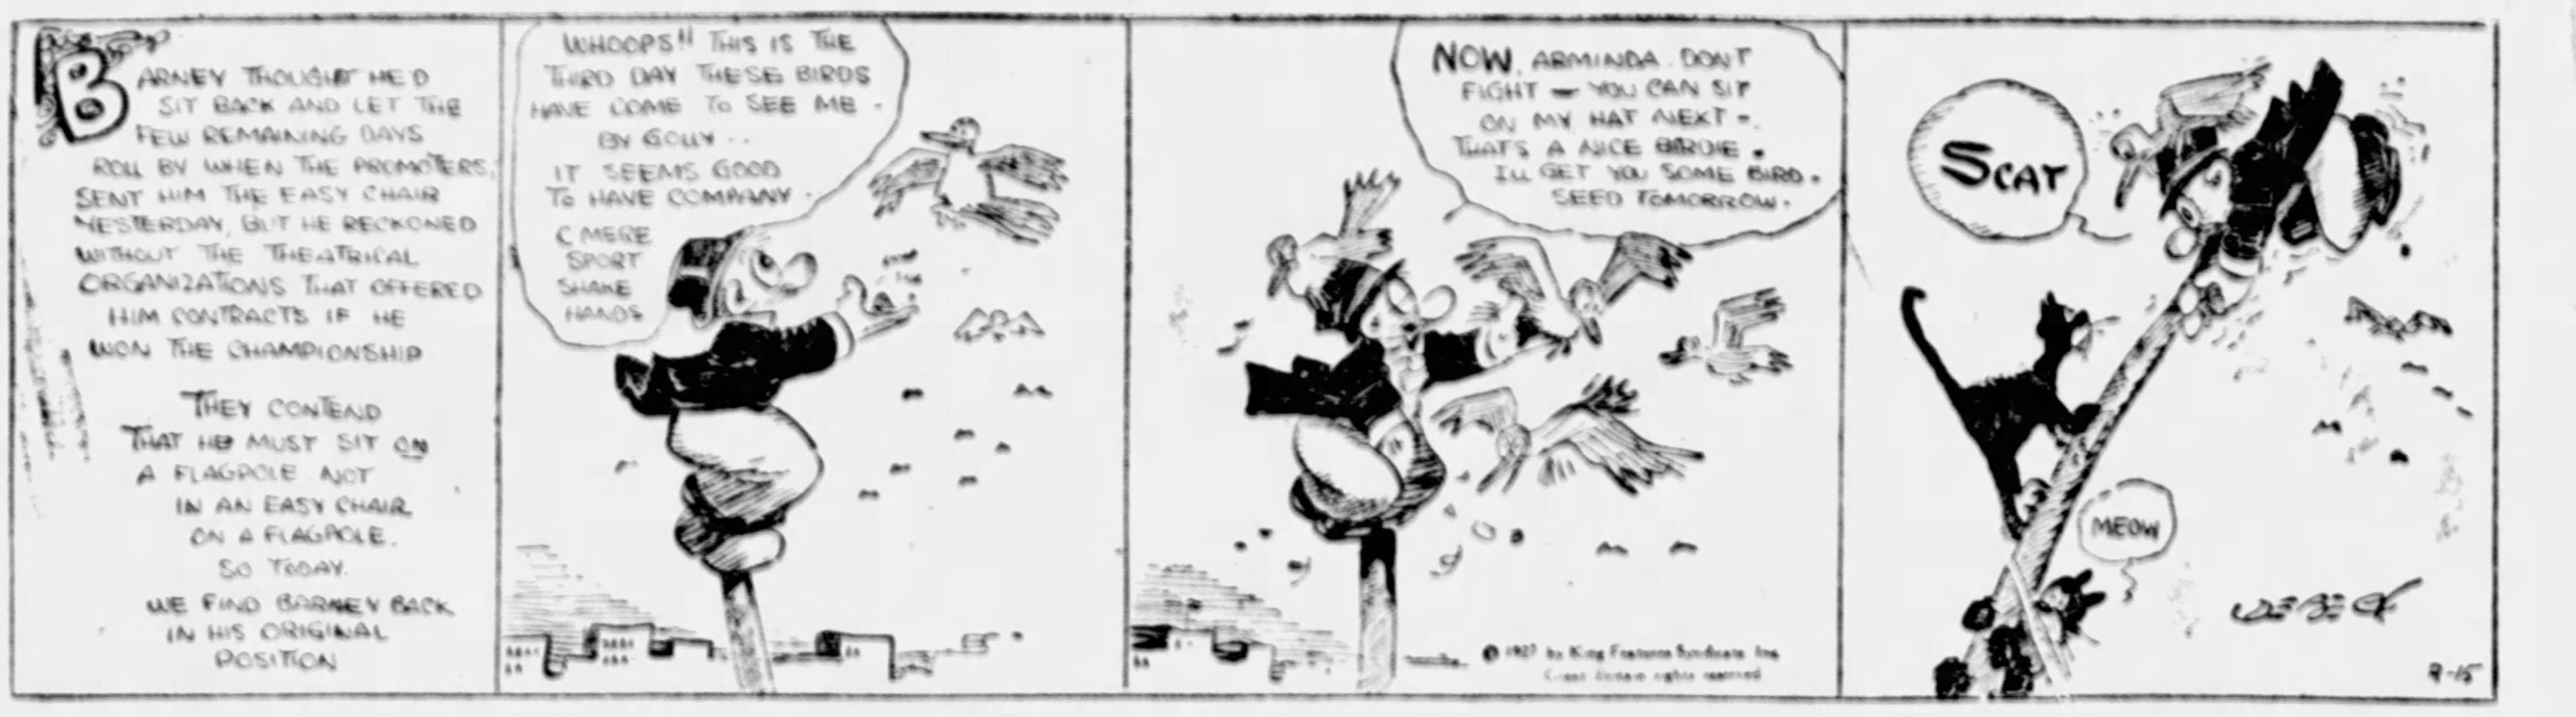
BARNEY GOOGLE AND SPARK PLUG

The Duck Season Is Her.



BARNEY THOUGHT HE'D SIT BACK AND LET THE FEW REMAINING DAYS ROLL BY WHEN THE PROMOTERS SENT HIM THE EASY CHAIR YESTERDAY, BUT HE RECKONED WITHOUT THE THEATRICAL ORGANIZATIONS THAT OFFERED HIM CONTRACTS IF HE WON THE CHAMPIONSHIP
THEY CONTEND THAT HE MUST SIT ON A FLAGPOLE NOT IN AN EASY CHAIR ON A FLAGPOLE. SO TODAY WE FIND BARNEY BACK IN HIS ORIGINAL POSITION
WHOOPS!! THIS IS THE THIRD DAY THESE BIRDS HAVE COME TO SEE ME - BY GOLLY - - IT SEEMS GOOD TO HAVE COMPANY - C'MERE SPORT SHAKE HANDS
NOW, ARMINDA, DON'T FIGHT — YOU CAN SIT ON MY HAT NEXT - THAT'S A NICE BIRDIE. I'LL GET YOU SOME BIRD-SEED TOMORROW.

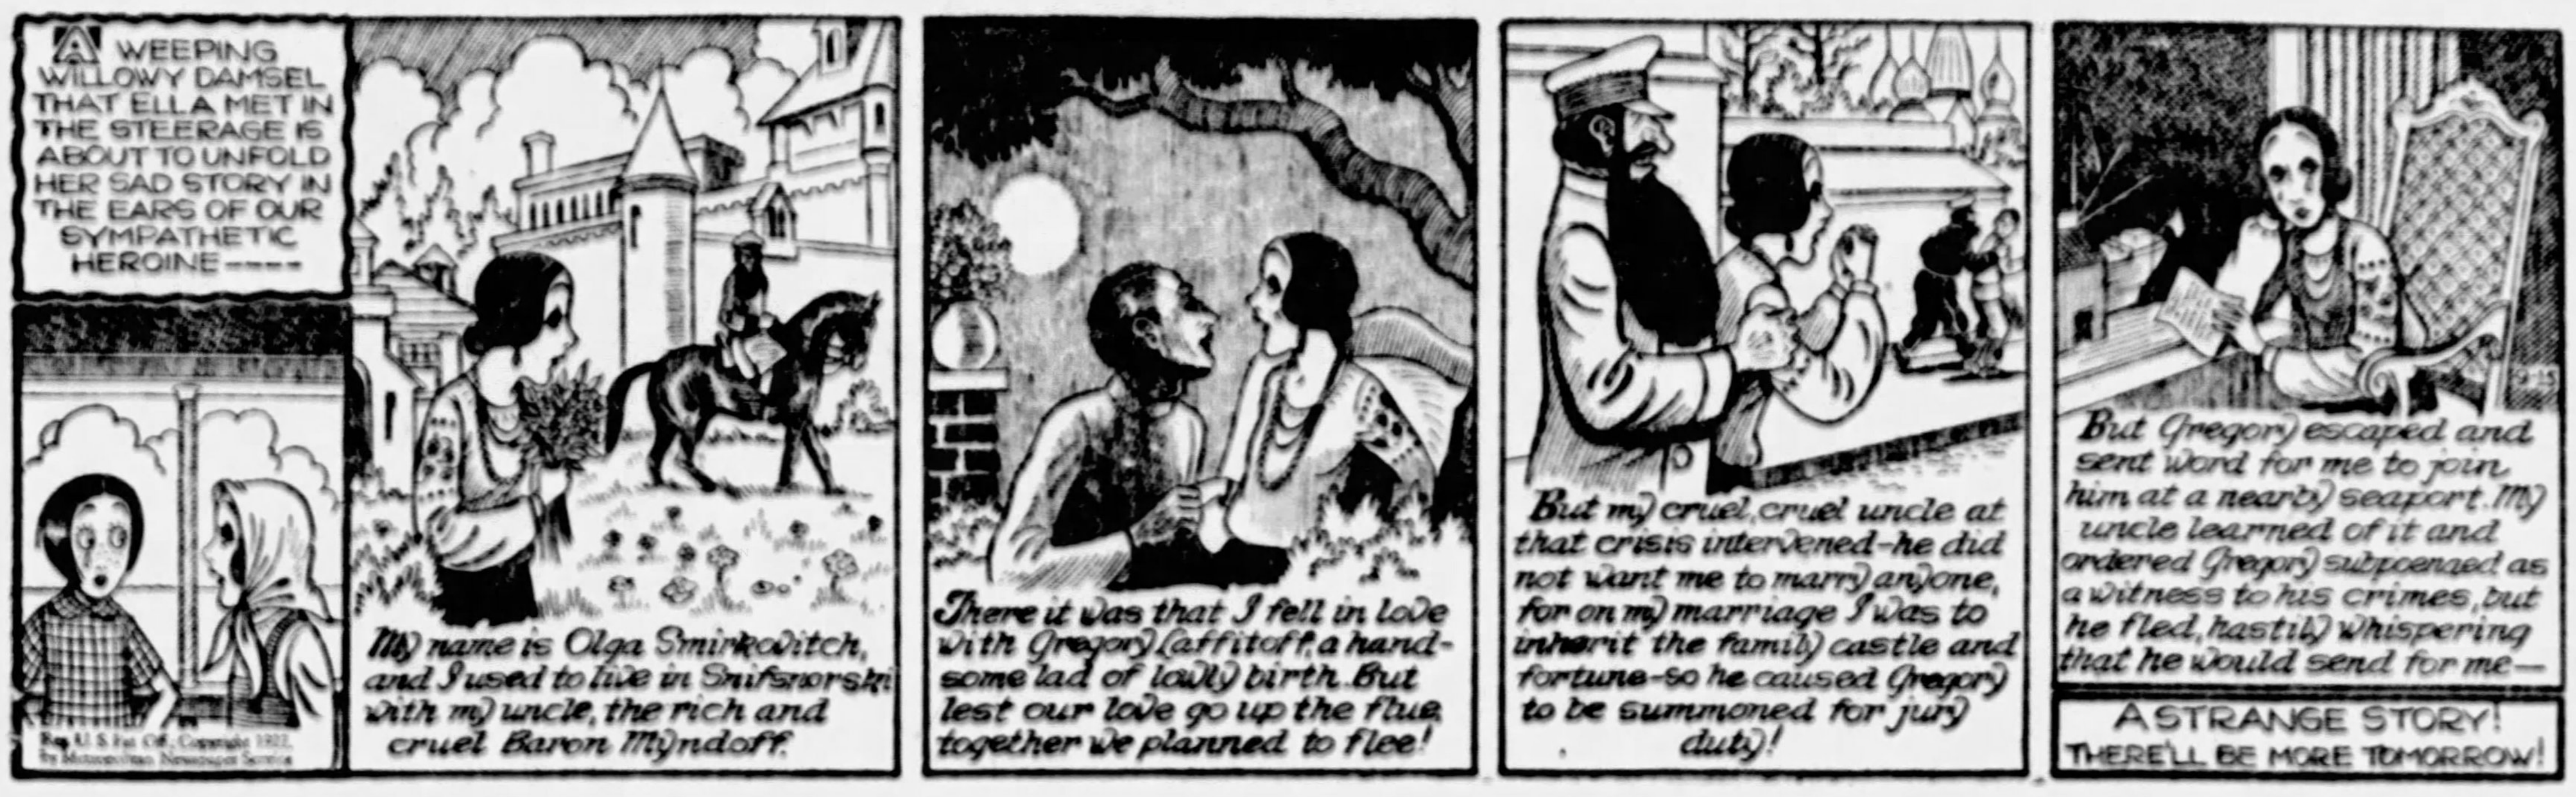
ELLA CINDERS . . . . . The Tale of Olga



A WEEPING WILLOWY DAMSEL THAT ELLA MET IN THE STEERAGE IS ABOUT TO UNFOLD HER SAD STORY IN THE EARS OF OUR SYMPATHETIC HEROINE----
My name is Olga Smirkovitch, and I used to live in Snifsnorski with my uncle, the rich and cruel Baron Myndoff.
There it was that I fell in love with Gregory Caffitoff, a handsome lad of lowly birth. But lest our love go up the flue together we planned to flee!
But my cruel, cruel uncle at that crisis intervened—he did not want me to marry anyone, for on my marriage I was to inherit the family castle and fortune—so he caused Gregory to be summoned for jury duty!
But Gregory escaped and sent word for me to join him at a nearby seaport. My uncle learned of it and ordered Gregory subpoenaed as a witness to his crimes, but he fled, hastily whispering that he would send for me—

BUGS BAER Says

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER.

BEING the unwilling original of "Mr. Fan" drawn by Joe McGurk, it seems that I should know all about the manly art of selfish defense.

My record as a fight expert is as clean as a rifled cash register. I haven't guessed a winner since I matched myself against a Philadelphia cop in 1900.

ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER.

However, fight experts should not be censured for failing to pick the winner before the fights if you will only remember that two judges and a referee cannot pick him after the shindig.

I do not know whether the fight will end with Dempsey on his feet. Nor whether it will finish with Tunney on his feet.

But I do know it will end with 120,000 spectators on mine.

There should be good fighting in the ring. Also in the aisles.

The wind-up should be between two forty-dollar customers, both trying to squeeze into the same valuable space.

The preliminaries usually take place in the bleachers when the ushers start streeting the rummies.

The advantage of these big slugging carnivals is that every spectator either sees a fight or is in one.

So, if I am too far away from the ring to see whether Dempsey or Tunney is hugging the hardest, I will describe the fight nearest me.

ON "KEEPING THE BALANCE."

MAN, the great THINKER,
Thinks he stands on
The TOP of the WORLD,
For man, for GENERATIONS,
Has believed that if
There was Any BALANCE
At all on this EARTH—
He had it.
SOME go so far
As to say that ALL the BALANCE that exists in
The world WAS brought About by MEN. They CONCEIVED it and
Brought it FORTH.
OCCASIONALLY one does
See a man showing
The world something,
Like LINCOLN,
Or maybe like
LINDBERGH. Or TEACHING the world
Something like GHANDI,
But these are RARE.
Even so, MEN have more
STABILITY than women,
And goodness knows they NEED it. For HISTORY has proved that
All it takes to Upset a BIG MAN is One—intriguing WOMAN.

BE A PITTSBURGH BOOSTER
To Your Friends in Other Cities

He Looks the Part

It's a Real Smile, and Dempsey Believes, as Do His Friends, That He Is on His Way Back to "the top."

HE LOOKS "O. K."

The face of Jack Dempsey, trying to get back his championship, interests more Americans than the "face that launched a thousand ships" could ever interest,

Dempsey is seen here in a moment of self-confidence and relaxation,

This does not look like the face of a man with his fighting career all BEHIND him,

But there is another face to consider in the approaching event, And here it is,

MR. GENE TUNNEY, CHAMPION

This would be a wonderful country if ten million young boys and men in it were as much interested in real knowledge, and in developing THEIR careers, as they are in the outcome of this approaching Dempsey-Tunney prize fight,

However, since they are more interested in this fight than in the fight of science against disease, or of men against the elements, it is well for them to notice a few encouraging details about a prize fight,

The things that count are SOBRIETY, self-control, which means conscientious training, quickness of thought, which has saved many from defeat,

Prize fights also emphasize the importance of reasonable self-confidence,

Tunney will enter the ring against Dempsey this time a fifty per cent better man than he was before, For, at the other fight he only HOPED that he could beat Dempsey. Now he is ABSOLUTELY SURE OF IT, in his own mind, Dempsey having been beaten by Tunney, conspicuously and easily, will have the heavy handicap of DOUBT,

These are two interesting and powerful faces, Take your choice, And, whatever your troubles, keep up your courage,

Courage and Science

Most dangerous and difficult fires occur at oil wells and great oil reservoirs, The amount of water available, when any is available, has very little effect on these fires, But, curiously enough, such fires can be extinguished by the explosion of some terrifically high charge of dynamite, or, still better, TNT,

The business of one man, wearing a suit of asbestos one inch thick over his entire body, is to make the charge of high explosive effective, It is necessary to plant the explosive as close as possible to the center of the fire, In his three-piece asbestos suit this man walks through the roaring flames of oil, locates his charge of TNT, which explodes only on concussion by a cap, Very rapidly, as you can imagine, he walks away again through the flames,

The TNT explodes and puts out the fire,

Thus, this one man has put out 100 oil well fires in Texas, preventing gigantic loss, and without serious injury to himself,

That is making courage really useful,

Garrett P Serviss Says:

Evangeline's People

LIKE the distressed call of a mother hen to her wandering and lost chicks is the cry heard from France over the tragedy of her unfortunate children in Louisiana. I have just been listening to its echoes in the "Mercure de France," where Emile Lauvriere briefly retells the dramatic story of the persecuted compatriots of Evangeline, ending with the terrible, and long-drawn-out, catastrophe of last April and May, when the mighty Mississippi itself seemed to have turned against them, to drive them forth once more into a world cold to their virtues.

This blow may seem treacherously cruel to the French, for the Mississippi is a river as familiar to them, almost, as their own Seine, Rhone, or Loire. They cannot forget the vast valley empire that their explorers found and traversed and began to occupy, extending from the Lakes to the Gulf, in the center of what is now the "Anglo-Saxon" United States. They cannot forget that their own indomitable La Salle explored the great river, and took formal possession of the magnificent valley "in the name of Louis the Great, King of France and Navarre." They cannot forget that Lemoine d'Iberville "planted the germ whence sprang the colony of Louisiana." Above all, they cannot forget the woes that followed Evangeline's people, like the pitiless progression of a Greek tragedy, from the Acadia of Nova Scotia to the later Acadia of the Mississippi bayous. In many a French home since last Spring Longfellow's poem has been read again with tears and with patriotic swelling of the heart, among those "Norman orchards and bright Burgundian vineyards," where were nurtured the simple, homely virtues and faith of those who bore, in the New World, the idyllic name of Acadians (People of Arcadia).

One of the woes of the world is the fact that different peoples cannot understand one another; and worse, sometimes do not want to understand. No clearer light was, perhaps, ever shed upon racial characteristics than is afforded by the touching story of this wandering company of French families, never losing its identity, or abandoning its ancestral traits, during the chequered events of three centuries of alternate quiet settlement and violent expulsion in a world far separated from their beloved homeland, and passing by violence and war from their own control to that of an unsympathetic enemy.

There are "Acadians of the North," in the maritime provinces of Canada and New England, and "Acadians of the South," in lower Louisiana, and no longer ago than 1924 special steps were taken to renew the personal ties between them. And now they of the South, chased by the raging waters, must again seek a foothold upon the earth.

Only let the drowned-out Acadians retain the title of their mud-buried lands and they will, in time, restore their fertility and spread over them again the veil of simple, home-centered happiness.

Once Overs

By J. J. MUNDY.

Don't Be Afraid

CONSIDER yourself fortunate if you have a friend who is true enough to tell you candidly of your faults.

Stick to the frankly critical friend.

Of course, if you are the kind who cannot take criticism without becoming angry at the person who gives it, you cannot expect to retain friends who are loyal enough to tell you of your faults.

Some one says: "I want a friend who thinks that everything that I say or do is right because I say or do it."

Such friends are flattering and agreeable, but not helpful.

You have faults—everybody has.

If you anger your enemies to the point where they will speak frankly you may learn much about yourself.

Also, these enemies may tell others and not you of the frailties they have discovered.

Perhaps your aim is to not antagonize anyone to the point where they will speak of you in unfavorable terms.

You won't get very far if you are afraid of criticism.

Tales That Are Told

Informal

THE new milkman was a bashful young man, but he was anxious to please his clients. An elderly woman appeared at the door of a house he served, and demanded, haughtily: "How much is my milk bill?"

The young man blushed and stammered: "Beggin' yer pardon, ma'am, but—my name's Jim!"

Not Frothy

AFTER much labor the tourist had toiled to the top of Vesuvius. After giving a perfunctory look into the crater he turned to his guide and said, expectantly, "Well, what about the drink we're going to have?"

"Dreenk," repeated the guide. "But that is impossible up here, sare."

"Well, I'm blowed," said the disgruntled tourist. "Wait till I get hold of the fellow who told me this place was simply overflowing with lager."—London Answers.

The Happy Ending

IT WAS their first quarrel, and it lasted longer than post-honeymoon squabbles generally do. But finally it was over, and the wife was confiding to a friend.

"It was terrible while it lasted," she said. "But I'm glad in a sense. See what a splendid present John gave me afterwards."

Her friend took the magnificent wrap and fondled it in ecstasy.

"Oh, how gorgeous to have a husband like that!" she exclaimed, pointing to the gift. "It's a cloud with a silver fox lining!"

—Cato,

New York Day by Day

by O. O. McINTYRE

CROSSING THE DESERT, Sept. 15.—The Mojave Desert is gripping in its awfulness, yet its ghostly white sweep holds the lure that has drawn hundreds to a thirst-crazed agonizing death among its dancing mirages, It is a mysterious land of silence and creeping dunes, shifting, terrible,

Here and there dotting the sun-baked shimmering sands are the praying trees, those wierd desert growths lifting shaggy branches in a sort of supplication, We passed through an alkali storm leaving us coated with a silver dust, The dog panted like a foxhound after the long chase,

Our guide pointed to the hut of an old "desert rat," past 70, whose only companion was a pet rattlesnake, The desert at times has a whisper like the murmur of a sea shell pressed to the ear, A poet has described it as being "like the undertone of a wordless rhyme,"

There are horned toads, chipmunks, coyotes which will stop short in full flight and poise at a human cry and those strange greenish red bugs "that stand on their heads." Bright winged birds often relieve the monotony of the cloudless sky but nothing relieves the terrifying picture of death, desolation and despair.

We dipped into a dry canyon and came up on the other side to see four vultures banqueting on what looked to be a coyote carcass. They had the indifferent expression of tired old men and watched us as a station lounger watches an express train out of sight.

In another gulch among the rocks the guide flushed out a hissing reptile clothed in a silken skin. It slithered away with the speed of an antelope. American pluck has fashioned enchanting nooks in the desert but to me it remains bleak and distressing. Only the jungle equals it.

We hoped to see a mirage but failed. The traveler beholds the mirage suddenly—tall palms swaying at the edge of a sparkling blue lake. There may be water or there may not be. It is a secret the desert has never revealed. Countless have been driven stark mad by the phantasy.

The desert to the stranger creates a chronic thirst. And at dusk after the torturous hot day one begins to feel the giddiness of a fever patient. Wierd shadows form arabesques. You feel the presence of demons with luminous eyes peering from hidden burrows. I never before longed so devoutly for a cool comfortable bed in a New York hotel, the crowing of claxons, bumping cars and yells of "Ex—tree!"

The lure of the desert one feels is not created by the eerie atmosphere but by ledges of gold with which it is streaked. The visitor has a new respect for hardy prospectors, or desert rats, who have faced the bitterest of deprivations to find golden quartz. The "desert rat" seems a sun-shriveled soul who has lost all emotion.

There are picturesque names to conjure with—Garlic Springs, Calico Mountains, Coyote Lake, Hell's Corner, Yucca Valley, the Devil's Garden, Lost Horse Mine, Cuddeback Dry Lake, Granite Wells and Death Valley.

Death Valley is the lowest point in America. It is 276 feet below sea level and to reach it one passes over the old Jayhawker Trail where many pioneers died vainly seeking the golden fleece. It is hemmed in by the somber and aptly named Funeral Range Mountains. Geologists call it the valley of ever changing lights. At night a phosphorescent glow illuminates the vale and gigantic shifting sand dunes assume grotesque shadows. I visited it several years ago and again this trip and it is no place for a boy with trick city nerves.

Motor cars have made the desert easy to explore. If the traveler has plenty of gasolene and water the danger is no greater than motoring along the Lincoln highway. But my vote will go for the Lincoln highway at every election.

Nothing has ever relieved desert tedium so much as the radio. The tiniest of hen-coop shacks has a receiving instrument.

Why Go To School?

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Dr. John F. Noffsinger of Washington, D. C., has prepared some interesting statistics in regard to schooling.

I have often been asked by young men and young women whether it pays to go to school and college. They are anxious to get into business and could make good money. So much schooling looks to them like a waste of time.

Dr. Noffsinger's investigations, however, show that schooling pays a matter of dollars and cents. From these figures it appears that a man who has reached the age of 60 years is out just $72,000 by not going to college.

The untrained man makes an average of $1,200 a year, the high school graduate, $2,200 a year, while the college man gets an average yearly salary of $6,000.

Thus those who look at life from the right perspective and are anxious to do the best for themselves, on the whole, are reminded that the years spent in college are not wasted.

The untrained man begins to earn almost ten years before the college man. He is anxious to make money, but it is the old story of the hare and the tortoise. As soon as the prepared man overtakes him he gets more emoluments as well as honor out of life, to say nothing of the satisfaction.

The untrained man reached his productivity in his early twenties, the high school man in middle life. But the college man does not get to the zenith of his powers until he is old.

Looking at life therefore in the long run and on the average, which is the only sensible way for anybody to look at anything, the years spent in schooling are well invested.

In the progress of civilization there is one class of men that is being crowded off the earth and that is the unskilled laborer. This is an age of machinery and the man who can handle a machine and properly direct its labors has the advantage over a man who has only his hands.

Let the boy or girl therefore think twice before giving up school. As a rule, there is nothing better to do with the years between 15 and 25 than to put them in school. Schools may not be all they should be, but they are the best institutions we have and they are getting better all the time.

The Rhyming Optimist

By ALINE MICHAELIS

The Givers

THIS is the part of the strong man, this was his lot from time's dawn; ever to succor the weaker, lifting him, leading him on! This is the task of the brave man, role which he always has played: ever to give of the dauntless spirit that with him was made. And for the artist, his portion, still to pass beauty along, beauty of marble and canvas, beauty of fable and song. Ever to give of their beauty, this is the tale of their days, each to the full of his power, giving, not getting, always. Some give of patience and knowledge gleaned from the slow-moving years, some give of rare understanding touching men's raptures and fears. So grows their strength and their courage, so grows their skill at their task, giving with gladness unfailing all that their brothers may ask.

THE LIFE OF THOMAS A. EDISON

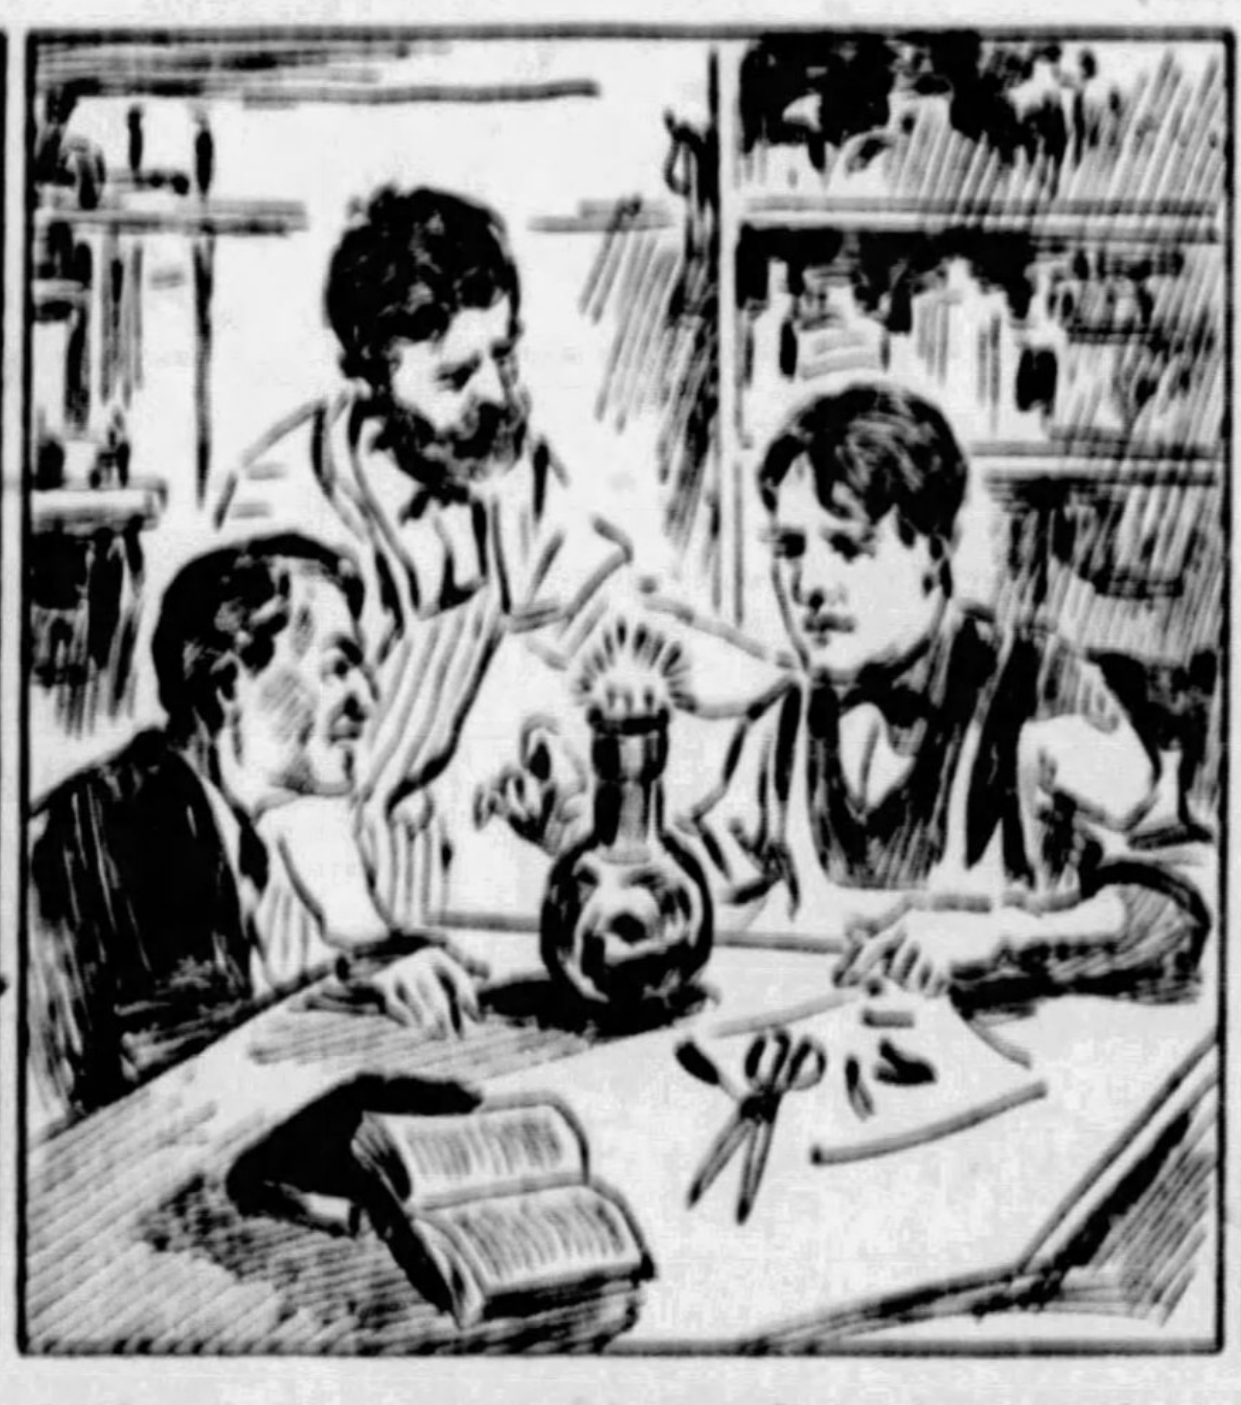
THE first practical demonstration of electric arc-lighting was made in 1858 by the celebrated inventor, Faraday, who had created the dynamo. During that year he projected over the Straits of Dover an intense voltaic arc from the beacons of South Foreland and Dungeness, England.



EDISON reasoned that the arc-light was not the ideal illuminant. In September, 1877, he turned his thoughts actively toward electrical incandescence. One of his first experiments was to determine current consumption by bringing to incandescence a strip of carbonized paper.

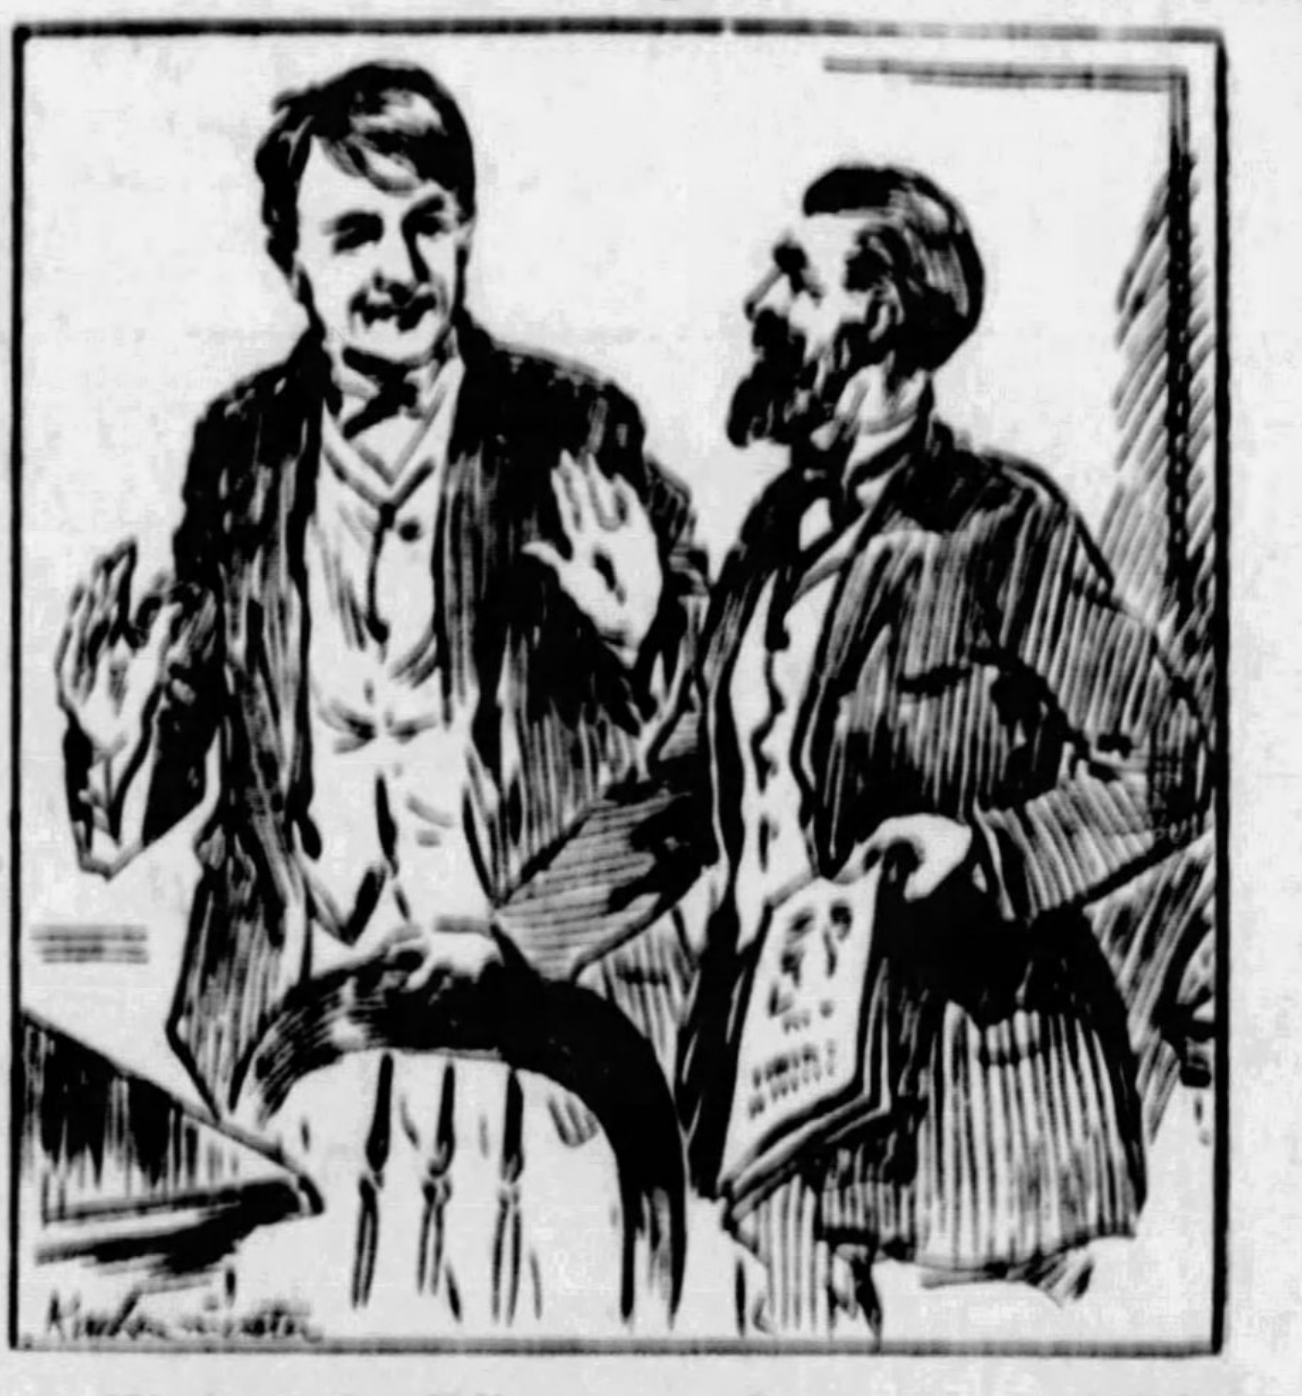
THESE experiments were interrupted by the excitement over the phonograph. Stimulated by a trip to Ansonia, Connecticut, to view experiments in arc-lighting, Edison renewed his attack in 1878. A novel memorial of his visit is an inscription scratched in a goblet which he used.



IN Ansonia, Edison was the guest of William Wallace, maker of the Wallace-Farmer dynamo and arc lamps. Edison obtained a dynamo and set of lamps to light his laboratory at Menlo Park. As he left his host, Edison said good-naturedly, "Wallace, I believe I can beat you making electric light." (Continued tomorrow.)
